COURSE DESCRIPTION

Covers biological, behavioral, and sociocultural factors in human sexual behavior.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Develop a solid basic understanding of biological, social, and psychological components of their human sexuality.
2. Form and express educated attitudes and viewpoints on several aspects of human sexuality through the interpretation of readings, lectures, guest speakers, and open discussion with peers.
3. Form and express rational and responsible decisions concerning their human sexuality and development.
4. Write and discuss the value of human sexuality education with professional teachers as well as the community.

COURSE OVERVIEW

This course relies, in part, on the use of explicit visual teaching aids such as slides, films and video clips. These materials may portray nudity, masturbation, and examples of sexual behavior. Every effort is made to present those materials in a mature and scientific manner. A person who would be offended by frank discussions and/or visual portrayals of human sexual behavior may not be a good candidate for this class.

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner appropriate to a college classroom. Any student whose behavior is inappropriate or destructive to the learning environment will be asked to leave the class.

CLASSROOM POLICIES

- Please be on time to class. If you need to come in late- please do so quietly as to not disrupt others. It is expected that you attend all classes. Failure to attend will result in missed points that will result in a lower course grade. Requests for exceptions must be submitted in writing to the Instructor prior to missing class.
- This class has a REQUIRED Blackboard component. It is important that you check Blackboard for important announcements, assignments and to access the midterm and final exam.
- Weather related announcements for class will be posted on the Blackboard page and communicated through Blackboard as well as by the Mason administration.

- Be an active participant- listen, ask questions, and share ideas. It is your participation that will help to make this class more valuable. Sleeping in class is not a form of participation and you will be asked to leave.
- Please create a safe environment for people to openly communicate.
- Respect that each person is entitled to their own belief system.
- Complete all assignments on time. All written assignments are due at the beginning of class. Work must be submitted through Blackboard or turned in at the start of class as a hard copy. Late assignments will be accepted with points deducted for each day the assignment is late and must be emailed to the Instructor. If students miss class on a day when an assignment is due please note that the assignment MUST be received by the Instructor through Blackboard prior to the start of class or points will be deducted. No exceptions will be made to this policy as all assignments will be provided at least 2 weeks prior to their due date.
- Type, spell check and proofread all papers. All papers must be typed with a font size of 12 points and a margin of 1 inch. All work must be double-spaced. Papers that are not in this format will receive a deduction in points. Grading rubrics for each assignment will be posted on Blackboard.
- All work in this class must be your own. Use appropriate citation in work that is referenced.
- Students may bring food and drink items to class, but please take all personal trash at the end of the class and dispose of properly.
- Cell phones must be muted or turned off during class. Please do not answer any calls in class or send/read any text messages. Video recording or taking pictures of any lecture is only allowed with the approval of the Instructor. Audio recording of lectures is allowed.
- Due to feedback from previous classes laptops should not be used in this class. Students have used laptops in the past for checking emails, surfing the internet and working on other work while class was in session and this is very disruptive to others. The nature of this class is not conducive to using laptops because the class consists of small and large group discussions on a regular basis. If a student feels as though they need an exception made for them to succeed in the class then they should speak to the instructor personally.
- To facilitate positive class discussions the class will develop and agree on a set of “ground rules” for the discussions that will occur throughout the semester. These “ground rules” will be added to the Blackboard page once they have been finalized and will be utilized for all class discussions.

REQUIRED READINGS

EVALUATION

Requirements	Points
#1 Midterm- Multiple choice (60 question) exam taken on Blackboard	60
#2 Final Exam - Multiple choice (60 question) exam taken on Blackboard	60
Assignments (4 total at up to 10 points each)	40
In class reflections (10 at 1 point each)	10

Final class reflection (10 points total)	10
TOTAL	180

Assignments: There will be 4 assignments due in the course. Details for each assignment will be provided in Blackboard. Assignments will include watching a movie and analyzing the content, researching cultural views on sexuality globally, informally interviewing 2-3 people and analyzing the responses, and reviewing internet sites,

In class reflection: Throughout the course there will be at least 10 opportunities for written reflection on each class. These reflections may occur in the middle of the class or at the end of class. There will NOT be opportunities to make-up these reflections so attendance is critical.

Final class reflection: At the beginning of the course students will be provided with a set of questions about their views related to human sexuality. This document will be collected by the instructor and then redistributed to students near the end of the course. The final class reflection should be a 2-3 page paper reflecting on lessons learned in the class and how the class has impacted them citing examples from the document completed at the start of the course.

Optional Bonus Points: Students may work in pairs to each receive up to 5 additional points (per person) by developing up to a 3 minute recorded (video or audio) commercial. The commercial should address the question of “What was the most important thing I learned in the Human Sexuality class?” Commercials are due to the Instructor one week prior to the end of the semester. The commercial must be educational, creative and provide correct information. Any person (including the student) who is in the video must provide written permission to be recorded. In addition, the consent form should address if the video can be shown to current/future classes. Sample consent forms will be provided in Blackboard. A complete rubric for the bonus points will be provided in Blackboard.
