Discusses culturally & linguistically responsive instructional and assessment practices and working with families and other school professionals. Requires 20 hours of PK-12 classroom fieldwork.

Course Overview

EDUC 537 Introduction to Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Learners is a three-credit course designed for graduate students seeking a master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction, with a concentration in Teaching Culturally & Linguistically Diverse and Exceptional Learners

(TCLDEL). It is one of the first courses of the master's degree and licensure programs and is required of all program participants. This course meets the following program goals:

1. Diversity. Learn the basic concepts and develop the necessary skills to successfully work with learners of differing backgrounds and value systems.
2. Classroom teaching. Candidates should be able to understand that there are multiple paths to learning and demonstrate skills and competency in teaching students from different backgrounds and varying learning styles.
3. Democratic principles. Candidates should be able to adopt teaching practices, which reflect democratic principles and support creating and sustaining democratic learning environments.
4. Knowledge base for teaching in diverse and inclusive classrooms. Candidates will learn the fundamental concepts pertaining to the teaching in culturally, linguistically, and socio-economically diverse classrooms.
5. Utilization of research. Candidates will critically evaluate theories of multicultural education and engage in systematic investigations of the knowledge base to inform their own or others' teaching practices.
6. Curriculum. Candidates will develop the skills needed to design, implement, and evaluate programs to enable them to work comfortably with students from different backgrounds.

Course Delivery Method (For Online)

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on August 28th at 8:30 a.m.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

This online course is not self-paced. You will be expected to complete one module every week. Completing a Weekly Module includes reading, participating in Discussion Board, and completing any assignments and/or activities within that Week Module. You are asked to engage deeply with the course content, to take risks in your thinking, and to listen to and learn from your classmates.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox is required (note: Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard).
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students will need a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool. [Delete this sentence if not applicable.]

- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download: [Add or delete options, as desire.]
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
 - Windows Media Player: <https://windows.microsoft.com/en-us/windows/downloads/windows-media-player/>
 - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Tuesday and finish on Monday.
- Log-in Frequency:
Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 3 times per week.
- Participation:
Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence:
Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues:
Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload:
Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Instructor Support:
Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette:
The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.

- Accommodations:
Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Tk20 or both).

TK20 Performance-Based Assessment Submission Requirements

(Bridging the Divide and Equity Issue Paper)

Every student registered for any Teaching Culturally, Linguistically Diverse & Exceptional Learners program course with required performance-based assessments is required to submit these assessments and the Fieldwork Log of Hours and Evaluation Form to Tk20 through Blackboard (regardless of whether the student is taking the course as an elective, a one-time course or as part of an undergraduate minor). Evaluation of the performance-based assessments by the course instructor will also be completed in Tk20 through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Tk20 (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Tk20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

Note: The rubrics employed for assessment in TK20 are for accreditation purposes. The instructor may use different rubrics for assessing candidates' work on the PBAs for course grading purposes. These grading rubrics will align with the PBA descriptions in the syllabus and will be shared on Blackboard with candidates.

Field Experience Record and Evaluation

The field experience is a required component of the teacher preparation program at George Mason University. All students will complete a minimum of 20 hours in field experience for this course. Documentation of your field experience is required as well as a signed statement from your field experience teacher(s) or supervisor(s). If you are taking more than one course in a semester, you must complete 20 hours per course (e.g., two courses require 40 hours of field experience). This means you may be completing different tasks for different courses in the same placement. Materials and products used for one course cannot be used for another course (e.g., videos, lesson plans, activities, etc.)

TCLDEL Fieldwork Log of Hours and Evaluation Forms must be uploaded to TK20 on Blackboard. These forms are located on Blackboard in your TCLDEL organization site in the “Fieldwork” page.

In-service teachers: Field experience can often be conducted in your own classroom if you have access to the population of students required for the PBAs and other assignments. Please consult your instructor if you have questions about the viability of your classroom for fieldwork in this class. You must register for your school as your field experience site in the online Field Experience Request form available here: <https://cehd.gmu.edu/endorse/ferf>. You will check the box indicating that: “I will arrange my own field experiences (observations and/or case studies) because I am a full-time contracted school system employee and will complete field experience at my workplace.” The deadline to submit your field experience placement is the end of Week 2 of class. Failure to do so will result in an unsatisfactory grade for your fieldwork assignment. If you are taking this course as part of a cohort program, please indicate “TCLDEL Cohort” on your request form FIRST, then select your program and placement location. HINT: Cohort courses have section numbers beginning with “6F” (e.g. EDUC 511.6F1).

