COURSE DESCRIPTION

Examines the societal, economic, cultural, and gender influences that shape men’s health beliefs and practices. Explores specific health issues unique to men such as accessing health care, healthy relationships, domestic abuse, prostate cancer, and alcohol use. Critically examines literature and media to identify interventions within a masculinity framework to improve men's health outcomes. Identification of positive outcomes of healthy men at home, work, and in society.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Identify and explain key health issues for males from a domestic as well as an international perspective.
2. Clearly articulate the top causes of death for men across all races in the US.
3. Recognize physiological and psychological ramifications of communicable and chronic diseases that affect men, including sexually transmitted diseases, heart disease, diabetes, kidney disease, Alzheimer’s disease and cancer.
4. Critically describe masculinity theory and the impact of masculinity on health.
5. Identify resources and strategies that promote health in the male population.
6. Understand mental illness among men from a multi-cultural and multi-disciplinary perspective.
7. Synthesize the characteristics of a healthy and an unhealthy relationship.
8. Describe the unique substance abuse issues experienced by men including alcohol, drugs, smoking and performance enhancing drugs in sports and the social and physical consequence.
9. Clearly articulate the multitude of factors affecting eating and exercise habits in men, including body image, dieting practices and eating disorders.

CLASSROOM POLICIES

- Please be on time to class. If a student needs to come in late- please do so quietly as to not disrupt others. It is expected that students attend all classes. Failure to attend will result in missed points that will result in a lower course grade. Requests for exceptions must be submitted in writing to the Instructor prior to missing class.
- This class has a REQUIRED Blackboard component. It is important that students check Blackboard for important announcements, assignments and to access the final exam.
- Weather related announcements for class will be posted on the Blackboard page and communicated through Blackboard as well as by the Mason administration.
- Be an active participant- listen, ask questions, and share ideas. Active participation that will help to make this class more valuable. Sleeping in class is not a form of participation and students will be asked to leave.

- Complete all assignments on time. All written assignments are due at the beginning of class. Work must be submitted through Blackboard or turned in at the start of class as a hard copy.
- Type, spell check and proofread all papers. All papers must be typed with a font size of 12 points and a margin of 1 inch. All work must be double-spaced. Papers that are not in this format will receive a deduction in points. Grading rubrics for each assignment will be posted on Blackboard.
- All work in this class must be your own. Use appropriate citation in work that is referenced.
- Students may bring food and drink items to class, but please take all personal trash at the end of the class and dispose of properly.
- Cell phones must be muted or turned off during class. Please do not answer any calls in class or send/read any text messages. Video recording or taking pictures of any lecture is only allowed with the approval of the Instructor. Audio recording of lectures is allowed.
- Due to feedback from previous classes, laptops should not be used in this class. Students have used laptops in the past for checking emails, surfing the internet and completing other coursework while class was in session and this is very disruptive to others. The nature of this class is not conducive to using laptops because the class consists of small and large group discussions on a regular basis. If a student feels as though they need an exception made for them to succeed in the class then they should speak to the Instructor personally.

REQUIRED READINGS

Book Review & Class Presentation (up to 20 points each)	40
Journal Assignments (5 due at up to 6 points each)	30
Attendance and class participation	30
Final Exam - Multiple choice & short answer exam	50
TOTAL	180

“Research and Resources” Assignment: This assignment is an opportunity to explore a leading cause of death for males in the US. Choose from one of the following leading causes of death identified by the CDC: heart disease, cancer, unintentional injuries, chronic lower respiratory disease, stroke, diabetes, suicide, influenza and pneumonia, kidney disease or Alzheimer’s disease. The instructor will provide a worksheet with questions (including background, epidemiology, and statistics) on each cause of death and sources that can be used to answer the questions. In addition to the worksheet, students will submit a 4-5 page discussion paper (using APA format) to identify resources offered to consumers by national, state and/or local organizations and/or other resources that provide education, advocacy and/or support to patients and/or caregivers. Papers must identify the resource, how it can be accessed, and why (or how) it may/may not be helpful. Papers must also include if the student would use/recommend the resource. Be sure to provide clear justifications for all answers.

Assignments will be evaluated on addressing the content, thoroughness, consistency, citations, and organization. Students are asked to include line numbers for all submissions so that the instructor can provide specific feedback on written assignments. Assignments received after the deadline will receive a .5 point deduction per day.

Book Review and Class Presentation: Read a book addressing at least one the top health issues facing men. Students must read the book during the semester that the course is offered. A listing of pre-approved books will be posted on Blackboard. Students will be required to submit a book title for approval (if the book is not on the pre-approved list in Blackboard). The 5-7 page paper should address the following:

- The topic(s) addressed by the author
- What are the strengths of the book?
- What are the lessons learned from the book?
- Why should someone read this book?
- What would improve the book?

Papers will be evaluated on the organization of the paper, and the quality of the content. Students are asked to include line numbers for all submissions so that the Instructor can provide specific feedback on written assignments. Papers received after the deadline will receive a .5 point deduction per day.

Students will also prepare a 5-7 minute presentation of their book review for the class. Presentations will be evaluated on content, creativity and overall delivery. A sample presentation will be provided to the class for review. Presentations cannot be made up without prior approval from the Instructor.

Journal Assignments: Five journal entries are due throughout the course. These will be assigned in response to class discussions, video clips, and readings. Each journal entry will have at least 2 questions (or prompts) to address. Journal entries should be 2-3 page responses. Journal entries will either be scored as a 6/6 for completed journals or 0/6 for journal assignments that are not submitted. The journals are also an opportunity to reflect, ask questions and respond to the materials presented in class and readings. Students are asked to include line numbers for all submissions so that the instructor can provide specific feedback on written assignments. Late journals will not be accepted since topics will be posted at least 1 week in advance.

Attendance and Class Participation: This class will include regular class discussions, guest speakers and interactive learning activities. Student participation and attendance is critical and expected. Grading includes 2 points possible for each class attended. Of these two points, one point is for arriving on time and staying for the entire class sessions unless excused prior to the class by the instructor. Participation in class is evaluated on being active in class discussions and activities. Sleeping in class is not an acceptable form of participation. Students who arrive late or leave early are only eligible for a maximum of 1 point per class. An official note is required from students who miss class due to official University sanctioned responsibilities. It is expected that students attend all classes. Failure to attend will result in missed points that will result in a lower course grade. Requests for exceptions must be submitted in writing to the Instructor prior to missing class.

Final Exam: There will be one exam due in the course. The exam will consist of multiple choice and short answer questions based on the readings, materials shared on Blackboard and class discussions.

OPTIONAL Extra Credit: There will be at least one optional extra credit opportunity offered during the course. Details for the extra credit will be posted on Blackboard and announced in class. Extra credit opportunities will be for a maximum of 3 points each.

Grading Scale

The final grade will be determined based on the following point scale.

180 points to 169 points = A
168 points to 162 points = A-
161 points to 158 points = B+
157 points to 151 points = B
150 points to 144 points = B-
