COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Prerequisites: Admission to ASTL Program and ASTL Course EDUC 612
This is an advanced course in the study of learning based on research and theory from different disciplines. Focuses on increasing students’ learning through the study of different learning systems and understanding each learner in the context of the learning process itself.

DELIVERY METHOD:
This course will be delivered online using both synchronous & asynchronous formats via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard course site using your Mason email name (everything before “@” and email password. The course site will be available at least one week before the beginning of the Fall semester begin.

LEARNER OUTCOMES/OBJECTIVES
As a result of EDUC 613, ASTL participants will be able to:
A. define learning and learner-centered teaching (ASTL Outcomes 1 & 4; IB Adv Cert Domains 1.2 & 2.1),
B. develop the ability to link observational data of learners to individualizing learning in the classroom (ASTL Outcome 3; IB Adv Cert Domains 2.2, 2.3 & 2.4),
C. examine a teacher’s role as a facilitator and scaffold of learning (ASTL Outcomes 2 & 4; IB Adv Cert Domains 1.2 & 2.1),
D. identify and apply learning theories (ASTL Outcomes 1 & 5; IB Adv Cert Domains 3.1, 3.2, 3.3 & 3.4),
E. read, analyze, and reflect on course readings to examine influences on the processes of learning (ASTL Outcomes 2, 4 & 6; IB Adv Cert Domains 3.2 & 3.3),
F. develop an in-depth case study of one student (ASTL Outcomes 1, 3, 4 & 7; IB Adv Cert Domains 4.1, 4.2, 4.3 & 4.4).
RELATIONSHIP TO PROGRAM GOALS & PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATION

EDUC 613 is the second of five courses in the ASTL CORE. It is aligned with the following GSE Priorities: Diversity and Equity, Children, Families, and Communities, and High Standards and Research-Based Practices. EDUC 613 is also aligned with the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards’ (NBPTS) five core propositions, which provide the guiding principles for what teachers should know and be able to do.

National Board for Professional Teaching Standards I – Teachers are committed to students and their learning.
National Board for Professional Teaching Standards III – Teachers are responsible for managing and monitoring student learning National Board for Professional Teaching Standards IV – Teachers think systematically about their practice and learn from experience.

EDUC 613 is aligned with the additional three learning outcomes that guide the ASTL core:
• Teachers account for the needs of culturally, linguistically, and cognitively diverse learners
• Teachers are change agents, teacher leaders, and partners with colleagues

The content of EDUC 613 also aligns with aspects of the International Baccalaureate Certificate in Teaching and Learning Research, with a particular focus on the following Domains of Knowledge, specifically:
• Domains 2.2, 2.3 & 2.4: Research practice – Collection, analysis, interpreting and reporting of evidence, and Evaluation of research activity, and Reflection on and dissemination of findings and implications for practice
• Domains 3.2 & 3.4: Linking theory to practice in an IB context -- Critical reading and reflection and Synthesizing research and experiential evidence
• Domains 4.2, 4.3 and 4.4: Building capacity for practitioner inquiry – Modes of research and methods of data collection, and Research design, and Analysing, interpreting and reporting research findings

REQUIRED TEXTS

RELATED RESOURCES

We will also use one of the textbooks required for EDUC 612:

REFERENCES FOR ASSIGNED ARTICLES & BOOK EXCERPTS

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS:

To participate in this course, students will need the following resources:

- A web camera on your computer (built-in OR separate) and a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool. Note that some school districts disable built-in cameras or microphones; you may need to purchase an external web camera and/or microphone.

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox. Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard;

- Consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course

- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of the course requirements.

- Additional software will be required. Adobe Acrobat Reader can be downloaded from: http://get.adobe.com/reader/. Collaborate is a Blackboard-based web conferencing tools that you will need to install upon your first use.
EXPECTATIONS:

- Course Week: Our online course is mainly asynchronous, with weeks running from Monday-Sunday. We will hold approximately 3 synchronous class meetings via Blackboard Collaborate, on Tuesday or Thursday evenings.

- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor. Plan to check GMU email daily and to log into Blackboard a minimum of 3 times per week. Students must log-in for all scheduled online synchronous meetings.

- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.

- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology and to seek assistance if they are struggling with technical components of the course.

- Technical Issues: Students should expect that they could experience some technical difficulties at some point in the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.

