EDCI 519 001: Methods of Teaching in Multilingual Settings

Instructor: Dr. Edith Collins
E-mail: ecollins@gmu.edu
Time: Tuesdays, 4:30-7:10 PM
Locations: Innovation Hall, Room 133

A. Course Description
EDCI 519 is designed to examine past and present approaches, methods, and techniques for teaching English as a Second Language (ESL) in bilingual and ESL classrooms. Participants will analyze program models and methods of instruction for English language learners; demonstrate teaching approaches based on second language learning research, develop lesson and unit planning skills, and evaluate materials and resources available in the field.

Prerequisite: EDCI 516: Bilingualism & Language Acquisition Research

B. Course Outcomes
This course is aligned with TESOL/NCATE Standards for PK-12 Teacher Education.

Students completing EDCI 519 will be able to:

- Examine second language teaching methods/approaches, past and present, and relate them to teaching in a second language setting with a focus on the needs of diverse learners.
- Develop a lesson plan that uses the four language skills, listening, speaking, reading, and writing.
- Plan and demonstrate 1 mini lesson based on a method/approach or on an instructional strategy.
- Locate and examine multimedia resources in the field of bilingual/ESL education.

C. Relationship to Program Goals and Professional Organizations
The EDCI 519 relationship to the GSE program goals include:

1. Knowledge base for teaching in the second language classroom. Learn the fundamental concepts of the knowledge base pertaining to ESL, English as a second dialect, and the teaching of other second and foreign languages; second language acquisition, psycholinguistics, sociolinguistics, pragmatics, and language pedagogy.

2. Utilization of research. EDCI 519 students should be able to understand and critically evaluate second language learning theories and engage in systematic investigation of the knowledge base to inform their own or others teaching practices.

3. Classroom teaching. EDCI 519 students should be able to plan and manage a second language class effectively and be able to evaluate and selectively apply a range of teaching strategies as appropriate to their students’ needs and characteristics, particularly as they apply to the skills and needs of diverse learners. For this purpose, they will need to be able to assess different teaching situations and changing conditions in culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms, so as to select appropriate teaching procedures and adapt to teaching students with differing learning styles and cultural backgrounds.

4. Curriculum. Students will develop the skills needed to design, implement second language teaching strategies.

The EDCI 519 relationship to National and State Standards include:
- ESL Standards for P-12 Teacher Education Programs
- The ESL Standards for Pre-K-12 Students
- Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC) Standards
- National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS)
- Virginia Standards of Learning (SOLs)

The EDCI 519 relationships to professional organizations include:
- EDCI 519 follows the guidelines and recommendations made by the Teachers of English for Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL), the National Association for Bilingual Education (NABE), and the National Association for Multicultural Education (NAME). ACTFL and TESOL, along with NABE and NAME, are the largest professional organizations that specialize in research on working with culturally and linguistically diverse populations. They embrace and celebrate cultural and ethnic diversity as a national strength that enriches a society and rejects the view that diversity threatens the fabric of a society. TESOL and ACTFL have the more specialized mission of developing the expertise of their members and other educators involved in teaching world languages, to help them foster an effective learning environment while accomplishing the goal of effective communication in diverse settings and oral and written language proficiency while respecting individual’s rights and needs.

D. Course Delivery
This course is highly interactive by design. It is predicated upon learning by doing and discovery learning. Assessment is based on performance-based assignments. This class will be engaged in cooperative learning, small group discussions, whole class discussions, peer feedback, short lectures, student-led micro teaching simulations, peer feedback, videos, multimedia, and reflection.

The deadline for posting the PBA to TaskStream and for completing the required fieldwork document in this course is May 15, 2014. Failure to submit this work to the instructor by this deadline will result in an “F” for this course.

Students will be expected to...

