

George Mason University (GMU) - Graduate School of Education (GSE)
Special Education Program
Spring 2008

EDSE 790: Internship

Course Description: The primary purpose of the internship in special education is to integrate, apply and refine student competencies necessary for independent functioning as a special educator in a variety of settings. Expected competencies will vary according to the specific area of study within special education, licensure requirements, and professional goals of individual students. Students in each setting will apply effective techniques and procedures and will engage in activities, which contribute to the smooth functioning of the specific internship experience. Depending on the internship experience, students will be expected to demonstrate competencies from among the following: human relations, organization and preparation, assessment, communication skills, classroom management, subject matter knowledge, individual and group instructional skills, and self-monitoring.

Relationship of Course to Program Goals and Professional Organizations: EDSE 790: Internship is the supervised field base teaching experience for the program. These courses are part of the George Mason University, Graduate School of Education, and Special Education Program requirements for teacher licensure in the Commonwealth of Virginia in Special Education and the Master's of Education Degree (M.Ed.). The program aligns with the standards for teacher licensure established by CEC, the major special education professional organizations in the United States and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). See the CEC standards on this web site <http://www.cec.sped.org>. This course addresses the following CEC standards:

- 1. Foundations
- 2. Characteristics of learners
- 3. Individual learning differences
- 4. Instructional strategies
- 5. Learning environments
- 6. Language
- 7. Instructional planning
- 8. Assessment
- 9. Ethics and professional practice
- 10. Collaboration

Internship Requirements

TYPES OF INTERNSHIPS, TIME REQUIREMENTS AND WAIVER PROCEDURES

Types of Internships

Since internships vary across and within endorsement areas, students should check prerequisites for participation with their advisor.

1. On-Campus Internship

Students sometimes enroll in an “on-campus” internship taken toward the conclusion of their grade level specialization coursework. The term on-campus refers to a setting in which several interns work with small groups of pupils in a university-operated program such as CompuWrite.

2. On-the-Job Internships

Students fulfill their internship requirement at their job site. This internship is monitored by an on-site cooperating teacher appointed by the school’s principal. Students must contact the school principal to arrange this internship and cooperating teacher appointment.

3. Field-Based Internships

Field-based internships are conducted in approved clinics, private and public schools and institutions educating students with disabilities in the intern's area of specialization. Approval of the setting is based on professional accreditation and the availability of a qualified person to serve as the cooperating teacher.

Time Requirements

Internships vary in length depending upon the number of credits to be earned, the type of internship, and the number of different settings required. The following guidelines are used to determine the length of licensure internships:

1 credit hour —75 contact hours weeks full-time or its equivalent	--	2.5-3
2 credit hours —150 contact hours its equivalent	--	4-5 weeks full-time or
3 credit hours —225 contact hours its equivalent	--	6-8 weeks full-time or
4 credit hours —300 contact hours or its equivalent	--	9-11 weeks full-time

INTERNSHIP ADMINISTRATION PROCEDURES AND GUIDELINES

All applications must be signed by their academic advisor before submission to the Field Relations Support Specialist. Applications are required for all on-campus and field-based placements. Deadlines are as follows:

Skin tests, valid for one year, may be obtained through Health Services at GMU, public health departments, or private physicians.

Please submit all of the previously mentioned forms to the Office of Student and Faculty Services, via the University Supervisor, at the end of the internship period, unless there is additional documentation related to marginal or unsatisfactory performance.

EVALUATION

One of the chief objectives of the internship is to help students become their own best critics and to teach a method of self-monitoring which will endure beyond the internship experience. For this reason, evaluation should be looked upon as a helping process so that the intern will develop and maintain a reflective attitude as a teacher of children with disabilities. By the same token, internship feedback is vital to the process of on going program evaluation and the development of excellence. Interns are provided with copies of all evaluation reports, which are kept in the notebook.

If there are questions regarding the intern's performance/evaluation or any other internship-related issues, please contact the intern's advisor, the Field Relations Support Specialist at 703-993-9777.

GRADING POLICY

NOTE: All grades must be submitted in the folder University Supervisors receive from the Office of Student and Faculty Services. Grades are to be submitted using Appendix F within 2 days of the internship's completion.

Grade	Definition
S	Satisfactory —Intern successfully meets internship requirements and can be recommended for teacher licensure
NC	No Credit —Intern will not be recommended for teacher licensure unless he/she repeats all or part of the internship with satisfactory performance (This may require enrolling and paying tuition for additional credit hours in a subsequent semester, or paying a fee for extended supervision.)
IP	In Progress —Intern's performance cannot be evaluated at the end of the grading period. IP grade can be changed to S or NC for graduate students, upon completion of requirements

The final grade for the internship, (i.e. satisfactory (S), no credit (NC), or in progress (IP)), will be determined by the university supervisor and the cooperating teacher. Interns will be evaluated on the course objectives and requirements above and those listed on the Internship Observation forms. Grades will be determined by the following:

1. Ratings on evaluation forms completed by cooperating teacher/clinical faculty and the university supervisor.
2. Progress reports
3. Contents of notebook: each of the required sections completed and organized
4. Timely completion of all requirements and submission of exit materials. A grade of In Progress (IP) will be given if materials are not turned in at end of internship.
5. In some cases, a grade of No Credit (NC) may be accompanied by a recommendation that the student not be allowed to repeat the internship. In such cases, the student may be counseled out of the licensure program although not necessarily out of the degree program.

SPECIAL ASSISTANCE FOR INTERNS

Occasionally interns need special assistance and extraordinary arrangements to successfully complete their licensure programs. In such cases, the university supervisor and the cooperating teacher will collaboratively develop an individualized plan. The Director of Field Relations who will involve the intern's advisor, and must approve the plan.

Some of the ways to provide special support for an intern are:

- Arranging for observation of another intern or a teacher who models the skills, which the intern lacks, followed by a conference.
- Changing a placement within the school on rare occasions to provide a better match of intern and cooperating teacher.
- Changing a placement to another school on rare occasions if a suitable alternative placement is not available in the same school.
- Modifying the schedule for independent teaching to begin more gradually and/or to add days.
- Providing special experiences during the period after independent teaching in order to address areas needing improvement.
- Sending the intern to the Mason Counseling Center for personal or therapeutic support.
- Sending the intern to the Mason Financial Planning and Assistance Office for advice on financial aid.
- Sending the intern to the Mason Student Health Center or other source of medical assistance.
- Facilitating conferences with the intern's academic advisor and/or course instructors.
- Assigning a grade of In Progress (IP) and extending the internship, possibly in a different placement. (This may require the students to pay additional tuition or for extended supervision.)
- Advising an intern that it is in their best interest to repeat all or part of an internship in the following year.