- Workload: Expect to log in to this course at least 3 times a week to read announcements, participate in the discussions, and work on course materials. Remember, this course is not self-paced. There are specific deadlines and due dates listed in the CLASS SCHEDULE section of this syllabus to which you are expected to adhere. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.

- Advising: If you would like to schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues, and you are unable to come to the Mason campus, we can meet via telephone or web conference. Send me an email to schedule your one-on-one session and include your preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.

- Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. I suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post them to encourage others from taking them as personal attacks. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. I will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another as well as from the instructor. Your professionalism in online communication (email and on Blackboard) is part of your course grade.

1. Class Participation and Professionalism (30 points)
EDUC 613 operates under the assumption that knowledge is socially constructed and the most meaningful learning opportunities include those where learners have the opportunity to offer and explore diverse perspectives with peers. To do this, it is expected that you will regularly contribute to and engage in discussion forums, as well as to genuinely ‘listen’ to peers as they do the same. While agreement is not mandatory, consideration and respect for others are. Thus, you must be “present” throughout all discussions and activities. It is expected that you actively build upon your prior knowledge developed in EDUC 612 to connect, question, and extend the discussion with all new posts by citing readings, material in the weekly modules content, and augment these with your personal and educational experiences. In addition to quality participation in discussion forums, each week will include tasks to be completed which are related to each week’s content.

We will use Blackboard to communicate regularly in this class. You will be asked to post assignments and responses, read classmates’ postings, and actively participate in discussions. Blackboard will be an important vehicle for discussing ongoing work on your major project with group members. In addition to being present in each class, this part of your grade also includes quality participation in class discussions and professionalism in all communication with your professor and your peers.

2. Cooperative Learning Theory Group Project (15%)
Each student will be part of a cooperative learning-theory group that applies a theoretical perspective to learning and discusses its implications for teaching. Each cooperative learning theory group should prepare a 7-10 minute digital presentation, a 1-2 page handout and a brief (5 question) multiple-choice quiz, all of which will be incorporated into our online modules:

- Presentation: The digital presentation should highlight the major points and concepts of the learning theory. Groups should determine the ideal format to use to share the information and salient points to class members, including technology (e.g., a narrated Prezi with embedded media [using a Screencast tool], a photo story, an online poster [e.g. using Glogster], Youtube video, podcast, or an interactive website).
- Handout: Your group handout should be a 1-2 pages long and include images & text that summarize the learning theory, connect it to literature and connect it to classroom practice. Your handout will supplement the presentation & may be referenced by your classmates in the Case Study of a Learner.
- Quiz: Identify 5 multiple-choice questions that your classmates will use to assess their understanding of the learning theory you present in your presentation & handout.
Your grade on the learning theory group project will include a peer-collaboration assessment (see rubric on page 11) and a content assessment completed by your instructor (see rubric on page 12). The instructor will assess the extent to which you do the following:

- Describe & evaluate the learning theory: address the salient principles and assumptions about learning,
- Connect the theory to relevant, current literature: reference current articles that address learning from that theoretical perspective, and
- Connect the theory to classroom practice: relate that theory to the teacher’s role in facilitating learning.

3. Critical Article Reviews (10%)
Each student will prepare one critical article review (CAR). Articles are available through the library website & additional guidelines will be provided with the assignment. See pages 13-14 of the syllabus for additional instructions and the rubric containing criteria for evaluation.

4. Integrative Case Study of a Learner (40%) (Performance-Based Assessment)
Each student will identify one learner and follow that learner over a 6-week period. Knowing a learner deeply enables the professional educator to make appropriate instructional decisions. The purpose of this case study is to help you create a full and varied picture of an individual learner. The data you collect, including descriptive narratives, anecdotal records, artifacts, and interview results will comprise the core of your case study essay. You will then make some recommendations for working with your case study student based on insights from your work. Finally you will evaluate what you yourself have learned from following one student over time. See pages 16-21 of the syllabus for additional instructions and the rubric containing criteria for evaluation.

The Integrative Case Study of a Learner is your performance-based assessment (PBA) for EDUC 613. It MUST be submitted to Blackboard for evaluation when the assignment is due. NO final grades will be posted until all materials are on Blackboard.