- Attend all class sessions, arriving on time, and actively participate during large and small group discussions and activities.
- Complete all assignments on time.
- Purchase and maintain a three-ring binder which will be used for all course materials and should be brought to class every day.
- Utilize laptops during small group projects but NOT during lecture or discussion. The instructor will let you know specifically when laptops can be taken out.
G.  GSE Student Expectations

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code. [See http://academicintegrity.gmu.edu/honorcode/]
- Students with disabilities who need accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform the instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester. [See http://ods.gmu.edu/]
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible use of Computing. [See http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/]
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
- Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

Campus Resources

The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs), to enhance students’ personal experience and academic performance. [See http://caps.gmu.edu/]

The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing. [See http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/]

The Professional Development Portfolio

The Professional Development Portfolio is a collection of carefully selected materials and targeted reflections that provide a record of teaching experiences and growth. It documents a teacher candidate’s knowledge, skills, and ability to teach. A performance-based document, the portfolio synthesizes learning from the teacher candidate’s coursework and school-based experiences and includes multiple sources of data that should be gathered and developed in the teaching-learning process.

All FAST TRAIN licensure courses have a required Performance Based Assessment (PBA). The required PBA for this course is “519 PBA.” This assignment must be posted to Task Stream, where it will be reviewed and graded.

Attendance Policy

FAST TRAIN students are expected to attend all class periods of courses for which they register. In class participation is important not only to the individual student, but to the class as whole. Class participation is a factor in grading; instructors may use absence, tardiness, or early departure as de facto evidence of nonparticipation and as a result lower the grade as stated in the course syllabus (Mason Catalog). Any unexcused absences will result in a 5 point deduction from your participation grade.
GMU E-mail  Mason uses electronic mail (http://masonlive.gmu.edu/overview.html) to provide official information to students. Examples include notices from the library, notices about academic standing, financial aid information, class materials, assignments, questions, and instructor feedback. Students are responsible for the content of university communication sent to their Mason e-mail account and are required to activate that account and check it regularly (Mason catalog).

Laptop/Cell Phone Use  Students will not be permitted to use cell phones during class. Please silence cell phones (not vibrate) while class is in session. Students may not use laptops unless specifically directed by instructor to do so during class.

Incomplete (IN)  This grade may be given to students who are passing a course but who may be unable to complete scheduled course work for a cause beyond reasonable control. The student must then complete all the requirements by the end of the ninth week of the next semester, not including summer term, and the instructor must turn in the final grade by the end of the 10th week. Unless an explicit written extension is filed with the Registrar’s Office by the faculty deadline, the grade of IN is changed by the registrar to an F (Mason catalog). Faculty may grant an incomplete with a contract developed by the student with a reasonable time to complete the course at the discretion of the faculty member. The faculty member does not need to allow up to the following semester for the student to complete the course. A copy of the contract should be provided to the FAST TRAIN office.

Course Withdrawal with Dean Approval  For graduate and non-degree students, withdrawal after the last day for dropping a course requires approval by the student’s academic dean, and is permitted only for nonacademic reasons that prevent course completion (Mason catalog). Students must contact an academic advisor in FAST TRAIN to withdraw after the deadline. There is no guarantee that such withdrawals will be permitted.

Students with Disabilities  Those seeking accommodations in a course must be registered with the GMU Disability Resource Center (DRC) and inform the instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester. See http://ods.gmu.edu/ or call 703-993-2474 to access the DRC.

GUIDELINES, TEMPLATES, & RUBRICS

DEMONSTRATIONS

Some Possible Methods/Approaches
Total Physical Response (TPR)
Natural Approach (Terrell and Krashen)
Direct Method (such as Berlitz, Jespersen, de Sauze)
Cognitive Academic Language Learning Approach (CALLA)
Total Physical Response Storytelling (TPRS)
Audiolingual Method (ALM)

*Note: The methods here are not necessarily appropriate for all learners.

Some Possible Instructional Strategies

- Cooperative Learning
- Information Gap/Jigsaw or Other Interactive Activities
- Flexible Grouping
- Computer Assisted Language Learning
- Alternative Forms of Assessment
- Content-based Instruction (CBI)

GUIDELINES FOR METHODS AND STRATEGIES TEACHING DEMONSTRATIONS

1. Prepare a lesson plan, using the provided template. A one page reflection of the teaching demonstration is to be completed after your teaching simulation and submitted electronically the following day. Read at least three articles on the method or approach you have chosen when developing your lesson. Try to find at least one source by the original developer of the method/approach/strategy and list these in the reflection of the teaching demonstration.

