COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course focuses on women as hosts and guests in the context of tourism. Using social theory, issues regarding the history and evolution of tourism as a gendered system are explored. In this context, the course addresses family, solo and business travel, and employment, taking into consideration issues related to more or lesser developed countries as they relate to the roles of women in international tourism.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
On completion of this course students should be able to:

• Describe the history and evolution of international tourism from a gender perspective;
• Articulate the social theory through which the gendered nature of tourism can be examined;
• Discuss the manner in which travel and travel advertising contributes to the gendered nature of tourism;
• Describes what motivates women to travel and how this is influenced by culturally specific expectations associated with personal, family and employment roles;
• Articulate multiple perspectives in the on-going discussions about the impacts of tourism employment on women’s lives, including differences between opportunities in more or lesser industrialized nations;
• Discuss the controversies surrounding sex tourism and prostitution as it impacts hosts and guests; and
• Defend the importance of healthy and intelligent interaction between hosts and guests to the future of international tourism.

COURSE OVERVIEW
The content of this course will be presented through lectures and class discussions. PowerPoint slides will be used to provide a visual guide for the lectures and discussions (and will be posted to Blackboard at a time deemed appropriate by Professor). Students will demonstrate their comprehension of the course material (from the textbook and all additional notes provided by the professor) through in-class activities and discussions, quizzes, take-home assignments and the examination. There will be opportunities for students to work in groups to provide avenues for growth in the areas of leadership, communication, and accountability. Students will be expected to adhere to the guidelines listed at the end of the syllabus, as well as all additional course policies handed out during the semester. Detailed instructions for assignments will be provided in handouts posted on Blackboard.

NATURE OF COURSE DELIVERY
This course will be offered in a face-to-face or in-class format. Please note, however, that if due to any unforeseen circumstances the class is unable to meet, the particular session will be offered online and students will be expected to follow additional directions, as provided.
REQUIRED READINGS

- ADDITIONAL READINGS

  o Additional readings will be made available, as needed, through the Reserve (or E-Reserve) at the Fenwick (Fairfax campus) and/or Mercer (Prince William campus) Libraries; or posted on Blackboard (9.1); or distributed in class.

  o Students will also be asked to do searches for journal articles, as well as internet articles, for class discussions.

EVALUATION

This course will be graded on a point system, with a total of 100 possible percentage points.

*Grade Calculation Formula:

- Percentage Score for Each Grade Requirement/Assignment = %

- Total Score Student Receives for the Particular Assignment = A

- Highest Possible Percentage Score Assigned for the Particular Assignment = B

- Highest Possible Score for the Particular Assignment = C

Student Expectations

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code [See http://oai.gmu.edu/honor-code/].

- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester [See http://ods.gmu.edu/].

- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing [See http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/].

- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.

- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.

Campus Resources

- The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students’ personal experience and academic performance [See http://caps.gmu.edu/].

- The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing [See http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/].

- For additional information on the College of Education and Human Development, School of Recreation, Health, and Tourism, please visit our website [See http://rht.gmu.edu].

PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIOR: Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT: The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles.
