University Catalog Course Description

Covers major theoretical approaches to counseling from a multicultural perspective and provides supervised introduction to basic skills.

Course Overview

EDCD 603 is an entry-level course for the Counseling and Development degree program. It is intended to offer counseling majors an introduction to counseling theories and the associated application of these approaches in practice. In addition, it affords those individuals who have an interest in counseling, but who have not yet made, and may never make, a commitment to enter the counseling profession, an opportunity to sample what this profession is about. Covers major theoretical approaches to counseling, including psychodynamic, Adlerian, existential, person-centered, cognitive-behavioral, systems, solution- focused and integrated. Provides practice in basic counseling skills through supervised practice. A lab is included. EDCD 603 is a prerequisite to EDCD 606 or EDCD 609 that focuses on advanced counseling skills and techniques. This series of courses will provide minimum necessary foundation for the rest of the curriculum relative to theories and how they are applied in the profession of counseling. EDCD 603 provides the foundation in the knowledge base for the M.Ed. degree in Counseling and Development for students seeking that degree whether they enter the profession in a school, or community settings. This foundation is built upon with other courses culminating in an internship in an appropriate setting.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered using a combination of lecture, class discussions, small group discussions, Blackboard discussion, group presentations, assigned readings, experiential exercises, multi-media presentations, counseling skills demonstration and practice to advance and evaluate students' knowledge and skills.

Required Texts

Ivey, A. E., D'Andrea, M. and Ivey, M. B., (2012). Theories of counseling and psychotherapy: A multicultural perspective (7th ed.). Boston: Allyn & Bacon.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Tk20, hard copy).

• Assignments and/or Examinations

Basic theoretical approaches to individual counseling will be discussed, analyzed and applied in this course. Students are responsible for reading assigned material in the theories text, and other supplemental material, prior to class, and should come to class prepared to actively participate in class discussion and activities. Class activities will include lecture, skill demonstrations, role-playing, small group work, experiential exercises, videos, and the analysis of recorded counseling sessions. Students will be assigned to a small group and will be responsible for sharing information within the group and making a presentation concerning a theory to the class.

During the lab sessions, students will have the opportunity to practice skills that are fundamental to effective counseling. Lab activities will focus primarily on practicing skills through role-plays in dyads and triads in which students will take a role. The instructor will critique role-plays and provide verbal and/or written feedback on skill development.

Attendance, Participation & Technology (5 points)

Active participation and high levels of performance in all class and lab activities are expected. Students are expected to attend all classes and come to class prepared having completed all reading and written assignments. Technology Competence: Students are expected to be able to use a computer, send and retrieve email, open attachments, gain access to access the Internet, and conduct a library search on-line. All of the course documents will be available on Blackboard, the course management system. Students will need to log onto Blackboard regularly and be able to use the Blackboard resources.

In-Class Skill Work (10 points)

Skill work activities include, but are not limited to: demonstration of counseling skills through demonstration, role-play, and recorded exercises, as well as the critique of another student's counseling tapes.

Group Presentation (25 points)

Theory presentation topics will be determined by the instructor and assigned to each group. The group presentation of one theory will focus on providing the class with an overview of the assigned theory. The presentation should include lecture, Power Point/Prezi, interactive content, experiential activity, and a handout summarizing key concepts. Your group will lead the class in an experiential activity using the assigned theory (e.g., case analysis, role demonstration and analysis, demonstration and analysis of a specific therapeutic technique, etc.). Be creative (check in with professor to approve alternative activities). Specific guidelines for the presentation and the handout and a rubric will be provided on Blackboard. The presentation should be no longer than 30 minutes (including time for Q&A).

Take Home Case Conceptualizations (20 points total)

Two take-home case conceptualization assignments will be posted on blackboard. Each is worth 10 points. Note: Conceptualizations will be submitted electronically. The second case conceptualization will also be submitted through TK20. Here's link to the instructions for submitting. https://cehd.gmu.edu/aero/tk20/student-directions?_ga=1.129732878.389748741.1449263942

Two video-recorded Counseling Sessions (40 points total)

Two video-recorded counseling sessions with a classmate are to be completed. Guidelines, forms, and assessment rubric concerning this assignment can be found on Blackboard. Students must provide their own video equipment.

