COURSE DESCRIPTION:

A. Prerequisites

Admission into the MEd Curriculum and Instruction concentration in Transformative Teaching program; completion of the EDUC 651 Critical Theories and Pedagogies course and the EDUC 653 Technology and Learning course.

B. University Catalog Course Description

Introduces teacher research methods and situates them in relation to other research approaches. Emphasizes the understanding and use of various research methods as innovative approaches to teaching and learning.

C. Expanded Course Description

Not Applicable

DELIVERY METHOD:

This course will be delivered online using synchronous and asynchronous formats via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard course site using your Mason email name (everything before "@masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password.

EXPECTATIONS:

- Course Participation: Active and consistent participation in the course as described in the individual course syllabus is extremely important for online courses. Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions. The completion of all readings assigned for the course is assumed. Online courses will, at a minimum, have session requirements for student participation that can be documented by any or all of the following methods:
 - Submission/completion of assignments as specified by the professors
 - Communication with the professors
 - Active, meaningful, and respectful communication with peers

Expect to log in to this course at least 4 times a session to read announcements, participate in the discussions, and work on course materials. Students must also regularly check their GMU email for communications from the instructors. Remember, this course is not self-paced. There are specific deadlines and due dates listed in the CLASS SCHEDULE section of this syllabus to which you are expected to adhere. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.

- Written Assignments: All written assignments will be evaluated for content and presentation. The American Psychological Association, Sixth Edition (APA) style guide should be followed for formal written projects and reports. All written work, unless otherwise noted, must be completed on a word processor and should be proofread carefully. (Use spell check!) If you are not confident in your ability to catch errors, have another person proofread your work. When in doubt, check the APA manual. Portions of the APA manual appear at the Style Manuals link on the Mason library web guide at <http://library.gmu.edu/resources/edu/>. You may want to consult the Writing Center for additional writing support. It is expected that you will do the following:
 - ▶ Present ideas in a clear, concise, and organized manner. (Avoid wordiness and redundancy.)
 - ▶ Develop points coherently, definitively, and thoroughly.
 - ▶ Refer to appropriate authorities, studies, and examples to document where appropriate. (Avoid meaningless generalizations, unwarranted assumptions, and unsupported opinions.)
 - ▶ Use correct capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.
- Sessions: Because our online courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our session will generally start on a Wednesday and finish on a Tuesday (whether sessions are one or more weeks in duration). Synchronous meetings will be arranged as needed.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students are expected to seek assistance if they are struggling with technical components of the course.
- Technical Issues: Students should expect that they could experience some technical difficulties at some point in the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly.
- Mentoring/Advising: If you would like to schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues, and you are unable to come to the Mason campus, we can meet via telephone or web conference. Send an email to your instructors to schedule your one-on-one session and include your preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. We suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post them to encourage others from taking them as personal attacks. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. We will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another as well as from the instructors.

LEARNER OBJECTIVES:

This course is designed to enable students to:

1. Learn how to critically examine classroom practices to understand how to improve them;
2. Understand the framework of qualitative research and situates it in relation to other methods used in classrooms;
3. Participate in the hermeneutic cycle of questioning, acting, revisiting, and re-questioning;
4. Explore the known and unknown themes and outcomes of systematic research; and
5. Analyze multiple sources of data and ground it in practice to engage in a transformative exercise geared to improving teaching and classroom practices.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS:

This course fits with the core values of the College of Education and Human Development, which include collaboration, research based practice, innovation, ethical leadership, and social justice.

This course is designed to meet the following professional teaching standards:

- GMU Dispositions for a Career Educator II and IV
 - Commitment to Honoring Professional Ethical Standards
 - Commitment to Being a Member of a Learning Community
- Teachers College Columbia Teacher Expectations I and IV
 - Lifelong Learners
 - Advocates of Social Justice and Diversity
- NBPTS Propositions 1 and 4
 - Teachers are Committed to Students and Their Learning
 - Teachers Think Systematically about Their Practice and Learn from Experience

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Hinchey, P. (2008). Action research. New York, NY: Peter Lang Primer.

