COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Prerequisites: Admission to candidacy in PhD program; successful completion of doctoral qualifying exam; and EDRS 810, 811, and 812 or their equivalents.

Description: The purpose of this seminar is to provide information and support for students as they develop dissertation proposals for the Ph.D. in Education program.

In the seminar, students:

1. Develop and refine ideas for their doctoral dissertation,
2. Write drafts of their proposal, leading to the final document.
3. Establish a doctoral dissertation committee.

Throughout the seminar, students should share their writing with their dissertation committee chair and incorporate her/his feedback into subsequent drafts.

NATURE OF COURSE DELIVERY:

Presentations, guest speakers, group discussions, individual meetings with the instructor, formal student presentations.

LEARNER OUTCOMES:

With support from this class in addition to students' dissertation advisors and committees, students will complete and successfully defend their doctoral dissertation proposals, as approved by their dissertation committees.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS:

This course is intended to help students meet a portion of Standard 6 of the Ph.D. in Education program:

Students will demonstrate ability to conduct, report, and defend original research in their individual specialization area. This standard is evaluated in Assessment 6, Independent Research Skills, and is administered at the Final Comprehensive Portfolio, Doctoral Dissertation Proposal Defense, and Doctoral Dissertation Defense.

REQUIRED READING AND REFERENCE:

American Psychological Association (2010). Publication manual (6th ed). Washington, DC: Author.

APA format is a very important component of the dissertation. Since the format is complex, master it early and do not wait until the dissertation process. If you begin writing using APA format, you will not have to go back and correct errors later.

CEHD's Online Dissertation Guide:

The College of Education and Human Development has an approved template that incorporates many APA features. It will be posted on blackboard for you to retrieve.

RECOMMENDED READING (STYLE):

Strunk, W., & White, E. B. (2000). The elements of style (4th ed.). Boston, MA: Allyn & Bacon.

A standard manual on style, with emphasis on clear, concise writing.

RECOMMENDED READINGS (ON PROPOSAL WRITING):

These readings may be too general to be particularly helpful for your own dissertation process; nevertheless, you may find some useful suggestions or encouragement in some of these books.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

This seminar is designed to assist students in developing a dissertation proposal. In attempting to meet this specific purpose, several classes will be devoted to GMU, CEHD, and Human Subjects Review requirements.

A. Requirements

Idea Paper Presentation

Each student will lead a 15-minute PowerPoint presentation describing the intended dissertation. This presentation, which can be based upon the idea paper developed for the Comprehensive Final Portfolio review, is designed to elicit constructive feedback from the instructor, class members, the student's advisor and committee members. The paper will be presented to the class informally, and should address:

- Background, significance of problem (Chapter 1)
 - Describe background and importance of topic
 - Statement of problem
 - Anticipated Research questions
- Relevant literature (Chapter 2)
 - General summary of relevant literature
 - Specific research most relevant to topic
- Methodology (Chapter 3)
 - Thoughts on Design
 - Intended data collection procedures
 - Intended data analysis procedures

Individual Meetings

Each student is invited to meet individually or communicate electronically with me throughout the semester. During these meetings, students should present drafts, report on progress to date, and be prepared to raise any questions or issues the student considers relevant.

Dissertation Proposal Presentation

Following presentation of the idea paper, students should consider and incorporate, as appropriate, the suggestions and recommendations of the class -- along with any individual meetings with the professor, and interactions with the dissertation committee -- into their dissertation proposal. This proposal will also be presented in class. The presentation should be about 20 minutes in length, followed by questions/group discussion. PowerPoint or equivalent presentation format is recommended.

Professional Courtesy

Professionalism, collegiality, and courtesy are expected of all students. Students are expected not only to develop their own proposal, but also to provide positive and professional support for other students, in the spirit of a community of scholars. Students are expected to attend all scheduled meetings, provide thoughtful and constructive input for other students, and communicate regularly with student colleagues on the class Blackboard site. All students are expected to attend and contribute to all idea paper presentations and proposal presentations.

B. Performance Based Assessment

The formal assessment for completion of this course is the Doctoral Proposal Defense, as approved by the student's dissertation committee.

C. Criteria for Evaluation

Students receive a final grade of S (Satisfactory), IP (In Progress), or F (Failure). A grade of S is given when the student completes course requirements and successfully defends the dissertation proposal to the student's dissertation committee. Students who have successfully defended their proposal during the semester are still required to attend and lend support to other students presenting their proposals in subsequent class meetings. If this seminar concludes before the proposal is approved by the student's committee, the grade of IP is given. The grade will be changed to S once the proposal is successfully defended. EDUC 999 (Doctoral Dissertation) credits can not be taken unless EDUC 998 is completed with a grade of S. The grade of F may be given in cases of significant in attendance or lack of professional cooperation.

General Outline of Dissertation Proposals

The following suggested outline describes the basic ingredients of a dissertation proposal and their sequence in a proposal (alternatives are possible -- talk with your dissertation committee chair about how best to present your argument).

1. Introduction

- General statement of problem
- Background of the problem
- Significance of the problem
- Specific Statement of the Problem
- Hypotheses/research questions

2. Theory, literature review

3. Method

- Participants/Subjects and Setting
- Research design
- Data sources; dependent variables/measures; instrumentation (where relevant)
- Procedures (data collection)
- Data analysis
- Anticipated results (where relevant)
- Limitations
- Importance

Proposed Timeline

Mason Policies and Resources for Students

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code [See <http://oai.gmu.edu/th-mason-honor-code/>].
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing -- See <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/> .
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account. In EDUC 800 all email communication regarding course performance will be sent using Mason email addresses.
- The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consist of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students' personal experience and academic performance (See <http://caps.gmu.edu/>).

- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester (See <http://ods.gmu.edu/>).
- The George Mason University Writing Center Staff provide a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing (See <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/>).
- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
Regarding electronic devices (such as laptops, cell phones, etc.), please be respectful of your peers and your instructor and do not engage in activities that are unrelated to class. Such disruptions show a lack of professionalism and may affect your participation grade.

Professional Dispositions

- Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CEHD's Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles (<http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>).
