University Catalogue Course description - Examines theoretical foundations of bilingual and ESL education through focus on linguistics, anthropology, sociology, psychology, and education research addressing language minority students.

Course Overview
This course examines the theoretical foundations of second language acquisition through focus on linguistic, anthropological, sociological, psychological, and educational research on culturally, linguistically, and cognitively diverse students. Major theoretical approaches are introduced to SLA for doctoral students interested in conducting research in the areas of English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) and Foreign Language education (FL). The course will aim to identify some of the major issues in the field, the methods used to research them, and the main findings and theories developed to explain how languages are learned and acquired. Topics included are: literacy and bilingualism, social justice, immigrant learners, critical pedagogy, long-term ELLs, and brain-based teaching and learning.

Course Delivery Method
This course will be taught as a doctoral seminar, with student involvement and presentations constituting a major portion of the coursework. Each student is expected to fully participate in class discussions. Students are expected to have read all assignments before meeting each week and to actively participate in the discussions on the assigned readings. Each student will be assigned a week in which they will be responsible for leading the discussion. Discussion leaders are expected to present thorough and critical perspectives while engaging colleagues in an interactive activity.
Instruction includes:

- Student Presentations (student directed presentations and discussions);
- Discussions (active involvement of students in learning by asking questions that engage doctoral students in deep critical thinking and engaged verbal interaction);
- Cooperative and Collaborative learning (small group guided learning interactions emphasizing learning from and with others);
- Guest lectures;
- School/education-based research

Learner Outcomes:
This course is designed to enable students to:

1. Examine theoretical foundations of second language acquisition through teaching and learning research, practices, and realities as they relate to diverse learners.
2. Investigate relevant findings in linguistic, anthropological, sociological, psychological, and socio-cultural research and their implications for education classroom research, policy, and practice.
3. Articulate a personal definition of the emergent nature of bilingualism and biculturalism on teaching and learning in multicultural settings.
4. Examine their immediate local educational context in light of demographic pattern shifts in teaching and learning in multicultural settings as it pertains to diversity practices and policies in teacher education.
5. Explore bilingualism and biculturality and their impact on today’s multilingual/multicultural classrooms.
6. Situate current pedagogy and its efficacy on reaching all culturally, cognitively, and linguistically diverse learners.
7. Consider the implications of bilingualism/biculturalism, multilingualism, and their impact in teaching and learning.
8. Situate one’s research within the field through a survey of second language/bilingual research/theoretical perspectives.
9. Design research instruments and gather classroom or field data with consideration to the social, cultural and institutional contexts of the research project and classroom.
10. Analyze and interpret data from multiple sources and draw interpretive conclusions that may suggest future research/educational policy and/or implications for L2 pedagogy.

Professional Standards:
Not applicable.
Required Texts:

RECOMMENDED TEXTBOOKS:

Other readings to be distributed in class or can be found on electronic reserve and/or BlackBoard.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., BlackBoard, Tk20, hard copy).

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS/REQUIREMENTS:

1. Required Readings: Written reactions (4) -- To be submitted to BlackBoard
2. Lead an interactive discussion on topic of choice and provide readings for class
3. Final Project – Critical Analysis Review -- To be submitted to Blackboard

Other Requirements

Students will be expected to...

1. Attend all class sessions, arriving on time, and actively participate during large and small group discussions and activities. Three or more absences and/or tardies will result in one letter grade reduction. You are to refrain from checking email and/or texting during class.
2. Complete all assignments on time.

Course Performance Evaluation Weighting

1. Required Readings: Written reactions (4) 25 points
2. Lead an interactive discussion on topic of choice and provide readings for class 30 points
3. Final Project – Critical Analysis Review 45 points

Laptop/Cell Phone Policy
Laptop use is permitted at the discretion of the instructor and for specific purposes as assigned in the class (e.g. small group work). Laptops will be closed during discussions, lectures and other assignments in class which require your full attention. Cell phones must be turned off/silenced during class periods. Cell phones may be used during break.

- Grading
At George Mason University course work is measured in terms of quantity and quality. A credit normally represents one hour per week of lecture or recitation or not fewer than two hours per week of laboratory work throughout a semester. The number of credits is a measure of quantity. The grade is a measure of quality. The university-wide system for grading graduate courses is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>GRADING</th>
<th>Grade Points</th>
<th>Interpretation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A+</td>

Note: “C” is not satisfactory for a licensure course; “F” does not meet requirements of the Graduate School of Education

See the University Catalog for details: http://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/academic/grading/

Honor Code & Integrity of Work
Integrity of Work: TLCDEL students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code (https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/honor-code-system/). The principle of academic integrity is taken very seriously and violations are treated as such.

Violations of the Honor Code include:
1. Copying a paper or part of a paper from another student (current or past);
2. Reusing work that you have already submitted for another class (unless express permission has been granted by your current professor before you submit the work);
3. Copying the words of an author from a textbook or any printed source (including the Internet) or closely paraphrasing without providing a citation to credit the author. For examples of what should be cited, please refer to:
https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/589/02/
4. You may also not “reuse” fieldwork hours. Each placement must have 20 documented hours that are solely for each course that you are in; you may be at the same site, but the same hours may not be counted towards the same course.