Pre-service teachers: If you are not currently working in a K-12 school, you will need to be placed in an appropriate fieldwork setting to complete your required PBAs and fieldwork hours. You must request a fieldwork site using the online Field Experience Request form available here: <https://cehd.gmu.edu/endorse/ferf>. You will check the box indicating that: I will need George Mason (Clinical Practice Specialist) to arrange a placement for my field experiences (including observations and/or case studies). The deadline to submit your field experience placement is the end of Week 2 of class. Failure to do so will result in an unsatisfactory grade for your fieldwork assignment. If you are taking this course as part of a cohort program, please indicate “TCLDEL Cohort” on your request form, then select your program and placement location. HINT: Cohort courses have section numbers beginning with “6F” (e.g. EDUC 511.6F1).

Virginia state or county cohort teachers: Cohort Students are required by their district and by TCLDEL to complete field experiences as required by the Virginia Department of Education for this program. Each district has arranged for candidates to be able to work at K-12 grade levels in order to complete all licensure requirements. Please contact your district coordinator for further information.

- Assignments and/or Examinations

Major Assignments Overview

Assignment	Grade %	DUE DATE
Class Participation	20	Ongoing throughout course
Bridging the Divide Project (PBA)	25	TBD – Must be submitted via TK20 AND Blackboard assignment link
Cultural Autobiography/Reflection Paper	20	TBD – Must be submitted via Blackboard assignment link
Field Experience Log & Evaluation Forms	10	TBD – Must be submitted to TK20 ONLY
Equity Issue Paper (PBA)	15	TBD – Must be submitted to TK20 AND Blackboard assignment link
Equity Issue Presentation	10	TBD – Must be submitted via Discussion Board link

Each course assignment is described below. TK20 evaluation criteria for the two Performance-Based Assessments in this course are located at the end of the syllabus. It is strongly recommended that candidates develop an organized plan for working on the major assignments throughout the semester.

Class participation (20%)

Class participation is evidenced by thoughtful, thorough completion of all activities in the Weekly Modules. Thus, candidates' Discussion Board posts and other learning activities within each Weekly Module should reflect learning from readings, videos, and any other online content within the Weekly Modules. While your current knowledge as an educator is important to your understandings, demonstrating the way that engagement with the course content expands your understanding as a reflective practitioner is expected and necessary for earning full participation points. That is, candidates' work within each Weekly Module must reflect thorough preparation, which will be evidenced by critically analyzing, asking questions, making observations, and sharing reflections as well as by offering specific examples for incorporating learning from the course into their current or future teaching practice with culturally and linguistically diverse learners.

In an asynchronous course, deeper learning will occur by learning from one another in shared spaces (e.g., Discussion Board, Wiki, WordPress blog, etc.). Therefore, it is vital that your contributions are always thoughtful, analytical, and respectful.

Note for Online Courses:

The main participatory activity is engaging in conversation with classmates via Discussion Board posts. The Discussion Board posts and any other activities within a Weekly Module (e.g., a journal entry, addition to a Wiki page, WordPress blog, etc.) are opportunities for candidates to demonstrate thorough engagement with all course content in the Weekly Modules. A class participation rubric that outlines these expectations is located on Blackboard.

Candidates are expected to complete an initial Discussion Board post by Saturday night at midnight and to respond briefly but thoughtfully to two peers' posts by Monday night at midnight. Initial Discussion Board posts must be two well-developed, carefully constructed, concise paragraphs, written in professional language, that synthesize candidates' thinking around the prompts for the post with insights gained through readings/videos in the Weekly Module. In other words, the questions in the prompts are meant to spark thinking and connections to candidates' experiences and to the course content rather than to be addressed question by question. Responses to peers' posts can be a few sentences to a paragraph and must be thoughtful and respectful. Please approach the Discussion Board interactions with the idea that we are communicating to expand our understanding of ourselves as cultural beings as well as of the strengths and needs of culturally and linguistically diverse students.

