COURSE ASSIGNMENTS & EVALUATIONS

1. Assignment Descriptions

Weekly

a. Attendance and Participation (5 points per week/70 points total)

This course operates with the assumption that knowledge is socially constructed and the most meaningful learning opportunities are those where you have the opportunity to offer and explore diverse perspectives with peers. To do this it is expected that you attend all scheduled classes and asynchronous/synchronous online meetings outlined within the syllabus. This is especially important given the short timeframe of these courses.

Absence from class to observe a religious holiday, to serve jury duty, or to participate in required military service, and medical emergencies are exceptions to the above policy. If you anticipate being absent for any of these reasons, please make arrangements at least 48 hours in advance. In addition, you are expected to be on time to class each week unless advance notice has been provided to the instructor.

Students are expected to contribute to both class and online discussion and activities as well as genuinely listen to peers as they do the same. The instructor will also call on students in order to maximize classroom opportunities to hear from ALL of the students enrolled in the course. Remember, participation is more than just talking. Participation should raise the level of academic discourse, which may include asking questions and encouraging exploration, consideration, and learning. To be active participants in class, you must complete all pre-assigned readings and tasks before the class session for which they are assigned. Additionally, cell phones are for emergency use only and it is expected that you will not use cell phones in class for purposes such as texting, social media, or phone calls.

b. Literature Circle (20 points total)

There is a good deal of reading in these courses, and it is your responsibility to read the assigned book and article selections every week. Just completing the readings is not enough to maximize your learning opportunities. Therefore, we will use literature circles to frame our weekly discussions of the readings. Each week, you will assume one of the literature circle roles (on BB) and record your responses accordingly in your literature circle journal online. Beyond small group discussion on the reading, you will also post your thoughts to our course discussion page for all classmates to review and reflect upon. Your grade will be based on both a peer and self-evaluation of 1) your weekly completion of your literature circle role and 2) your engagement in the group discussion.

c. Exit Tickets (3 points per response/30 points total)

At the end of each class, you will complete an exit ticket that details how your meaning making for the course content and your application of the course content to your field-based observations changed/evolved given our readings/discussions. This serves as a type of “exit card” to help you process your immediate learning and to provide me insight into your developing understanding and perspective. It is expected that your response is brief but that you connect your response to class discussion and the readings.

Over the Semester

d. Educational History (15 points total)

We know from the research literature that your prior school experiences as a student (aka-your apprenticeship of observation (Lortie, 1974)) wield incredible influence on your views of teaching and learning. Therefore, it is essential that we explore your K-12 school experiences so that you are aware of the pre-existing perceptions that you bring to teacher preparation. Your Educational History should be 1-2 single spaced pages in length and should be an introspective summary/reflection on your memories of teaching/learning in

- Elementary school
- Middle school
- High School
- College

e. Beliefs Statement (15 points total)

As you progress through your program, you will identify, develop, and refine your beliefs about teaching and learning. These beliefs may or may not reflect your actual teaching practice. We often aspire to something that we are not yet able to do or that we don't do consistently. Your Beliefs Statement serves as a tool for acquiring new knowledge and studying your own teaching practice. Remember, your Beliefs Statement is likely to shift, grow, and deepen as you gain more experience in the classroom and deepen your knowledge of theory and practice.

On the first day of class, you will reflect on the prompts below and develop a concept map of your beliefs and how they relate to one another. You will highlight areas that intersect and sources of tension in your map. Each week we will complete exit tickets to reflect how your thoughts are changing/evolving and we will revisit this map to refine/expand your thoughts. At the end of the course you will write your beliefs statement based on the concept map and exit tickets.

Your Beliefs Statement should be 3-4 pages in length and should address each of the following prompts:

- I believe the purpose of schooling is...
- I believe that teaching and learning...
- I believe my classroom is...
- I believe all my students are/they learn best when they...
- I believe my students learn best when I...
- I believe community/family is/are...

- I believe collaboration is...
- My professional goals as a teacher are...(5 years)...(10 years)...

f. Current Events/Instructional Strategy Presentations (25 points total)

In literature circle groups, you will select an additional resource (eg-current events news story, video clip, scholarly reading) to share with the class. The resource should relate to the questions guiding the course for the week the group has been assigned. Groups should select a resource that they consider a ‘must read’ related to the topic. Links to the resource should be posted to Blackboard 72 hours before class so that the other students and instructors can familiarize themselves with the issue.