5. Portfolio Reflection Point 2 (5 points)
As a part of the ASTL Core, participants will continue to build their Professional Portfolio and will add Reflection Point #2 at the conclusion of EDUC 613. For additional detailed information about this Reflection Point, as well as the remainder of the Portfolio, please refer to the Portfolio Guidelines posted in the ASTL Core Cohorts 2015-16 Organization site. You will submit Reflection Point 2 to the ASTL Core Cohorts 2015-16 Org site and also upload it to your Professional Portfolio.
Prompt for Reflection Point 2: EDUC 613

In this section, you will focus on how coursework, related readings, and products in EDUC 613 have led you to think more deeply about the learning process, the factors that influence an individual’s learning, and your own students. As you reflect on your own learning and your growth and change at this point in the Core, please address any of the applicable eight program learning outcomes and the ways in which the performance assessments included in this section provide evidence of your knowledge.

Suggested course products which may be provided as evidence of knowledge:
- Case Study of a Learner (EDUC 613)
- Learning Theory Group product (EDUC 613)
- Other, as selected by individual (be specific)

GRADING SCALE

| 95-100 = A | 90-94 = A- | 86-89 = B+ | 83-85 = B | 80-82 = B- | 70-79 = C | Below 70 = F |

BLACKBOARD REQUIREMENTS

Every student registered for any ASTL course with a required performance-based assessment (PBA) is required to submit this assessment to Blackboard (regardless of whether a course is an elective, a onetime course or part of an undergraduate minor). The PBA for EDUC 613, Case Study of a Learner, must be submitted to Blackboard, and evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Blackboard will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Blackboard submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

GMU POLICIES AND RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

a. Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code (See http://oai.gmu.edu/honor-code/.

b. Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (See http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/).

c. Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.

d. The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students’ personal experience and academic performance (See http://caps.gmu.edu/).

e. Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester (See http://ods.gmu.edu/).

f. Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.

g. The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing (See http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/).

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT

The College of Education & Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/.

For additional information on the College of Education and Human Development, Graduate School of Education, please visit our website http://gse.gmu.edu/.

CRITICAL ARTICLE REVIEW (CAR)

Objective: To engage learners thoughtfully and meaningfully with current learning research and theory, and to apply their emergent analyses and reflections to classroom practices and application. The purpose of the critical article review assignment is to engage students in a thoughtful process that will help them become critical consumers of the research literature on how students learn, and will bring current course readings and additional research in the field together with classroom practice. The critical article review will require that you formulate thoughts on paper and connect those thoughts to current research.

Each student needs to write a two to three page Critical Article Review (CAR) (from the list of articles that correspond to the different learning factors). The CAR should include the following parts: description; analysis, application and interpretation; and reflection on the content and its meaning to you in your current/future professional role. Your article summary needs to include the article reference in APA style (at the beginning of the CAR). Each CAR needs to include a clear description or summary of the article content, what the reading means to you as an educator, how you relate to the ideas of the author, and how and why you can or cannot apply these ideas into your current or future practice.

Details to guide you in your analysis:

Article Reference: Provide an APA style reference for the article at the beginning of your CAR. You should also include the article in the reference page.

Description: Describes and summarizes the main points of the article. This tells briefly what the article is about. One to two paragraphs in length only.

Analysis, Application, and Interpretation: This section is where you, the critic/analyzer, apply your knowledge to comment on the theory(ies), core ideas, or research described and discussed in the article. This section focuses on your interpretation of the material based on related course readings. This section tells how or why. In this section, you need to compare and contrast the author’s (or authors’) points to other readings by using at least three supporting sources from related readings. Cite references within the text and include a references page at the end of your journal critique (using correct APA style). These citations may be taken from your text, other supporting articles read for class, or articles you may have read on your own.

Reflection: In this section you need to connect the article you are analyzing/critiquing to yourself and your own classroom practice. You need to address the question: What does this article mean to you? Your reflection on the reading should include a synthesis of the material personally and an evaluation of your description and analysis (which includes what this means to you as an educator). Think about what you would/might do similarly or differently, and why, to help students learn. Or, you may want to talk about what you learned through the article that will help you in the future in your particular teaching context. This section should personalize the description, analysis, and interpretation to your individual situation.

GUIDELINES FOR INTEGRATIVE CASE STUDY

The goal of this case study is to create a rich, meaningful picture of one learner by synthesizing all of the information you have collected on that learner. By describing one student as fully and in as balanced a way as possible, you begin to gain access to that student’s modes of thinking and learning. You can see the world from the student’s point of view; what catches his or her attention; what arouses curiosity; and what sustains interest. The case study will include a descriptive and analytic discussion of the learner, and a reflective evaluation of you as a learner.