Late Work Policy
At the graduate level all work is expected to be of high quality and submitted on the dates due.
Work submitted late will be reduced one letter grade for every day of delay. Because we live in uncertain times, if you have any extraordinary circumstances (think flood, earthquake, evacuation) that prevent you from submitting your work in a timely manner, it is your responsibility to contact the instructor as soon as possible after the circumstances occur and make arrangements to complete your work. It is up to the discretion of the instructor to approve the late/makeup work.

Course Withdrawal with Dean Approval
For graduate and non-degree students, withdrawal after the last day for dropping a course requires approval by the student's academic dean, and is permitted only for nonacademic reasons that prevent course completion (Mason catalog). Students must contact an academic advisor in APTDIE to withdraw after the deadline. There is no guarantee that such withdraws will be permitted.

Online Participation/Attendance Policy
Students are expected to participate in all online discussions. Not participating in an online discussion module will be reflected with a zero for the week and as an absence. Students with two or more absences will not receive credit for the course.

Incomplete (IN)
This grade may be given to students who are in good standing, but who may be unable to complete scheduled course work for a cause beyond reasonable control. The student must then complete all the requirements by the end of the ninth week of the next semester, not including summer term, and the instructor must turn in the final grade by the end of the 9th week. Unless an explicit written extension is filed with the Registrar's Office by the faculty deadline, the grade of IN is changed by the registrar to an F (Mason catalog). Faculty may grant an incomplete with a contract developed by the student with a reasonable time to complete the course at the discretion of the faculty member. The faculty member does not need to allow up to the following semester for the student to complete the course. A copy of the contract will be kept on file in the APTDIE office.

INCLIMATE WEATHER POLICY:
In case of snow, hurricanes, other bad weather, or security emergencies, call 703-993-1000 or go to www.gmu.edu for information on class cancellations and university closings. Please refer to the PowerPoint on BlackBoard Collaborate posted in Course Content.
GUIDELINES & PERFORMANCE-BASED RUBRICS

Lead Interactive Discussion on Readings

All articles must be clearly identified in APA (6th edition) style.

1. Each student will sign up to lead the in-class discussion on one set of readings listed in the course syllabus. You must further research the topic and locate no fewer than 2 research articles, book chapters, or monographs, etc. on the topic. These must be distributed to the class and professor no later than one week prior to your presentation. This may be done in hard copy, electronic link, or placed on e-reserve through the GMU libraries. For your presentation you are encouraged to use visual aids, such PowerPoint, video, slides, or photos. Be sure to prepare a handout as a reference or guide. Make one copy for each member of the class and professor. You will lead the discussion by preparing an interactive activity to illustrate some of the concepts. You must include the purpose of the study and the nature of the research questions or hypotheses. Outline the method used so as to determine if the study was qualitative or quantitative in design. Also, as applicable, attend to how each variable was measured. Finally, describe the results of the study and conclusions drawn by the researcher(s).

2. It is expected that students will have read the articles and grappled with the concepts before each presentation. Your handout may include additional resources (“must reads”) or a summary of the most salient features.

Final Project – Critical Analysis Review

Students are to write a 1-2 page rationale on the selection of your topic. Reflect on why this topic is relevant and in what way it will support the existing corpus of literature and/or your own current educational circumstance. Due: October 23rd

The final project will be a synthesis on a chosen topic that may be considered a precursor to your dissertation research or review of literature. You should review and critique no fewer than four studies that highlight this area of the field. You should also include your ideas about the future directions of research on the topic.

Annotated Bibliography: Submit a list of the articles you’ve found in journals or book chapters on the chosen topic with a one-paragraph justification of why you chose the articles. Due: November 27th

Your final project may take the form of:
1. An article being prepared for publication
2. An action research study
3. The beginning of a literature review for the dissertation
4. A presentation prepared for a state, regional, or national conference
5. A critical analysis of a particular topic with a dialogic perspective
6. Other options

REATIONS TO READINGS FOR EDUC 882

You will write a total of four short papers in reaction to the weekly readings. You will select the four topics on which you will write. These will be uploaded to Bb (no required page length). Making notes will greatly contribute to your level of knowledge in class discussions. The reading reactions’ paper is due the week after the readings and topic have been presented in class. In preparing the readings for each week, you should attend to the following guidelines:

As you read the required articles and those recommended by your colleagues consider the following:

- What are the implications for bilingualism/biculturalism, multiculturalism, multilingualism and their impact in teaching and learning?
- How can you situate your own research interest(s)?
- In what way(s) does this research suggest future policy and/or implications for L2 pedagogy?

Additional questions you may wish to consider:

How do you connect with this article?
What theories are involved?
What constitutes the concepts?
What paradigm does this come from?
What are the assumptions working in this paradigm?
How is new knowledge constructed here?
What theoretical framework does this come from?
