B. University Catalog Course Description
Focuses on the research that supports teachers to create democratic classroom practices and to support PK-12 students in exercising civic rights.

C. Expanded Course Description
Not Applicable

DELIVERY METHOD:
This course will be delivered online using synchronous and asynchronous formats via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard course site using your Mason email name (everything before “@masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password.

EXPECTATIONS:
● Course Participation: Active and consistent participation in the course as described in the individual course syllabus is extremely important for online courses. Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions. The completion of all readings assigned for the course is assumed. Online courses will, at a minimum, have session requirements for student participation that can be documented by any or all of the following methods:
  ➢ Submission/completion of assignments as specified by the professors
  ➢ Communication with the professors
  ➢ Active, meaningful, and respectful communication with peers

Expect to log in to this course at least 4 times a session to read announcements, participate in the discussions, and work on course materials. Students must also regularly check their GMU email for communications from the instructors. Remember, this course is not self-paced. There are specific deadlines and due dates listed in the CLASS SCHEDULE section of this syllabus to which you are expected to adhere. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
• Written Assignments: All written assignments will be evaluated for content and presentation. The American Psychological Association, Sixth Edition (APA) style guide should be followed for formal written projects and reports. All written work, unless otherwise noted, must be completed on a word processor and should be proofread carefully. (Use spell check!) If you are not confident in your ability to catch errors, have another person proofread your work. When in doubt, check the APA manual. Portions of the APA manual appear at the Style Manuals link on the Mason library web guide at http://library.gmu.edu/resources/edu/. You may want to consult the Writing Center for additional writing support. It is expected that you will do the following:
  ➢ Present ideas in a clear, concise, and organized manner. (Avoid wordiness and redundancy.)
  ➢ Develop points coherently, definitively, and thoroughly.
  ➢ Refer to appropriate authorities, studies, and examples to document where appropriate. (Avoid meaningless generalizations, unwarranted assumptions, and unsupported opinions.)
  ➢ Use correct capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.

• Sessions: Because our online courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our session will generally start on a Wednesday and finish on a Tuesday (whether sessions are one or more weeks in duration). Synchronous meetings will be arranged as needed.

• Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students are expected to seek assistance if they are struggling with technical components of the course.

• Technical Issues: Students should expect that they could experience some technical difficulties at some point in the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly.

• Mentoring/Advising: If you would like to schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues, and you are unable to come to the Mason campus, we can meet via telephone or web conference. Send an email to your instructors to schedule your one-on-one session and include your preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.

• Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. We suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post them to encourage others from taking them as personal attacks. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. We will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another as well as from the instructors.

LEARNER OBJECTIVES:
This course is designed to enable students to:
1. Develop an understanding of the unique challenges and opportunities that teaching in a democratic society provides.
2. Consider the implications of commitment to social justice and cultural diversity for teaching and learning.
3. Develop personal agency and commitment to social justice, diversity, and opportunities for all.
PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS:
This course fits with the core values of the College of Education and Human Development, which include collaboration, research based practice, innovation, ethical leadership, and social justice.

This course is designed to meet the following professional teaching standards:
• GMU Dispositions for a Career Educator I and V
  o Commitment to the Profession
  o Commitment to Democratic Values and Social Justice
• Teachers College Columbia Teacher Expectation II and IV
  o Learner-Centered Educators
  o Advocates of Social Justice and Diversity • NBPTS Propositions 1 and 3
  o Teachers are Committed to Students and Their Learning
  o Teachers are Responsible for Managing and Monitoring Student Learning

4. Other expectations (e.g., attendance, writing requirements)

- The completion of all readings assigned for the course is assumed. Because the class will be structured around discussion and small group activities, it is imperative that students keep up with the readings and participate in class.

- Though with a different delivery mode and different definition of participation, attendance/course participation is extremely important for online courses. Student attendance in online courses is defined as active and consistent participation in the course as described in the individual course syllabus. Online courses will, at a minimum, have weekly requirements for student participation which can be documented by any or all of the following methods:
  - Submission/completion of assignments as specified by the professor/instructor
  - Communication with the professor/instructor
  - Active, meaningful, and respectful communication with peers

5. Selected performance-based assessment

Equity Audit Action Project. Guidelines will be distributed.

TASKSTREAM REQUIREMENTS

There is no TaskStream requirement for this course.

GMU POLICIES AND RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

a. Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code [See http://oai.gmu.edu/the-mason-honor-code-2/].

b. Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing [See http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/].

c. Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.

d. The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students’ personal experience and academic performance [See http://caps.gmu.edu/].
e. Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester [See http://ods.gmu.edu/].

f. Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.

g. The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing [See http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/].

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS
Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT
The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles. http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/