The group will be allotted 20-30 minutes in class to facilitate a discussion/activity about the story. The group should use an instructional strategy that they might use in their future classrooms to present the information. The group will be responsible for a one-page handout summarizing the strategy they use to shape their discussion. Please print in advance enough handouts for all students and instructors in the course. Great resources for finding resources include (but are NOT limited to):

g. Reflective Practitioner Paper (50 points total) - PBA

In order to become reflective practitioners for a multicultural classroom, candidates must reflect on a variety of professional issues that teachers confront in their day-to-day teaching as well as the broader educational and social context, which affects the work of the public school teacher. To this end, the candidates will analyze a current issue/innovation around race and culture, gender equity, special education, social class, or language diversity. They will then relate it to historical and sociological trends/perspectives as well as to their own experiences. *A detailed task description and rubric is attached.

* Although a B- is a satisfactory grade for a course, students must maintain a 3.00 average in their degree program and present a 3.00 GPA on the courses listed on the graduation application.

Remember: A course grade C or less requires that you retake the course.

Grading Policy

All CEHD/CHSS undergraduate and graduate students are held to the university grading policies as described in the Academic Policies section of the current catalog, which can be accessed at <http://catalog.gmu.edu>

Other Assignment Expectations

- All written assignments MUST be double-spaced, 1" margins and black, 12-point font (Times New Roman, Calibri or Arial). APA format is required. If you do not have the APA Manual 6th edition, the OWL at Purdue is an excellent resource: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>.

- All assignments are expected at the beginning of the assigned class. Unless prior arrangements have been made with me (at least 48 hours in advance), late submissions will not be accepted and will result in a grade of 0 for that assignment.

Please Note: The GMU Writing Center offers online support via email. They will provide feedback on your writing within one hour. Graduate and professional writing can be difficult; I encourage you to take advantage of this service. http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/?page_id=177

- It is expected that all class assignments will be submitted on time to the correct location; therefore, late assignments will not receive full credit. Assignments turned in late will receive an automatic deduction of one letter grade making the highest possible score equivalent to 80% (B). All assignments must be submitted by hard copy on the due date stated within the course calendar (see below) and should be submitted at the beginning of class—except for the PBA which is to be submitted to Blackboard and Tk20. All assignments must be saved with your Last Name and Assignment Title (e.g., Brown_ReflectivePractitionerPaper)

Please Note: I reserve the right to add, alter, or omit any assignment as necessary during the course of the semester.

3. Performance-based assessments (PBA) - Reflective Practitioner Paper (50 pts)

In order to become reflective practitioners for a multicultural classroom, candidates must reflect on a variety of professional issues that teachers confront in their day-to-day teaching as well as the broader educational and social context, which affects the work of the public school teacher. To this end, the candidates will analyze a current issue/innovation around race and culture, gender equity, special education, social class, or language diversity. They will then relate it to historical and sociological trends/perspectives as well as to their own experiences. *A detailed task description and rubric is attached.

TK20/Performance-Based Assessment(s) Submission Requirement

Every student registered for any Elementary Education course with a required TK20 performance-based assessment (designated as such in the syllabus) must submit this/these assessment(s) to Tk20 through 'Assessments' in Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment(s) to Tk20 (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless this grade is changed upon completion of the required Tk20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR LICENSURE COMPLETION

Beginning with Spring 2015 internships, all official and passing test scores must be submitted and in the Mason system (i.e. Banner/PatriotWeb) by the internship application deadline. Allow a minimum of six weeks for official test scores to arrive at Mason. Testing too close to the application deadline means scores will not arrive in time and the internship application will not be accepted.

Required tests:

Praxis Core Academic Skills for Educators Tests (or qualifying substitute)

Praxis II (Content Knowledge exam in your specific endorsement area)

For details, please check <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/test/>

Endorsements:

Please note that ALL endorsement coursework must be completed, with all transcripts submitted and approved by the CEHD Endorsement Office, prior to the internship application deadline.

Since the internship application must be submitted in the semester prior to the actual internship, please make an appointment to meet with the Endorsement Specialist and plan the completion of your Endorsements accordingly.

CPR/AED/First Aid:

Beginning with spring 2015 internships, verification that the Emergency First Aid, CPR, and Use of AED Certification or Training requirement must be submitted and in the Mason system (i.e. Banner/PatriotWeb) by the application deadline. Students must submit one of the "acceptable evidence" documents listed at <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/emergency-first-aid> to CEHD Student and Academic Affairs. In order to have the requirement reflected as met in the Mason system, documents can be scanned/e-mailed to CEHDacad@gmu.edu or dropped-off in Thompson Hall, Suite 2300.