Recording 1 (20 points)

Students will conduct a recorded counseling session using another student from class. At the start of the session, the student counselor should provide the limits of confidentiality and conduct a 10 minute first session. Student counselors will review the recording, complete a self-evaluation form (prior to class), and ask another student to listen and critique their recording (in-class) and complete a peer evaluation. Please select any 5-minute portion of this session to write a verbatim transcript of this part of the session AND label evidence of at least 25 incidents of counseling skills. This session will be graded primarily on the identification of skills and transcription.

Recording 2 (20 points)

Students will use the same student client from Recording #1 for this assignment. This session can be a continuation of the same discussion points from Recording #1, therefore you do not need to review confidentiality. You will conduct a 15-minute counseling session utilizing a range of counseling skills you learned in the course. The student counselor will critique Recording #2 and will write a 2 page (double spaced) overview and assessment of their counseling skills. The counseling skills overview and assessment will include: areas of skill development and student growth throughout semester, areas for future growth and improvement, as well as theoretical areas of interest.

Summary of recorded counseling assignments:

Recording 1: 10-minute first session with classmate, critiqued by self (prior to class) and classmate (complete in class). Self-evaluation and peer evaluation worksheets, transcription and identification of 25 incidents of counseling skills are turned into the instructor at the end of class in a large envelope labeled with student name.

Recording 2: 15-minute second session with the same classmate as the first recording, critiqued by you. This is to be a continuation of counseling. The DVD (labeled with your name), Self-Assessment worksheet, and two-page assessment of counseling skills will be turned into the instructor in a large envelope labeled with student name.

• Other Requirements

APA Format: Students in Counseling & Development courses are expected to use APA style (6th Ed.) for written papers.

Electronic Devices: Turn off and put away all electronic communication devices during class. Cell phones and other communicative devices are not allowed in this class. Please keep them stowed away and out of sight. Laptops or tablets (e.g. iPads) may be permitted for the purpose of taking notes only, but you must submit a request in writing to do so. Engaging in activities not related to the course (e.g. gaming, email, chat, text, etc.) will result in a significant reduction in your participation grade. Notify the instructor prior to class if you have an emergency situation that requires accommodation.

Attendance: In accordance with the policies of the Counseling and Development Program, on-time attendance at every class meeting is expected. Late arrival to class will be considered an absence. Two or more unexcused absences will result in loss of course credit. Attendance on the first day of class is required. Excused absences are permitted for illness, religious holidays, or emergency situations only; documentation is required for the absence to be considered excused. Work-related absences are not considered excused.

Course Requirements: Each student is expected to: (1) attend each class, (2) complete all reading assignments before class, (3) arrive on time and stay for the entire class period, (4) participate in discussions and in-class work groups, (5) regularly check GMU email, and (6) submit or access documents via Blackboard and/or to the instructor as a hard copy as assigned.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism is a violation of both the George Mason University code of honor and the expected professional dispositions of the Counseling & Development Program. The GMU English Department has developed the following statement regarding plagiarism: “Plagiarism means using the exact words, opinion, or factual information from another person without giving that person credit. Writers give credit through the use of accepted documentation styles, such as parenthetical citation, footnotes, or end notes; a simple listing of books and articles is not sufficient. Plagiarism is the equivalent of intellectual robbery and cannot be tolerated in an academic setting. Student writers are often confused as to what should be cited. Some think that only direct quotations need to be credited. While direct quotations do need citations, so do paraphrases and summaries of opinions or factual information formerly unknown to the writers or which the writers did not discover themselves. Exceptions to this include factual information which can be obtained from a variety of sources, the writer's own insights or findings from their own field research, and what has been termed common knowledge. What constitutes common knowledge can sometimes be precarious, and what is common knowledge for one audience may not be so for another. In such situations, it is helpful to keep the reader in mind and to think of citations as being reader friendly. In other words, writers provide a citation for any piece of information that they think their readers might want to investigate further. Not only is this attitude considerate of readers and establishes credibility, it will almost certainly ensure that writers will never be guilty of plagiarism.”
