University Catalog Course Description

Explores developmental issues associated with middle and high school students, and theories that provide basis for understanding learning process. Addresses implications for designing instruction and curriculum.

Course Overview

EDUC 672 explores the processes that influence the intellectual, social, emotional, and physical development of middle and high school students. Within that context, the course further examines the processes and theories that provide a basis for understanding the learning process. Particular attention is given to constructivist theories and practices of learning, the role of symbolic competence as a mediator of learning, understanding, and knowing, and the facilitation of critical thinking and problem solving. Processes of developing and learning are considered as they impact the design of instruction and the selection of curriculum. The course also explores the relation of theories of learning to the construction of learning environments, student motivation, classroom management, assessment, and how technology supports teaching and learning.

Course Delivery Method

The course will be delivered through a variety of online, face-to-face, and individualized instructional approaches. Online sessions will be conducted in asynchronous formats, but you will be expected to post your own reflections and assignments and respond to peers' and instructors' postings and feedback by the end of each designated class week (midnight US eastern standard time each 3 Monday). During class meetings there will be large group, small group, and individual activities. Online classes are considered regular instructional time and the assignments given are the equivalent of a full in-class session. The online classes involve research, use of professional web sites, asynchronous discussions, peer review, email with the instructor and classmates, readings, writing reflections, and other assignments. GMU's Blackboard course framework will be used regularly throughout the course. Your GMU email address is required for communication with the course instructor and must be active by the first week of class. Please inform me of any accessibility problems the first day of class. Please note that because you have much to learn from each other, and because teaching is often a collaborative effort, you will frequently work in groups. This will give you a chance to share ideas, be exposed to a range of perspectives and experiences, and support each other as you continue to develop your teaching and researching skills.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

The course is structured around readings, case analyses, reflections on those readings, conceptual analyses of developmental psychology and learning theories, expert group projects, a review of current research, and technology activities. EDUC 672 seeks to build clear bridges between theoretical/research perspectives and classroom practice. Student participation and involvement are crucial for making the course successful for everyone.

You can visualize the course as having three parts:

1. DEVELOPMENT AND DIVERSITY
2. LEARNING AND MOTIVATION
3. CLASSROOM STRATEGIES

All of the sections will help you understand psychological research and apply it in your classrooms

EDUC 672 is designed to enable students to examine connections among intellectual, social, emotional, and physical processes for adolescent students as well as the underlying theories which support these interactions in learning environments. The following table addresses learner outcomes as they relate to the College of Education and Human Development Core Values:

Relationship Between Course Objectives and CEHD Core Values Course Objectives	Conceptual Framework Core Values
1. Students will demonstrate an understanding of stages and processes relating to adolescents' social, emotional, moral, cognitive, and physical development by writing a five-page paper on adolescent behavior.	Research-based practice Ethical leadership Social justice
2. Students will develop an understanding of how individuals differ in their approaches to learning and how to create instructional opportunities that are adapted to learners from diverse cultural backgrounds and with exceptionalities by attending in-class lectures given by experts in these fields and by working on individual case studies.	Research-based practice Ethical leadership Social justice
3. Students will demonstrate an understanding of how theoretical approaches to learning and development relate to classroom management, instruction, and assessment by creating a case study of an adolescent learner, developing learning objectives and planning teaching and assessment strategies.	Research-based practice Ethical leadership Social justice Innovation
4. Students will identify theoretical/research frameworks associated with student motivation and with creating learning environments that promote adaptive forms of motivation by writing a ten page paper on adolescents and motivation.	Research-based practice Ethical leadership Social justice Innovation
5. Students will develop and reinforce their critical thinking, problem solving, oral, and writing skills by participating in a collaborative group that researches and presents various aspects of psychological theory and research using PowerPoint slides.	Research-based practice Ethical leadership Social justice Innovation Collaboration
6. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the role in the learning process of constructing knowledge, prior knowledge, problem solving, and social/environmental scaffolding through successfully completing an analysis of a case study.	Research-based practice Ethical leadership Social justice Innovation

Course Performance Evaluation

1. Fieldwork Assignments: Students will complete three writing assignments about teenagers, psychology, and teaching. The assignments will deal with 1) adolescent levels of development (e.g., physical, social, emotional, moral/ethical, and intellectual), 2) case study for teacher problem solving, and 3) adolescent motivation. All written assignments must be completed electronically and posted on Blackboard. Assignments are to be turned in at the beginning of class on the date due. Late assignments will not be accepted without making prior arrangements with the instructor. In addition, all work submitted in this course must be your own or attributed to the proper author using the appropriate research reference format (APA). Refer to the GMU Honor Code for further information.