Bridging the Divide (BD) Project (25%)—This assignment is a Performance-Based Assessment

This assignment involves culturally diverse students, families, schools, and communities. The goal of the assignment is to better understand the role of culture in student learning and engagement. For this assignment, you will gather data and engage in a constructive dialogue with a first or second-generation immigrant family or a family that is of a non-majority culture within the school, country, or context in which you work. You will learn about their lives, backgrounds, values, and dreams with a particular emphasis on their experiences within the school system in which their children are enrolled. You will analyze your findings and reflect in writing on what you learned from this experience. Please refer to the rubric for this assignment. Bridging the Divide is a PBA and the paper must be submitted to Tk20 as well as to the Blackboard Assignment link.

Cultural Autobiography/Reflective Personal Development Paper (20%)

This paper should be 5-6 double-spaced pages, and include an APA-6 style cover page and a works cited page (if applicable). Please refer to the rubric for this assignment. The purpose of this cultural autobiographical assignment is to increase awareness of your cultural identity as a step in better understanding students who come from a wide variety of backgrounds. As you look at your life and begin to articulate your beliefs about education, consider your experiences through a cultural-historical lens. In this autobiographical narrative, you will explore your own personal history, including the formation of your identity, beliefs and perspectives on education. In doing so, you may consider identifying some key events and key people in your life that have served to shape how you currently interact in relationships and social/workplace encounters. This exercise challenges each candidate to critically unravel his or her cultural assumptions by reflecting on the events and life experiences that have shaped their cultural premises. Focus your narrative on the aspects of your experience including individual, interpersonal, and cultural influences, which have led to your current interest in teaching culturally, linguistically, and ability-diverse students. Rubric is available on Bb.

Equity Issue Paper (15 %) PBA and Presentation (10%)

This project provides the opportunity to demonstrate your knowledge of the history, research, policy and current practices in ESL as it applies to an equity issue related to this course as well as the impact of the equity issue on your own classroom or your fieldwork school. The paper and presentation should provide examples of compelling new collaborative research and programs that link universities with P-12 teachers.

Identify a salient issue in your school (for example, racism, stereotyping, bias, lack of access to programs, placement in special education); review the research in the field citing a minimum of five references. Identify two strategies to address this issue in your classroom or school. Create an action plan for implementation in your classroom. The Equity Issue Paper is a Performance-Based Assessment must be submitted to Tk20 as well as to the Blackboard Assignment link.

The purpose of the presentation is to build awareness and knowledge across issue groups, so that your peers who have focused on other areas can benefit from what you have learned and improve their own development as teachers. Your Equity Paper presentation should provide an overview of your issue, including key findings, problems identified in your school or workplace, possible solutions, suggestions from your colleagues, and your own reflections/conclusions and recommendations. Please include research sources at the end of your presentation. The presentation may be in the form of a PowerPoint with audio or VoiceThread, a recorded Prezi, or a Google Slides presentation. Your presentation must be compatible with Blackboard as it will be posted and accessed via Discussion Board.

- Grading

At George Mason University course work is measured in terms of quantity and quality. A credit normally represents one hour per week of lecture or recitation or not fewer than two hours per week of laboratory work throughout a semester. The number of credits is a measure of quantity. The grade is a measure of quality. The university-wide system for grading graduate courses is as follows:

Grade	GRADING	Grade Points	Interpretation
A+	=100	4.00

A	94-99	4.00	Represents mastery of the subject through effort beyond basic requirements
A-	90-93	3.67
B+	85-89	3.33	Reflects an understanding of and the ability to apply theories and principles at a basic level
B	80-84	3.00
C*	70-79	2.00	Denotes an unacceptable level of understanding and application of the basic elements of the course
F*	<69	0.00

Note: “C” is not satisfactory for a licensure course; “F” does not meet requirements of the Graduate School of Education

See the University Catalog for details: <http://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/academic/grading/>

Honor Code & Integrity of Work

Integrity of Work: TCLDEL students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code (<http://oai.gmu.edu/honor-code/>). The principle of academic integrity is taken very seriously and violations are treated as such.