2. You will work in groups or pairs for your teaching demonstration. Special teacher-made materials; props and realia are strongly encouraged. Plan your time carefully. You have a maximum of 15 minutes to teach. Background information about the method/approach/strategy can be shared in your hand out (electronic OK) for the class.

3. The handout for the demonstration should include:

- Background information about the method
- The type of class your particular demonstration is intended for, e.g., level of proficiency, grade level, type of class, etc.
- Skills you are teaching and basic objectives of the lesson
- Possible follow-up activities to the lesson you have presented
- How you might conduct assessment of the lesson you have presented, if appropriate
- Others you can think of....
4. BE CREATIVE!

5. Try to spend less time talking about the method/approach/strategy, more time demonstrating it. You may decide to introduce your lesson by describing the method first or you may wish to immerse us in the experience and explain after the demonstration.

6. We can be your students. You may assign us whatever roles and ages you wish.

7. As a team, you may try any combination of team teaching, or each of you may demonstrate a separate activity. If you wish, you may divide teaching responsibilities by proficiency level of students. Remember that you do not have a lot of time (maximum 15 minutes).

8. Prepare an electronic handout for the class that includes your lesson plan. It might be a summary of some points you have made or it might be sharing something from the lesson you have developed that class members might like to use in their own teaching.

EVALUATION of your teaching demonstration will be based upon the following criteria:

- Quality and accuracy of lesson plan
- An accurate summary of the method chosen
- Faithfulness to the general philosophy and techniques of the method chosen
- Evidence of preparation
- Use of teacher-developed materials
- Flexibility in response to students’ spontaneity
- Efficient use of time
- Class rapport, warmth, and enthusiasm of teacher
- Creativity
- Usefulness of Electronic Handout

FIELD PROJECT OVERVIEW
Field Experience

Guidelines for creating a video format
Video - two 15-minute clips of you and your class during a period of instruction. The video should portray how you apply various strategies and give a glimpse of the learning environment. Of particular importance is that you demonstrate the following: instructional strategies, classroom management, assessment, differentiated instruction, and how to accommodate multiple proficiency and literacy levels.

It is important to remember that the purpose of the video is to provide as authentic and complete a view of your teaching as possible. A video is an indication of how you interact with students, the climate you create in the classroom, and the ways in which you engage students in learning. A picture is “worth a thousand words” in conveying to others how you practice your profession, the decisions you make, and your relationships with students.

It is normal to find the initial experience with a video camera uncomfortable. We do not see ourselves quite the way others see us and the difference can be a shock. It takes some getting used to, and practice is the only remedy. The same can be said of students; only multiple opportunities with a video camera will enable students to behave naturally in its presence. Therefore, it is highly advisable to practice with a video camera. Place the camera and tripod where the camera will receive a good picture of the entire classroom. Tape several lessons and watch them alone. You will become accustomed to how you look and sound and you will begin to notice what the students are doing and how their learning could be improved.

Practical matters
Permission: You will need a family permission slip for each student who might appear on your tape. You may ask your school for such a form or use the one provided. If possible, you should secure a blanket permission slip from the parents or legal guardians of all your students to cover video recording as needed. Explain to the parents or legal guardians that you are using the recordings for discussions with other teachers about the best ways to teach and that the students will never be identified by their full names in the recording. Try and help them understand that the video is not about the student, but is intended for professional discussion. If, for some reason, a student’s parents refuse to grant permission, you will have to take care that he or she is seated out of the camera’s range.

Equipment - Use the best video equipment available when making your video to ensure that the equipment has a sensitive microphone and that all voices are easily discernible.
Analysis of the Teaching Video

Respond to these questions:

