Provides knowledge, teaching strategies, and support for students working with developing readers and writers. Emphasizes implementation strategies that foster literacy development; incorporation of trade books and technology resources into individual and small group work; and reflection

Notes: Requires 45 hours of school-based field experience during course.

Course Overview

EDRD 301 provides background knowledge, teaching strategies, and support for students who wish to work with developing readers and writers in school or community settings. An emphasis is placed on implementing strategies that foster and enrich literacy development and include the incorporation of trade books and technology resources for individual and small group work. Students are expected to complete 45 hours of field experience in a school or community setting and reflect on their experience in connection with the course learning outcomes.

Course Delivery Method

This course will primarily be delivered using a lecture format.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives:

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

1. Understand and apply elements from learning theory to include developmental aspects of oral language and its relationship to reading and writing;
2. Demonstrate knowledge of the major components of reading (phonemic awareness, word identification/phonics, vocabulary, background knowledge, fluency, motivation, and comprehension strategies);
3. Use a variety of instructional practices, approaches, and methods including technology-based practices for learners at differing stages of development and from different cultural and linguistic backgrounds;
4. Model reading and writing enthusiastically and support students' choices of reading materials;
5. Develop and reinforce their critical thinking, oral and writing skills.

Assignments and Examinations (See Blackboard for specific guidelines and evaluation rubrics for all assignments.)

1. Participation (15 points) – ongoing

Attendance and class participation in the form of active discussion of issues and readings are integral parts of this course. Because the class will be structured around discussion and small group activities, it is critical for you to complete all readings prior to the class for which they are assigned in order to be able to fully participate in class. It is your responsibility to come to class with insights, questions, comments, and concerns from the readings. Lack of participation or involvement in activities not related to the course will result in a lower participation grade.

Our course Blackboard site (mymasonportal.gmu.edu) will include information and resources important to your successful completion of the course. You should access Blackboard prior to every class session to download readings and other pertinent course documents. At times, you may also be required to participate in online activities.

Class participation will be evaluated using the following rubric:

Criteria for Evaluation	Excellent	Satisfactory	Minimal	Unacceptable
Class Attendance	Missed no more than 1 class session. (6 points)	Missed 2 class sessions. (5 points)	Missed 3 or 4 class sessions. (4 points)	Missed 5 or more class sessions. (0 points)
Tardiness	Arrived late or left class early no more than 2 times. (3 points)	Arrived late or left class early 3 or 4 times. (2 points)	Arrived late or left class early 5 or 6 times. (1 point)	Arrived late or left class early more than 6 times. (0 points)
Class Participation	Actively participated in all small group activities and class discussions. AND Never engaged in distracting behaviors. (6 points)	Actively participated in most small group activities and class discussions. OR Sometimes engaged in distracting behaviors. (5 points)	Rarely participated in small group activities and class discussions. OR Frequently engaged in distracting behaviors. (4 points)	Never participated in small group activities and class discussions. AND Frequently engaged in distracting behaviors. (0 points)

2. Reading Quizzes (10 points) – September 10 & 19; October 10 & 24; November 12; December 3

Throughout the semester, there will be six reading quizzes on Bb. Five of these quizzes will count toward your final grade (each worth 2 points). Your lowest quiz score will be dropped. Each quiz will focus on the big ideas and vocabulary presented in your assigned readings. They may include multiple-choice, short answer, matching, and/or other brief response questions. Each quiz will have a time limit and may only be attempted once. Each quiz will open one week prior to its assigned date and close at 11:59 p.m. on the date indicated on the course schedule. Missed quizzes may not be made up. You are allowed to use your text and notes as a resource during the quizzes.

3. Literacy Autobiography (10 points) – September 17

You will share your previous experiences in literacy by writing your literacy autobiography. This should be a short, informal paper (2-3 double-spaced pages) in which you explain how you learned to read and write, how you have evolved as a reader and writer, the role teachers or other adults played in your development as a reader and writer, and how all of your personal experiences with literacy might influence your future work.