Violations of the Honor Code include:

1. Copying a paper or part of a paper from another student (current or past);
2. Reusing work that you have already submitted for another class (unless express permission has been granted by your current professor before you submit the work);
3. Copying the words of an author from a textbook or any printed source (including the Internet) or closely paraphrasing without providing a citation to credit the author. For examples of what should be cited, please refer to: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/589/02/>
4. You may also not “reuse” fieldwork hours. Each placement must have 20 documented hours that are solely for each course that you are in; you may be at the same site, but the same hours may not be counted towards the same course.

Late Work Policy

At the graduate level all work is expected to be of high quality and submitted on the dates due. Work submitted late will be reduced one letter grade for every day of delay. Because we live in uncertain times, if you have any extraordinary circumstances (think flood, earthquake, evacuation) that prevent you from submitting your work in a timely manner, it is your responsibility to contact the instructor as soon as possible after the circumstances occur and make arrangements to complete your work. It is up to the discretion of the instructor to approve the late/makeup work.

Course Withdrawal with Dean Approval

For graduate and non-degree students, withdrawal after the last day for dropping a course requires approval by the student's academic dean, and is permitted only for nonacademic reasons that prevent course completion (Mason catalog). Students must contact an academic advisor in APTDIE to withdraw after the deadline. There is no guarantee that such withdrawals will be permitted.

Online Participation/Attendance Policy

Students are expected to participate in all online discussions. Not participating in an online discussion module will be reflected with a zero for the week and as an absence. Students with two or more absences will not receive credit for the course.

Incomplete (IN)

This grade may be given to students who are in good standing, but who may be unable to complete scheduled course work for a cause beyond reasonable control. The student must then complete all the requirements by the end of the ninth week of the next semester, not including summer term, and the instructor must turn in the final grade by the end of the 9th week. Unless an explicit written extension is filed with the Registrar's Office by the faculty deadline, the grade of IN is changed by the registrar to an F (Mason catalog). Faculty may grant an incomplete with a contract developed by the student with a reasonable time to complete the course at the discretion of the faculty member. The faculty member does not need to allow up to the following semester for the student to complete the course. A copy of the contract will be kept on file in the APTDIE office.

Professional Dispositions

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. See <https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.

GMU Policies and Resources for Students

Policies

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the Mason Honor Code (see <http://oai.gmu.edu/the-mason-honor-code/>).

- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their Mason email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.

- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services. Approved accommodations will begin at the time the written letter from Disability Services is received by the instructor (see <http://ods.gmu.edu/>).

GUIDELINES FOR MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS

BRIDGING THE DIVIDE (BiD) PROJECT (25% of the final grade) PBA

This assignment involves culturally diverse students, families, schools, and communities. The goal of the assignment is to better understand the role of culture in student learning and engagement.

Instructions

To build this understanding, you will engage in a constructive dialogue with a first or second-generation immigrant family or a family from a non-majority culture that has a child/children in the school in which you are conducting your fieldwork. Select a family from a racial, linguistic, and socioeconomic background different from your own. Your aim is to gather information about their lives, backgrounds, values, and dreams with a particular emphasis on their experiences with the school system in which their child/children are enrolled. This information will serve as your Findings. You will carefully analyze your findings and reflect in writing on what you learned from this experience.

Participants and Location

Work with your cooperating teacher or school personnel to find a family to interview. Determine your school's policies with regard to obtaining permission and maintaining confidentiality of all data and members of the family interviewed. Change the name of the school and all family members' names to pseudonyms to protect their identity. If possible, conduct the interviews in the family's home. A parent/guardian or other adult living in the home with the focus student must be included in the interview.

Interview Expectations

1. Develop understanding of how language and culture interact in the formation of students' identity.
2. Identify any cross-cultural conflicts apparent in the interview process.
3. Select appropriate teaching techniques based on knowledge of students' cultural, linguistic, and educational backgrounds.
4. Understand the importance of the home culture and its effect on student learning.
5. Seek to involve ESOL families in student learning.