• What connections with prior experience were visible in the video?
• What kinds of activities did you use to help students discover and explore connections to other academic disciplines and to their own lives?
• What were any unexpected changes that you had to make to your planned instruction during this lesson? What prompted the change(s)?
• What instructional challenge(s) are presented for achieving your goals for this lesson?
• How did you provide appropriate feedback to these students throughout the sequence of instruction?
• What is the extent of classroom involvement (e.g., are the same students doing all the talking?)
• Are the students engaged in the lesson? How can you tell? What do students’ facial expressions and body language tell you about your instruction?
• What kinds of questions do you ask? Can all questions be answered with a single word? How long do you wait for responses? Do you ask students to explain and/or defend a particular answer? Do you ask students to compare or evaluate alternative interpretations or strategies?
• Were there any opportunities for students to ask questions? How would you categorize the students’ questions (e.g., did they indicate confusion and a need for clarification or understanding and extension)?
• What roles (e.g., expert, facilitator, co-learner) did you play in the videotape? Was each role appropriate for the situation?
• What kinds of tasks did you ask students to do? Did you capitalize on their previous knowledge and experiences?
• What instructional opportunities did you take advantage of? Why?
• What evidence did you see of the students taking intellectual risks? Does the class look safe as an environment for getting something wrong? Do students talk to each other as well as to you?
• Do you push students to task risks, to speculate, to offer conjectures about possible approaches, strategies, and interpretations?
• Were the learning goals for the lesson achieved? Did you adjust the lesson so your goals could be achieved by every student? What are the evidences for your answers, both in the videotape and from other sources?
• Explain how your design and execution of this lesson affected the achievement of your instructional goals. (Your response might include – but is not limited to – such things as the anticipation and handling of student misconceptions, the unexpected questions from students, the unanticipated opportunity for learning that you captured, or your planned strategy and its outcomes in the lesson.)
• What do you do to include parents?
• What do you do to educate your colleagues?
Reflection Paper on the Teaching Video

Paper will be written using APA style format requirements. Length of paper should be between 3-5 pages and make connections to readings, presentations and/or discussion from topics covered in this course.

Your reflections should address the following questions:

• What in the instructional sequence worked well in advancing student learning? If anything did not work as well as you expected, how would you change it? Cite specific evidence from the video.
• What would you do differently, if you were given the opportunity to teach this particular lesson again with these students, and why?
• How does this segment reflect a classroom climate that supports language learning?

Videotape: Your teaching video must

• Have voices that are audible
• Be no longer than 30 minutes.
• Be in a digital format that can be saved to a disk or digitally uploaded onto the internet for viewing.

NOTE: If you elect to mail a hard copy, it must be received by your professor no later than May 15, 2014.

TECH PROJECT
Due: March 18, 2014

Part A:  Using the Internet and its resources successfully

Objectives:
This project will provide you with the opportunity to use the World Wide Web/Internet as a primary resource for locating and analyzing materials and activities to be used with second language learners, and participate in the creative process of developing strategies and gathering materials and resources for teaching communicatively.

Tasks:
Overarching goal: Identify and critique curriculum materials and resources available on the Internet
1. Locate materials pertaining to PreK-12 student populations. Identify age, grade, and language proficiency appropriateness.
2. Select no fewer than five (5) URL web sites on the Internet.
3. Write a two-page, double-spaced, analysis for each of the five sites (critique) of your findings. This should include methodology and curriculum approaches. Include quotes or screenshots of the material.

UNIT LESSON PLAN

For ESOL Program students, this project is required for the licensure portfolio! All ESOL Program students must submit this to their Portfolio on TASKSTREAM.

Description of Assessment
In this assessment, you will use your knowledge of standards based curriculum and concepts and theories in English language acquisition to plan a supportive learning environment for ESL students in multileveled classrooms with learners from diverse backgrounds.

You will:
- conduct a needs assessment of an ESL classroom (using your own classroom or working with a cooperating teacher) identifying the level/age/grade/content you will be teaching as well as the program model (i.e. pull out, push in, sheltered, immersion).
- create a unit lesson plan appropriate for your teaching circumstances that covers at minimum five full days with one separate lesson plan for each day. Each lesson will provide preparation, presentation, practice, evaluation, expansion and scaffolding (multilevel) instruction and will include one theme or topic to be covered each day.
- implement one of the lessons from the five lesson plans in the classroom. You will have your teaching evaluated by a peer either through direct observation or by videotaping your lesson for evaluation at a later time.
- self-evaluate your teaching and review peer evaluations to provide critical reflection and steps for improvement.
- write a paper addressing the following questions below and submit, along with your complete unit lesson plans using the provided template and the evaluation conducted by your peer or supervisor, to the instructor. The paper should use APA formatting with 12 pt font and 1 inch margins.