Part One: Descriptive Discussion: (6/40 points): Here you will include the following:

- Introduction: Overview of case study
- Physical description of the student: Age, race, exceptionality, languages, general appearance. Why did you select this particular student?
- Background: Relevant facts about parents, siblings, extended family, and what they say about the student (if available). Describe socioeconomic, ethnic/linguistic background, including home language. Note preferences and interests.
- Setting: A brief description of the classroom and school philosophy, curricular emphasis, and attendance. Discuss relevant characteristics of the instructional context in which learning is occurring.
- Other significant information reported without interpretation: May include divorce, death, illness, substance abuse, geographic upheaval, the student’s previous school experience (if available)
- Learning Factors: Describe the major aspects of at least three learning factors (cognitive/metacognitive, motivational/affective, developmental/social, and individual differences) that characterize your learner.
- Data Collection Chart: Create a summary table of the data source (e.g. student, parent, student records, teacher), information sought (e.g. interview, observation, test scores) and how the data helped you address the learning factors that characterize the learner.

- Summary paragraph
Part Two: Analytic Discussion (12/40 points): Here you will analyze your descriptive data in a thoughtful discussion of the following:

- Introductory paragraph
- Student Learning: Discuss and analyze the student’s ways of learning, learning strengths and additional learning needs. Explicitly and clearly reference your data (appendices) and use your data to support your statements about the student. What are areas for potential growth for this student and why?
- Theoretical Perspectives: Develop potential explanations for why this child learns in this way, based on the data you have collected and educational theories. Here you will rely on theoretical perspectives to support your assertions about learning (e.g., Learning Theory Projects)
- Learning Factors: Examine how the different learning factors that you identified in Part One (at least 3) influence your student’s learning. Consider how the different learning factors affect one another. Use your data to describe and analyze the student’s learning in reference to each of the learning factors.
- Research-based recommendations: Given your understanding of this learner, write about the specific ways in which you, the teacher, could best support this student’s strengths and provide help for areas of difficulty. You should reference your data as well as current, relevant literature as you address the following:
  - Specific areas of need
  - Possible strategies you could implement and why
  - Challenges to implementing these strategies
  - Supporting literature (use APA-style in-text citations)
- Summary paragraph

Part Three. Reflective Self-Evaluation. (10/40 points): Here you will rethink your understanding of how students learn.

- Introductory paragraph
- The learner and learning: In your reflection, discuss how you now understand the learner better. What particular lessons did this student teach you about you about human beings, about learning, or anything else? Have your ideas and feelings about this student and your relationship with him or her changed during this study? Your comments following your observations will be helpful to you here.
- The teacher researcher: What do you now understand about yourself as a teacher better? What personal biases or beliefs did you uncover throughout the case study research? How did these biases impact you throughout the study? What did you do to reduce the impact of your personal biases and beliefs on your research, especially within your interpretation of data? Did this study change your thinking or reinforce any beliefs you had at the beginning?

- The classroom and teaching: What did you learn about other students in the class or about the group as a whole as a result of your study? How has this process changed the way you teach, think about, or relate to students as learners? Did you find anything about the hidden curricular aspect of the classroom (i.e., unplanned influences from the physical environment, scheduling, interaction patterns) as a result of your study?

- Reflecting forward: What changes could you make in the classroom as a result of what you learned from the case study? How will these changes impact student learning? Consider a specific lesson, unit, activity or assessment that you could add or change as a result of what you have learned about this individual student. Describe what you would do differently (than now) and how it would impact student learning. This would be an excellent opportunity to cite research to support your ideas.

- Summary Paragraph

Part Four. References. (2/40 points): Use APA (6th edition) guidelines for the reference list and in-text citations

Part Five. Appendices. (2/40 points): All of your observational data and evidence that you collect should be included as appendices. Each appendix will reference one piece of data (e.g. one interview, observation or survey response). Appendices should be ordered alphabetically (e.g. Appendix A, Appendix B…), and cited throughout the Case Study using APA (6th edition) guidelines for organizing and citing your appendixes.

General Recommendations:

- Use headings within each section to organize your writing.

- When citing literature, aim to discuss ideas with citation of sources rather than discussion of sources:
  - More of: “One way to improve learning in the classroom is to involve the student in setting their own goals (Pappano, 2013).

- Submit your complete drafts to your Critical Friend Group (CFG) and to your instructor on time. There are 6/40 points allotted for timely submission of your complete drafts.