Interview Process

You will need to develop an interview process to find out about the cultural, linguistic, and educational background of the family you are interviewing. Organize your interview into a set of questions in a conversational manner. Good interview questions consist primarily of open-ended questions that invite participants to engage in storytelling. That is, avoid questions that elicit only yes/no or very short answers (e.g., "Did you go to school?") in favor of questions that encourage longer responses (e.g., "Tell me about your childhood back home. What was your school like?") Use prompts to get participants to keep talking (e.g., "Tell me more about that" or "How did that make you feel?").

Have your questions prepared in a written/typed format. It may be helpful to record the interview, but be sure to specifically ask permission to do so. Otherwise, take detailed notes during the interview.

Specifically aim to collect these suggested types of information:

- a. Physical characteristics of the home (if interviews are conducted in the home);
- b. Community/neighborhood characteristics;
- c. Demographic/background information;
- d. Educational background of parents/guardians; ages and grades of the children;
- e. Languages spoken in the home and by whom; level of literacy in languages spoken;
- f. If applicable: Immigration experience (How/why they decided to come to the U.S. or the third country? What was it like?)--take care not to ask about legal status;
- g. Childrearing practices and philosophy;
- h. Economic/work issues;
- i. Funds of Knowledge (Luis Moll);
- j. Perspectives about education. What is a well-educated child? What are the roles of families and schools in children's education?
- k. Experiences with children's school(s); Types of support they have received; Successes with language and literacy development in English;
- l. Misunderstandings, difficulties, and challenges in school and how they have handled them;
- m. What does the family want their children's teachers and administrators to know about them and their children?

Family Context: If appropriate/safe in the country/culture in which you reside, take a walk through the neighborhood. How is it similar or different from your own neighborhood? What languages do you hear? What cultural, class, racial and religious contextual clues do you observe? How would it "feel" for a family to live here? Search for "cultural artifacts" (e.g., community centers, libraries, storefronts, places of worship, signs, and spaces) and what they represent to its residents. Go online and review sites that relate directly to the family heritage. As you explore, you may wish to take photographs and record your observations in a journal/notebook.

Processing the Interviews: Before reviewing your interview data for the first time, note your initial impressions of this family. What surprised you? What moved you? How might this family's story have changed your understanding of multicultural education, diversity, social justice, and family involvement in schools? Review and reflect on your interview notes or recording as well as any field notes or photographs. Note interesting information, stories, or quotes. You may also consider your observational notes from the field site school about the child/children in this family.

Next Steps: Choose the most salient pieces of the interview to transcribe (include in an appendix—do not transcribe the entire interview). Then, think carefully about how you will analyze your Findings in relation to the research on ELLs, learning in this course, and the TESOL Standards related to culture and language and their influence on student learning and engagement.

Think about how you can understand and apply knowledge about:

- *cultural values and beliefs in the context of teaching and learning.
- *the effects of racism, stereotyping, and discrimination on teaching and learning.
- *cultural conflicts and home events that can have an impact on ELLs' learning.
- *communication between home and school to enhance ESOL teaching and build partnerships with ELLs' families.
- *the interrelationship between language and culture.
- *ELLs' cultures and how this knowledge can be incorporated into teaching.
- *the way individual cultural identity affects learning and academic progress.

Format for Final Written Report

Your paper must be organized with headings and subheadings according to the format below and follow APA-6 style writing guidelines including APA guidelines for the title page, within-text citations, and references. Do not include an abstract.

Include the transcription of part of the interview, the interview questions, and any photographs and/or artifacts in appendices.

The recommended page count in the chart below does not include the title page, references or any appendices that you may include. Please use double-space, Times New Roman 12-point font, and 1" margins.

Part IV Personal Reflections	1.5 – 2.0 pages
Recommended Total	9.5 – 14.0 pages

Introduction

Part I: Findings: When writing this section, try to place yourself in this family's shoes in order to understand how they have constructed meaning from their experiences. Explore their views about immigrating or their role in the host country, educating their children, and engaging with the educational system, and other relevant findings. Include the following:

A. Setting

1. Describe the setting in which the dialogue took place.
2. Describe the neighborhood and reflections about your walk-through.
3. Explain who is the family and why this family was chosen for this study.
 - a. Provide a brief history of the family.
 - b. Ages, places of birth, countries and cities where they have lived, and ages of children when immigrated.