Fieldwork Assignment #1 – Analysis of Educational Theory seen in Teen-Based Movie-Due 2/14 (10 Points)

The first assignment will be a 5 page analysis of adolescent behavior, cliques, characteristics, and interactions based on a teen movie. Choose any one of these “teenage flicks:” The Great Gatsby, Stand and Deliver, Dead Poet’s Society, Dangerous Minds, To Sir with Love, Mr. Holland’s Opus, Divergent, Coach Carter, Finding Forrester, Napoleon Dynamite, Secret Life of Bees, Freedom Writers or Hunger Games. Feel free to explore and find a movie that might be relevant. If you choose a different movie, please check with the instructor before you use it to complete this assignment. Students will apply a minimum of five psychological concepts based on class instruction. (See Blackboard site for specific instructions). The scoring rubric for this assignment is on p. 13 of this syllabus.

Fieldwork Assignment #2 – Independent Analysis of Case Study-Due 3/21 (10 Points) Students will apply their understanding of psychological theory to analyze three case study videos. These videos can come from our textbook or from online but must present a classroom problem. For this assignment, students will complete a minimum of six to seven, double spaced pages. Fieldwork Assignment #2 is a summative assessment of your ability to use psychological theory to analyze problems. This case study assignment will reference three distinct problems in the context and then apply at least six different developmental stages, learning theories or classroom strategies. (See Blackboard site for specific instructions). The scoring rubric for this assignment is on p. 14 of this syllabus.

Fieldwork Assignment #3 – Due 4/18 Motivation (10 Points) The third fieldwork assignment focuses on adolescent motivation. Students will interview one or more students or teachers about how motivation affects student learning and behavior. The paper should be eight to ten pages, double-spaced and include a minimum of ten psychological concepts. For this assignment, it is imperative that pseudonyms are used for interviewees. (See Blackboard site for specific instructions). The scoring rubric for this assignment is on p. 15 of this syllabus.

Child Abuse Seminar Certificate-Due 4/4 (5 Points) For this course, students are required to complete the Child Abuse Seminar Certificate. Please save the certificate as a pdf and post on Blackboard.

2. Theory to Practice Presentation-Due 4/25 (20 Points) -Groups of two to three students will prepare a 20-40 minute presentation on one educational psychology theory based on the list below. Each group member (10 minutes per person) will summary commonalities in five peer reviewed articles related to the theory. Then the group will lead the class in a practical application activity for the classroom based on the theory. (See Blackboard site for specific instructions). The scoring rubric for this assignment is on p. 16 of this syllabus. Possible topics for this assignment are listed on p. 6.

Small Group Topics:

Cognitive/Individual Constructivism and Developmental Stages (Jean Piaget)

Social Constructivism (Lev Vygotsky)

Information Processing

Moral Development (Lawrence Kohlberg) or character development Adolescent Gender Norms

(Carol Gilligan) Learner Differences in Adolescent Achievement (this could focus on culture or on cognition)

Special Education Needs

Psychosocial Development (Erik Erickson)

Social Cognitive Theory/Self-Efficacy (Albert Bandura)

Humanistic Psychology (Abraham Maslow)

Behaviorist Theory (B.F. Skinner)

Attribution Theory (Bernard Weiner)

Concept Formation (Jerome Bruner)

Transfer (David Perkins)

Assessment

Classroom Management

Self-regulated Learning (Zimmerman)

3. Application Project (Performance Based Assessment-Due 5/9 (30 Points) Students will create a case study of a typical adolescent that may be encountered in a general education classroom. Students will describe the physical, social/emotional and cognitive/language development of the adolescent. Strategies for determining adolescent motivation, prior knowledge and values and goals of the adolescent will be described. Strategies for meeting the needs of the case study adolescent within a classroom will be described. Authentic assessment strategies that measure transfer of classroom learning to the adolescent's out-of-school learning will be described. All strategies will be supported by at least two research references (six references total). The length of this double-spaced paper is flexible, but a typical paper will be at least 6 pages, not including references. The scoring rubric for this assignment is at the end of this syllabus.

