Additional information regarding College-Level Requirements:

- One course (3 credits) in philosophy or religious studies: Fulfilled by any course in PHIL or RELI except PHIL 323, 324, 327, 393, 460. PHIL 253 cannot be used to fulfill both the philosophy/religious studies requirement and the Mason Core literature requirement.

- One course (3 credits) in social and behavioral science: 3 credits in addition to the university-wide requirement in social and behavioral science for a total of 6 credits. The two courses used to fulfill the combined college and university requirements must be from different disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences. The courses used to fulfill this requirement must be in addition to the course used to fulfill the university requirement in western civilization/world history. This requirement may be fulfilled by any course in ANTH, CRIM, ECON, GOVT, HIST (except 100 or 125), LING, PSYC, or SOCI and these courses in GGS: 101, 103, 110, 301, 303, 304, 305, 306, 315, 316, 320, 325, 330, 357, 380.

- One course (3 credits) in non-Western culture. For an approved list of courses: http://chss.gmu.edu/general-education/non-western-culture The same course cannot be used to fulfill this requirement and the Mason Core requirement in global understanding. Students who have attended high school in a non-Western country for four or more years may be eligible for a waiver of this requirement.

- Students can demonstrate language proficiency by completing an approved intermediate-level sequence in one foreign language. George Mason's intermediate-level language sequence is 110 (6 credits) and 210 (3 credits). The Latin sequence is 101, 102, 201, 202 (all 3 credits). The American Sign Language sequence is EDSE 115, 116, and 219 (all 3 credits). Students can demonstrate language proficiency by achieving a satisfactory score on the placement test administered by the Department of Modern and Classical Languages. Students will be granted a waiver of the foreign language requirement if their test score places them beyond a course numbered 210 (202 for Latin). Students who are granted a waiver do not receive credit.
