University Catalog Course Description

EDUC 672 explores the processes that influence the intellectual, social, emotional and physical development of middle and high school students. Within that context, the course further examines the processes and theories that provide a basis for understanding the learning process. Particular attention is given to constructivist theories and practices of learning, the role of symbolic competence as a mediator of learning, understanding, and knowing, and the facilitation of critical thinking and problem solving. Processes of developing and learning are considered as they impact the design of instruction and the selection of curriculum. The course also explores the relation of theories of learning to the construction of learning environments, student motivation, classroom management, assessment and how technology supports teaching and learning.

Course Overview

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on June 1, 2017.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox is required (note: Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard).
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
 - Windows Media Player:
 - <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>
 - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week:
Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Monday, and finish on Sunday.
- Log-in Frequency:
Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 4 times per week. In addition, students must log-in for all scheduled online synchronous meetings.
- Participation:
Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence:
Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues:
Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload:
Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.

- Instructor Support:
Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette:
The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.
- Accommodations:
Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

1. Students will demonstrate an understanding of stages and processes relating to adolescents' social, emotional, moral, cognitive, and physical development through an inquiry-focused assignment resulting in the completion of an inquiry chart and the development of a composite description of a typical adolescent.
2. Students will develop an understanding of how individuals differ in their approaches to learning and how to create instructional opportunities that are adapted to learners from diverse cultural backgrounds and with exceptionalities.
3. Students will demonstrate an understanding of how theoretical approaches to learning and development relate to classroom management, instruction, and assessment.
4. Students will develop and reinforce their critical thinking, problem solving, oral, and writing skills by participating in online, collaborative discussion focused on aspects of adolescent development.
5. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the process of creating a learning environment in which adolescents construct knowledge, access prior knowledge, engage in problem solving, and add information to social/environmental scaffolding.

Course Performance Evaluation

Template Revision Date: 11/14/16

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Tk20, hard copy).

--ATTENTION EDUC 372 STUDENTS--

Some adjustments have been made for you on some assignments. These adjustments will be indicated within a box (just like this one) under each specific assignment.

- Assignments and/or Examinations

1. Weekly Module Completion (600 points), DUE: weekly

This course is divided into weekly modules that are completed online. Each module will include a variety of discussion and response activities that will be described within each module in Blackboard. Students are responsible for completing all activities within each module. Students will be evaluated based on the criteria listed within each module. Students can earn up to 100 points per module for a total of 600 points. Points for each individual response activity will be listed within each module. A key part of each weekly module will be active participation in class discussion. See Appendix 1 for discussion guidelines that and the rubric that will be used to evaluate discussion participation.

--ATTENTION EDUC 372 STUDENTS--

Please select only one additional text to read as part of the inquiry chart assignment.

2. Application Project ([PBA]; must be individual and submitted to TK20) (200 course points), DUE: July 9

Students will create a composite description of a typical adolescent that may be encountered in a general education classroom to include the following components:

- 1) A description of the physical, social/emotional and cognitive/language development of the adolescent, and resources available in the home, school and community.
- 2) A description of strategies for determining adolescent motivation, prior knowledge and values and goals of the adolescent.
- 3) A description of teaching strategies for meeting the needs of the adolescent within a classroom.
- 4) A description of authentic assessment strategies that measure transfer of classroom learning to the adolescent's out-of- school learning.

All strategies will be supported by at least two research references for each set of strategies (six references total) and the textbook, in APA format.

TK20 PERFORMANCE-BASED ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION REQUIREMENT

Every student registered for any Secondary Education course with a required performance-based assessment is required to submit this assessment to Tk20 through Blackboard (regardless of whether the student is taking the course as an elective, a onetime course or as part of an undergraduate minor). Evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in Tk20 through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Tk20 (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Tk20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

- Grading

Appendix 1: Guidelines for Online Discussion

Discussion forums are a method of conducting asynchronous discussions focused on specified topics. They are an excellent method of building community, especially in an online environment. Since our class is online, it is important for us to get to know each other and feel comfortable exchanging ideas, whether they are shared by all or not. In fact, debate is encouraged as long as a respectful tone is maintained. You will be graded on your participation in the discussions. You will have some discussions with members of the entire class, but many of your discussions will be organized by groups. I have found small group discussions perpetuate deeper discussions. Your participation in the discussions will be graded. You can find the grading rubric below. Please read it so you are familiar with class expectations.

