University Catalog Course Description

Introduces students to philosophical foundations of meditation. Guides in the practice of meditation and its application to daily mental focus and concentration.

Course Overview

Through philosophical foundations of mindfulness this class will introduce students to the basics for creating an on-going meditation practice. Techniques used to establish this discipline will include: intention setting, focusing skills, breathing methods, and keeping with concentration point. Students will also learn postural alignment and tension release for seated, standing, walking, deep relaxation and yoga meditation.

Learning the attitudes and elements of mindfulness will be used to help relieve various stressors including, anxiousness, lethargy, sleep deprivation, distractibility and more. Mindfulness techniques useful to develop a greater sense of joy, gratitude, kindness and compassion will be provided, aimed at helping students to lead a healthier and happier life.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered using a face-to-face format.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

1. Define meditation and its benefits.
2. State the need for and importance of centering and breathing practices.
3. Develop proficiency in the practice of four types of pranayama.
4. Demonstrate techniques of progressive relaxation.
5. Demonstrate a sitting pose, including proper alignment.
6. Identify the 5 stage meditation process and demonstrate a working knowledge of refining

8. Build their own practice.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Tk20, hard copy).

- Assignments and/or Examinations

This course will be graded on a point system with 100 points possible

Lab Exercises - 80 points

- Daily attendance and participation are required. Absences and late arrivals are highly discouraged because they make it difficult to experience and understand information presented in class, including the cultivation of a meditation practice. Attitudes and elements of transfer of information to written assignments also reflect student's presence beyond their being physically present.

Journaling - 10 points

- Students will maintain a computer-created journal describing their formal meditation practice as well as their informal mindfulness practices in daily life. Exercising, eating, sleeping, speaking, listening and practicing gratitude are some areas which can embody mindfulness practices.

Final Exam - 10 points

- An in-class written final exam will reflect the student's understanding of major information presented in class. A thorough exam review and Q & A session will insure clarity of ideas prior to the exam day.

Bonus Journal - 5 points

- Students who wish to further describe the development of their meditative journey may turn in a bonus journal (between 150-250 words) focused on an area of choice, such as a mindfulness, tools of meditation, or a philosophical topic of interest.

- Other Requirements

- Attendance and participation is mandatory for this class. Students will be excused from class with a note from a health care provider. The note must be presented immediately upon return to the class. The note may also be emailed to the instructor. Emails and texts do not excuse an absence but are helpful in planning the class session.

Course Information

- Students with injuries or pre-existing conditions that may affect performance must inform the

- appropriate modifications of poses for their own practices.
- All communication will be through GMU e-mail – the Patriot Web Site.
- All props are provided, but students may bring a yoga mat to class.
- Loose comfortable clothing, warm-up suits, gym shorts and shirt, yoga outfits, along with good clean socks are requested. Tight street clothes are not good.