4. Social, educational, linguistic, and personal backgrounds.
5. If applicable: Immigration (first, second generation) experience. Relatives in the area?
6. Home and community funds of knowledge, cultural competencies, difficulties encountered in the U.S. (e.g., prejudice, discrimination).

B. Educational Experience

What are the family's perspectives about education? Family's experiences enrolling and supporting their children in their schools? Interactions with teachers and administrators? Support received? Educational successes and challenges--What is working? What is not working? If relevant, contrast the way things are done "here" with the way things are done "back home." Highlight any cultural differences/similarities between home and school.

Part II: Analysis: Analyze and interpret your Findings about this family's story/experiences using theory and research from your readings on multicultural education and social justice. Aim to integrate multiple themes addressed in this class and ground your analysis in a coherent, thoughtful, and thoroughly developed theoretical framework. When citing course readings, follow APA-6 format guidelines (Consult APA-6 Manual if you have one or consult the guidelines at Owl Purdue).

Part III: Conclusions and Recommendations: What is the meaning of this study? Prior to conducting this study, what did you expect to find about family involvement and Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CLD) families? In what way did this experiences shape or change your assumptions and beliefs? What did you learn that is important to share with other PK-12 teachers?

Based on your Findings, as well as related theory and research, which specific recommendations do you have to improve educational experiences for this family and their child/children and/or for CLD families in general? Provide specific, concrete examples of steps teachers and schools can take to:

- a. Improve the understanding of faculty and staff about CLD families;
- b. Proactively develop stronger school-family partnerships;
- c. Make their schools and classrooms more welcoming places for CLD families and connect students' home and community funds of knowledge to instruction.
- d. Strengthen culturally responsive instructional practices in the school.

Part IV: Personal Reflections: Explain what you learned through this project. Reflect on your own cultural background, as it shapes your interpretation of the results. What did this project mean to you? How has your knowledge and understanding changed? What assumptions were broken, and what new connections have you made? How will you use this learning in your future practice?

References: Follow APA-6 guidelines.

EQUITY ISSUE PAPER (15% of the final grade) PBA

This project provides the opportunity to demonstrate your knowledge of the history, research, policy, and current practices in ESOL as it applies to an equity issue related to this course and its impact on non-majority group learners in your fieldwork school (or your own classroom if that is your fieldwork site). That is, you will identify a salient issue in your school (i.e., systemic racism, stereotyping, bias, lack of access to programs, placement in special education); review the educational research around this topic, and identify at least two strategies from this research that could be applied to address this issue in your classroom or school. Create a brief action plan for implementation to resolve or address the issue.

Your paper should be a highly-polished piece, reflective of graduate-level academic writing. Use double-spacing, Times New Roman 12-pt font, and follow APA-6 style for title page, within-text citations, and references page. Do not exceed the maximum page-length guidelines (in chart below). Do not include an abstract. This assignment is a PBA and must be submitted to TK20.

To begin:

- Identify an equity issue of interest to you and of importance in your school.
- Read the research from at least 5 scholarly sources about this equity issue, particularly about the way this issue may affect equitable outcomes for CLD learners in schools. Use our course readings as a starting point.
- You can use the Mason library online databases at <http://library.gmu.edu/> for additional information.
- Synthesize your findings for Section I of your paper citing at least five academic research sources for your work.
- Use your findings to reflect on the way this equity issue is evident in your school.
- Think about how the issue is or is not being addressed and how members of the non-majority group may be affected. Begin to write up your observations and reflections for Section II.
- Identify two strategies, activities, or programs that could be used in your setting to address this equity issue.
- Based on your research, create a brief action plan that could be implemented in your school. Write up these ideas in Section III. Share your ideas informally with your cooperating teacher, other school colleagues, and/or school leaders and seek their feedback. You may also seek feedback from course classmates.
- After receiving feedback, write a Section IV for your paper, noting and evaluating their feedback and reflecting on how their suggestions may relate to improving the quality of education for CLD in your school and elsewhere.
- Carefully revise and edit your paper. Be sure to provide APA-6 within-text citations for all professional literature consulted as well as on a References page.