- ❖ Students are required to post to the appropriate discussion area by the dates specified on the schedule. Participation should take place throughout the week to allow the discussion to evolve as it takes place asynchronously (not at the same time). Responses should reflect your best thoughts about the readings, assignments, other students' postings, and the instructor's comments. Our goal is to create a community dialogue in our class.
- ❖ The discussion forum is a safe place to make mistakes and ask questions. Students should strive to add value to the discussion with honest and sincere postings. Here are some characteristics of good postings. Also, refer to the forum discussion rubric below.
 - Include the source of information from class readings or other resources you are using for your comment.
 - If you are responding to a posed question, please make reference to information from class readings, other students' postings, and/or personal experiences. You are encouraged to pose a question that might advance our discussion to another level. Don't be afraid to do this!
 - Elaborate and/or extend someone else's posting.
 - Provide examples to illustrate the point you are making.
 - All responses should be multimodal. That is, responses should include more than one mode/type of information. For example, in addition to writing a text response, you should insert hyperlinks, graphics, video, and/or audio to illustrate your points. For instance:
 - * If you are referencing a website, include a link.
 - * If an image/graphic relates to your point, include it in your response.
 - * If you are referring to a good example of a student work product, include a link.
 - * If you find a video or graphic that illustrates your point, include a link to it.
 - * If you find an online article that captures an important point, include the link in your post. You will be awarded exemplary points for including digital features in your discussion posts.
 - * If you think a video is a better method of sharing your responses to the discussion topic, create a video and inset the link in the forum.
- ❖ You are always welcome to agree or disagree with whatever has been said in the discussions; please remember to explain your viewpoint, support it by the text or other resources, and use a respectful tone.

Tone: Post comments using a positive or at least a neutral tone. The most basic rule of Netiquette in the Discussion Forums is: Post only comments that you would be comfortable receiving. To build a collaborative environment, an attentive, polite, and caring attitude helps to build the right tone to our communications with each other.

Form: As a courtesy to those reading your comments, proof read them before posting them. Spelling and grammar errors can obscure your meaning.

Content: Review the content of your posting before posting it. Does it address the topic under discussion? Does it add value to the discussion? Posting irrelevant material impedes the progress of mastering content in the discussion. Does it fulfill the rubric expectations?

- ❖ Content and quality of your responses should reflect the expectations outlined in the rubric posted below. Generally speaking, students must:
 - i. Display understanding of course material in relation to the discussion
 - ii. Respond to classmates' comments with thought and respectful tone
 - iii. Help generate and sustain a small group discussion online by maintaining continuous participation in the discussion during the allotted time
 - iv. Use course materials, professional experiences, and opinion to provide examples and support statements.

Criteria	Unsatisfactory	Limited	Proficient	Exemplary
Critical Analysis (Understanding of Readings and Outside References)	Discussion postings show little or no evidence that readings were completed or understood. Postings are largely personal opinions or feelings, or "I agree" or "Great idea", without supporting statements with concepts from the readings, outside resources, relevant research, or specific real-life application.	Discussion postings repeat and summarize basic, correct information, but do not link readings to outside references, relevant research or specific real-life application and do not consider alternative perspectives or connections between ideas. Sources are not cited.	Discussion postings display an understanding of the required readings and underlying concepts including correct use of terminology and proper citation.	Discussion postings display an excellent understanding of the required readings and underlying concepts including correct use of terminology. Postings integrate an outside resource, or relevant research, or specific real-life application (work experience, prior coursework, etc.) to support important points. Well-edited quotes are cited appropriately. No more than 10% of the posting is a direct quotation.

Participation in the Learning Community	Discussion postings do not contribute to ongoing conversations or respond to peers' postings. There is no evidence of replies to questions.	Discussion postings sometimes contribute to ongoing conversations as evidenced by — affirming statements or references to relevant research or, — asking related questions or, — making an oppositional statement supported by any personal experience or related research. Discussion postings actively stimulate and sustain further discussion by building on peers' responses including — building a focused argument around a specific issue or — asking a new related question or — making an oppositional statement supported by personal experience or related research.
Timeliness of Participation	Discussion postings are at midpoint or later in the module or contributions are only posted on the last day of the module.	Discussion postings respond to most postings of peers several days after the initial discussion.	Discussion postings respond to most postings of peers within a 48 hour period.	Discussion postings are distributed throughout the module as much as possible (not posted at the very end of the last day of the module).