Required Chapters (these will be posted on Blackboard):

Booth, W., Colomb, G., and Williams, J. (1995). The craft of research. Chicago: University of Chicago Press. (selected chapters)

Hubbard, R. and Power, B. (1993). The art of classroom inquiry. New Hampshire: Heinemann. (selected chapters)

Dana, N.F., and Yendol-Hoppey, D. (2003). The reflective educator's guide to classroom research: Learning to teach and teaching to learn through practitioner inquiry. Thousand Oaks, CA: Corwin Press. (selected chapters)

*Please Note: Additional articles, chapters, PowerPoint presentations, and media will be posted on Blackboard as needed.

You should also be doing some background reading on your chosen research topic.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS (aligned with outcomes/objectives):

1. Assignment descriptions

- The First Year Action Research Project – PBA (Assesses objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5)
- Session Participation (Assesses objectives 1, 2, 3, 4, 5)

2. Assignment weighting

Session Participation
Session 1	10 points
Session 4	15 points
Session 5	15 points
The First Year Action Research Project	60 points

3. Grading policies

Grade Distribution:

Points	Grades
95-100	A
90-94	A-
87-89	B+
83-86	B
80-82	B-
75-79	C
74 and below	F

4. Selected performance-based assessment

The First Year Action Research Project. We will be using the Blackboard space (Reflective Journals, Discussions & Collaborate sessions) to help you articulate and clarify your thinking and to share your research efforts with your peers. All of these postings can be used for the development of your final research paper. All of these efforts are ways to document your research process. The process includes reflecting on the topic/issue that led to your research question, strategies you have tried in your classroom, your data collection processes, and your analysis of the data. Detailed guidelines will be distributed later.

TK20 PERFORMANCE-BASED ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION REQUIREMENT

Every student registered for any Transformative Teaching program course with a required performance-based assessment is required to submit this assessment, The First Year Action Research Project, to Tk20 through Blackboard (regardless of whether the student is taking the course as an elective, a onetime course or as part of an undergraduate minor). Evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in Tk20 through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Tk20 (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Tk20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

GMU POLICIES AND RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

- a. Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code (See <http://oai.gmu.edu/the-mason-honor-code/>).
- b. Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (See <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/>).
- c. Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- d. The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students' personal experience and academic performance (See <http://caps.gmu.edu/>).
- e. Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services and inform their instructor, in writing, as soon as possible. Approved accommodations will begin at the time the written letter from Disability Services is received by the instructor (See <http://ods.gmu.edu/>).
- f. Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
- g. The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing (See <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/>).

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT

The College of Education & Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.

ASSESSMENT RUBRIC:

The PBA will be assessed according to the professional standards and the specific assignment guidelines using the following rubric:

Teacher Research Methods
Assignment rubric

CRITERIA	Beginning (Does not meet standards) 1	Developing (Meets standards) 2	Accomplished (Exceeds standards) 3	Exemplary (Exceeds standards) 4
Multiple Perspectives (GMU V, TC IV, NBPTS 1)	Budding understanding of how own perspective affects teaching and	Understands own perspective and how it affects teaching and	Understands how own perspective affects teaching and relationships with children, families, pedagogy, and	Metacognitively understands the origins of own perspective, questions self about perspectives, actively seeks understanding of relationships with children, families, pedagogy, and colleagues	relationships with children, families, pedagogy, and colleagues	colleagues. Respects difference and avoids deficit thinking. Distinguishes between assumptions and facts	others' cultural knowledge and views, respects difference. Avoids deficit thinking. Distinguishes between assumptions and facts

Understanding of multiple research methods and relation to practice (GMU II, TC 1, NBPTS 4)	Does not have an understanding of research methods and relations to practice.	Understands how research methods are used but does not relate to practice.	Understands how research methods are used and relates it to practice.	Has a sophisticated understanding of the complexities of research methods and their relations to practice.
Data Collection	No data were collected	Notes were taken on observations and/or conversations with students and parents.	Rich notes were taken on observations and conversations with students and parents.	Detailed descriptive and analytic notes were taken on observations and conversations with students and parents.
Data Analysis	Data were not analyzed	Observations and/or conversations were minimally analyzed although assumptions were left unexamined.	Observations and conversations were systematically analyzed and assumptions were examined.	Observations and conversations were analyzed in a sophisticated way: multiple interpretations were used, assumptions were carefully examined, and data were triangulated
Claims and Conclusions	There were no claims or the claims made were not supported by the data	Claims were minimally supported by the data	Claims were adequately supported by the data	Claims were supported not only by the data, but by existing literature and theories.