TK20 PERFORMANCE-BASED ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION REQUIREMENT

Every student registered for any Secondary Education course with a required performance-based assessment is required to submit this assessment, Lesson Plan to Tk20 through Blackboard (regardless of whether the student is taking the course as an elective, a onetime course or as part of an undergraduate minor). Evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in Tk20 through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Tk20 (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Tk20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

NOTE: Maintain copies of all projects to document progress through the Secondary Education Program. Projects may become part of your professional portfolio, and useful when you have your own classroom.

4. In and Out of Class Assignments, Participation, and Attendance Policy (15 points): Students will be asked to work individually or in groups of 2-3 students in class assignments throughout the semester. Because of the importance of lecture and face-to-face and online discussion to your total learning experience, I wish to encourage you to both attend and participate in class regularly. A few of our class sessions may be held out-of-class (online). This class (or classes) is to be considered a regular instructional time, and the assignments given are the equivalent of a full, in-class session. The out-of-class hours include research, use of professional websites, online discussions, readings, analyses of case studies, writing the research project, preparing the PowerPoint presentation, and other assignments. Attendance, punctuality, preparation, and active contribution to small and large group efforts are essential. Students who must miss a class must notify the instructor (in advance) and are responsible for completing all assignments and readings for the next class. You are responsible for getting assignments in on time and catching up if you are absent. [Anyone missing more than two classes should see the instructor to discuss dropping the class.]The scoring rubric for this assignment is on p. 20 of this syllabus.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR LICENSURE COMPLETION Student Clinical Practice: Internship Requirements

Testing

Beginning with Spring 2015 internships, all official and passing test scores must be submitted and in the Mason system (i.e. Banner/PatriotWeb) by the internship application deadline. Allow a minimum of six weeks for official test scores to arrive at Mason. Testing too close to the application deadline means scores will not arrive in time and the internship application will not be accepted.

Required tests:

- Praxis Core Academic Skills for Educators Tests (or qualifying substitute)

VCLA

Praxis II (Content Knowledge exam in your specific endorsement area)

For details, please check <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/test/>

Endorsements

Please note that ALL endorsement coursework must be completed, with all transcripts submitted and approved by the CEHD Endorsement Office, prior to the internship application deadline. Since the internship application must be submitted in the semester prior to the actual internship, please make an appointment to meet with the Endorsement Specialist and plan the completion of your Endorsements accordingly.

CPR/AED/First Aid

Beginning with spring 2015 internships, verification that the Emergency First Aid, CPR, and Use of AED Certification or Training requirement must be submitted and in the Mason system (i.e. Banner/PatriotWeb) by the application deadline. Students must submit one of the "acceptable evidence" documents listed at <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/emergency-first-aid> to CEHD Student and Academic Affairs. In order to have the requirement reflected as met in the Mason system, documents can be scanned/e-mailed to CEHDacad@gmu.edu or dropped-off in Thompson Hall, Suite 2300.

Background Checks/Fingerprints

All local school systems require students to complete a criminal background check through their human resources office (not through George Mason University) prior to beginning the internship. Detailed instructions on the process will be sent to the student from either the school system or Mason. Students are strongly advised to disclose any/all legal incidents that may appear on their records. The consequence of failing to do so, whether or not such incidents resulted in conviction, is termination of the internship.

Please Note Your G-Number must be clearly noted (visible and legible) on the face of the document(s) that you submit.

Application

The internship application can be downloaded at <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/internshipsfield-experience>
