When tardiness or an absence is anticipated, it is the responsibility of the student to advise Dr. Brayley at a professionally appropriate time (preferably before, but no later than the scheduled end of the class period). However, notification alone does not necessarily excuse the absence. Further documentation should be offered and may be required.
3. Laptop computers may be used for note-taking and in-class topical research. Other activities during the class period (including work on projects unrelated to this class, social networking, recreational web-surfing, and personal entertainment) are distracting and professionally inappropriate.

4. Students who require special accommodations due to disabilities (documented by the Disability Support Services office), or student athletes and student government officers who have duties that occasionally conflict with the class schedule must bring this to the attention of the instructor during the first week of the semester.

5. Electronic versions of assignments will only be accepted when that form is specifically requested by the instructor.

6. Students are encouraged to discuss class or content issues with Dr. Brayley in person. A telephone conversation is the second most preferred way to deal with questions or discuss issues. All e-mail inquiries will be answered but appropriate time should be allowed for the e-mail to be received and a response formulated.

7. The George Mason University Honor Code applies to all aspects of this class.