Background Checks/Fingerprints:

All local school systems require students to complete a criminal background check through their human resources office (not through George Mason University) prior to beginning field hours and internship. Detailed instructions on the process will be sent to the student from either the school system or Mason. Students are strongly advised to disclose any/all legal incidents that may appear on their records. The consequence of failing to do so, whether or not such incidents resulted in conviction, is termination of the field hours or internship.

Please Note: Your G-Number must be clearly noted (visible and legible) on the face of the document(s) that you submit.

Application Deadlines:

The internship application can be downloaded at <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/internships-field-experience>.

Spring internship application:

Traditional semester long internship: September 15

Fall internship application:

Traditional semester long internship: February 15

Year Long Internship: April 1 (All testing deadline are August 1 immediately proceeding the fall start; RVE deadline is December 1)

TENTATIVE CLASS SCHEDULE:

Note: Calendar is tentative and may be modified in line with course needs.

School Proposal
PBA: Reflective Practitioner Paper

Given your knowledge of and experiences at the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE, consider the federal and state policies, district mandates and school initiatives that may support and/or hinder the school community, teachers and/or students. In this assignment, you expand your understanding of public education as a system that both strengthens and diminishes equity. Taken another way, you will explore the following question: What are the tensions within efforts to reform public education and how do these debates shape the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE and your future actions as a teacher? Follow the steps below to successfully write this scholarly paper.

1. Pick an educational initiative introduced through class (readings, discussion, materials).
2. Research who this initiative is designed to benefit (a group of students, teachers, or communities targeted by the initiative).
3. Find peer-reviewed research articles and review class readings that address the initiative and its impact (If you are not sure about whether a research journal is peer-reviewed consult with me). Take notes as you read.
4. Write your proposal. Include the following as headings so that you and the reader [your instructor and FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE faculty and staff] will know exactly where you are headed and whether you have addressed all of the content requirements.

Introduction (this is where you introduce your topic, establish its significance (hook), and give your reader an advance organizer for the paper)

Part One (The policy, mandate, initiative)

- Description of the initiative that will meet some of needs of the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE and its population
- Background and historical information of initiative
- Strengths of the initiative
- Weaknesses of/challenges to the initiative
- Implications for FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE (What does this initiative mean for the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE'S school, teachers and/or students? You will want to think about what is essential for the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE community to consider, know, and do within this initiative. Use your Community Map Activity from EDUC 543 for assistance here.)

Part Two (FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE)

- Detail the background of the school, the neighborhood and the student population (Use your Community Map Activity from EDUC 543 for assistance here.)
- Highlight how the initiative targets the ecology of the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE
 - Discuss classroom/school implications for young learners in this population (How has this population of students historically experienced education? How do identity characteristics of this population intersect with characteristics of school?)
- Denote implications for the teachers such as yourself (compare/contrast your background) teaching this population of students (You must first deconstruct and then describe relevant aspects of your identity. Then you must analyze how these pieces of your identity potentially intersect with teaching this student population. Use first person here to then generalize to a broader population of teachers like you.)

Part Three (Conclusions)

- Synthesize the relevance of this proposal (Based on what you have presented in your proposal, this is where you draw conclusions about the impact of the initiative on the FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE. Who is benefitted and how? Who is disadvantaged and how? What does that mean for the group of students targeted by the initiative?)

Tips

While you are writing the paper make sure that you are:

- Integrating concepts from readings. You CANNOT make a claim without evidence to support it. That evidence comes from your readings and research. Each section needs multiple (2 or more different) sources. I will be looking for breadth and depth in your references.
- Integrating class discussions and integrating experiences and/or personal reflection (especially in Part 2: Implications for FIELD EXPERIENCE SITE and teachers, such as yourself).

Clarity of writing

- It is logically organized
- Has an introduction that includes the goals/purpose of the paper (Guide the readers!)
- Has points representing strengths and weaknesses of the initiative
- Has smooth transitions between ideas
- Ends with a conclusion that restates the main points of the paper (without introducing new ideas) and draws conclusions about the initiative's outcomes on intended students
- Information is presented clearly within the page limits (5-7 pages)
- The paper has NO grammar or spelling errors. None!
- Read and re-read your writing before submitting
- If academic writing is difficult for you, ask a colleague or friend to review your work and provide feedback or visit the GMU Writing Center (see link above).

APA format

- title page
- headings
- page numbers
- proper use of in-text citations and appropriately formatted reference list
- Do NOT use standalone quotes in your paper. See the "Citation Cheat Sheet" on blackboard for help with this.
- Do NOT include anything in your reference list that you do not cite in your paper.