4. Literacy Strategy Demonstration (15 points) – Oct. 1, Oct. 22, Oct. 29, or Nov. 19 (as assigned)

With a partner, you will demonstrate a literacy strategy provided to you that is appropriate for use in an elementary classroom or tutoring setting. Together you will prepare any necessary materials for modeling the strategy. You will also create a written summary of the strategy to be posted on Blackboard for class use. This demonstration should last approximately 10 minutes and include your classmates as active participants.

5. Children's Picture Book Annotated Bibliography (15 points) – December 5

You will locate and read at least five children's picture books appropriate for use in an elementary classroom. At least one of these books must be appropriate for use in a Kindergarten to 2nd grade classroom and one must be appropriate for use in a 3rd to 6th grade classroom. You will provide readability information for and a short summary (in your own words) of each book. Then, for each book, you'll create at least 3 questions that could be used during a read-aloud with the book and at least 2 other suggestions for how it could be used in an elementary classroom to support students' literacy development.

6. Fieldwork Journal (20 points) – October 17, November 14

You are expected to complete 45 hours of documented school-based field experience (spread over approximately 9 weeks, 5 hours per week). You should keep an up-to-date field experience documentation form (see Bb for a blank form), adding entries each time you are at your school site(s). You should document both your hours spent in Book Buddies and in your assigned classroom. You will submit this documentation form periodically throughout the semester.

As part of the field experience requirement, you will collect artifacts from your field experience settings that are related to your fieldwork. These artifacts should also be connected to the content you are learning in the course. Examples of acceptable artifacts include pictures of your field experience classroom (you must have teacher and parental permission to take pictures of a student or classroom), copies of instructional materials used in the classroom, or examples of student work (with names and identifying information covered). Once you have decided on appropriate artifacts, you will explain how they relate to your fieldwork and the course content. You will also reflect on your observations and activities in your school setting. You will submit two fieldwork journal entries (each with an associated artifact) over the course of the semester. Each submission will be worth 10 points.

7. Field Experience Reflection (15 points) – December 12

At the end of the semester, you will critically reflect on your coursework in relation to your fieldwork. You should connect the literacy theory learned in the course to your fieldwork experiences. Because this is an overall reflection, you are expected to show what you have learned (about students, literacy, and yourself) from the beginning of the semester to the end.

Other Requirements

Class Attendance & Participation

Class attendance is both important and required (see Academic Policy 1.6 in the GMU Catalog). If an emergency situation arises and you must miss class, please contact me PRIOR to the class session via phone or email. Attendance will influence your grade as noted above. Missing 30% or more of class meetings or fieldwork hours may result in automatic failure of the course. You are responsible for obtaining information given during class discussions despite attendance. It is also your responsibility to discuss the readings and class content with a classmate to ensure understanding.

As seen in the course schedule, some class days are Professional Work Days. On these days we will NOT meet face-to-face on campus (though you may still have assignments due). Instead, participants in the Book Buddies program will meet at Oak View Elementary for tutoring. If you do not participate in Book Buddies, you should use the time to work in your field experience setting or meet with your partner to work on your Literacy Strategy Demonstration.

Assignment Guidelines

All assignments should be submitted on Blackboard by 11:59 p.m. on the date noted in the course schedule. You are expected to submit assignments on time regardless of your class attendance on the day an assignment is due. Unless arrangements have been made beforehand with me, 10% of the total points will be deducted from the assignment for each day the assignment is late.

All assignments should be word processed using 12-point Times New Roman font, and double-spaced with one-inch margins. Writing quality (including mechanics, organization, and content) is figured into the overall score for each assignment, so proofread carefully and use formal, academic English. When submitting electronic files, please name the files using your first and last name and assignment titles (ex: JOHN_DOE_Fieldwork Journal1.docx).

Communication

Email is my preferred form of communication, so please check your GMU email account frequently, as that will be the account I use to contact you. I am always available via email, but please allow 24 hours response time for replies during the week, and 48 hours during weekends and holidays. If you have not heard from me within 48 hours, please email me again.

If you would like to talk with me, I will be available 10 minutes before and after class. I am also happy to meet with you at other times by appointment.

Please note, the course schedule may need to be modified during the semester. If this occurs, notice of such changes will be by announcement in class, by written or email notice, and/or by changes to this syllabus posted on Blackboard.