TESOL Standards Assessed
Domain 2 - Candidates know, understand, and use major theories and research related to the nature and role of culture in their instruction. They demonstrate understanding of how cultural groups and individual cultural identities affect language learning and school achievement.

Domain 3(a) - Candidates know, understand, and apply concepts, research, and best practices to plan classroom instruction in a supportive learning environment for ELLs. They plan for multilevel classrooms with learners from diverse backgrounds using standards-based ESL and content curriculum.

Domain 3(b) - Candidates know, manage, and implement a variety of standards-based teaching strategies and techniques for developing and integrating English listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Candidates support ELLs’ access to the core curriculum by teaching language through academic content.

Domain 4(a) - Candidates demonstrate understanding of various assessment issues as they affect ELLs, such as accountability, bias, special education testing, language proficiency, and accommodations in formal testing situations.
Unit Lesson Plan Writing Guide: Use the following instructions to organize the written portion of your Unit Plan

Step one: Identify and provide a brief context for the classroom in which you plan to implement the unit lesson plan.

1. What are some of the unique characteristics and challenges of your classroom and how do they effect instruction on a day-to-day basis?
   a. Be sure to provide basic set up classroom and descriptions of your language learners including language proficiency, educational backgrounds, and cultural values influence the learning environment. (TESOL Domain 2a, 4a)

Step two: Explain the concepts, research, and best classroom practices that are most appropriate for your students.

2. What approaches, models, and skills are most appropriate for your students?
   a. Include references to language acquisition research and current methodologies and strategies in the field of ESL to provide evidence that chosen methods would be most effective in teaching your students. (TESOL Domain 3a, 5a)

3. In what ways can you differentiate among your students?
   a. How can you address each ELLs unique learning needs within the context of the larger classroom. (TESOL Domain 3a)

Step Three: Create a minimum of five connected lessons addressing the learning needs of your students

4. Provide the preparation, presentation, practice, evaluation, expansion, and scaffolded (multilevel) instruction required for this five-lesson unit using either the lesson plan template in the syllabus or one of your own.
   a. Explain how this unit embedded assessment, included scaffolding, and/or provided re-teaching when necessary. How did this unit create differentiated learning experiences for students? (TESOL Standard 3a)

5. What variety of activities, tasks, and assignments that develop authentic use of language and integrate listening, speaking, writing, and reading have you included in this unit?
   a. In your response to this question, be sure to explain why you selected specific activities and how they were used to create a multileveled plan for instruction. (TESOL Domain 3b)

6. In what ways was it necessary to adapt materials and activities to support ELLs in this unit?
   a. Identify specific student needs addressed through the adaptation of materials. Explain how these materials are age appropriate, culturally responsive, and linguistically accessible. How could you enhance the unit by using technology to support student learning. (TESOL Domain 3c)

Step Four: Implement at minimum one of the daily lesson plans developed in your five lesson plan unit. To provide additional insight into your teaching ask a peer or supervisor to observe the lesson and share their assessment of the class.

7. How did you manage and implement your unit lesson plan? What were some of the challenges and surprises you faced?
   a. Be sure you specifically address how you implemented the lesson addressing reading, speaking, listening, and writing of your students. Identify the specific strategies you used to support the development of each of these skills. (TESOL Domain 3b)

8. What would you plan to teach the class next and how would you implement these ideas?
   a. Identify any next steps, weaknesses in the unit in addressing reading, speaking, listening and writing, and/or additional materials you would adapt to continue learning. (TESOL Domain 3a, 3b, 3c)

Step Five: Provide self-evaluation and reflection on the unit lesson plan
9. After reviewing the feedback from your peer or supervisor evaluation of the lesson, address their specific comments in their analysis. Do you agree or disagree with their comments and explain why. (TESOL Domain 3b)

10. Do you feel you the implementation of the unit lesson plan effectively? What are some areas of strength and weakness of the unit?
   a. Be sure to address specifically whether you knew, understood, and used evidence-based practices and strategies related to planning, implementing, and managing standards-based ESL and content instruction. Did you implement a variety of teaching strategies effectively? Did you incorporate technology or adapt classroom resources effectively? (TESOL Domain 3)
