- Assignments and/or Examinations

This course will be graded on a point system with 100 points possible

Lab Exercises - 80 points

- Daily attendance and participation are required. Absences and late arrivals are highly discouraged because they make it difficult to experience and understand information presented in class, including the cultivation of a meditation practice. Attitudes and elements of transfer of information to written assignments also reflect student's presence beyond their being physically present.

Journaling - 10 points

- Students will maintain a computer-created journal describing their formal meditation practice as well as their informal mindfulness practices in daily life. Exercising, eating, sleeping, speaking, listening and practicing gratitude are some areas which can embody mindfulness practices.

Final Exam - 10 points

- An in-class written final exam will reflect the student's understanding of major information presented in class. A thorough exam review and Q & A session will insure clarity of ideas prior to the exam day.

Bonus Journal - 5 points

- Students who wish to further describe the development of their meditative journey may turn in a bonus journal (between 150-250 words) focused on an area of choice, such as a mindfulness, tools of meditation, or a philosophical topic of interest.

- Other Requirements

- Attendance and participation is mandatory for this class. Students will be excused from class with a note from a health care provider. The note must be presented immediately upon return to the class. The note may also be emailed to the instructor. Emails and texts do not excuse an absence but are helpful in planning the class session.

Course Information

- Students with injuries or pre-existing conditions that may affect performance must inform the instructor.
