UNIVERSITY CATALOG COURSE DESCRIPTION

Develops skills, insights, and understanding to perform research, with emphasis on interpreting and applying research results. Critiques research and uses findings in educational settings.

COURSE OVERVIEW

This introductory research course examines connections among theoretical frameworks, research questions, methods of data collection, analysis and reporting. The purpose of this course is to introduce an understanding of quantitative, qualitative and mixed methods inquiry. This will involve reading about research. Students will be introduced to the basics of research design, including identifying a problem, conducting a brief literature search, describing data collection and analysis, writing, and ethics. A general intent of the course is to help learners to become better consumers of research, and to understand the ways educational research relates to instructional practice and school improvement.

COURSE DELIVERY METHOD:

This course will be delivered using a lectures, discussions, and small and large group activities format. This course is structured around readings, reflections on readings, class projects, technology activities, and writing assignments. The instructor will use Blackboard and other web tools to facilitate in class activities.

For those in the Educational Psychology master's program, please review the student Handbook: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/documents/epsychology/edpsych-handbook.pdf>.

LEARNER OUTCOMES:

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

- Gain critical perspectives in order to understand the validity of education research;
- Use appropriate reference sources to locate publications relevant to a topic of their choice;
- Understand measures of central tendency and dispersion and their application to important education outcomes;
- Develop an informed perspective on issues in education that is grounded in contemporary research;
- Understand how teachers or administrators can use research to enhance instruction and inform practice;
- Use various social science perspectives as the foundation for advocacy and change; and
- Be able to apply technology to the task of conducting education research.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS:

Across the many courses in Educational Psychology, a number of standards are addressed. These standards are noted below. Those emphasized most strongly in this course are in bold text.

1. Candidates will demonstrate an understanding of principles and theories of learning, cognition, motivation, and development as they apply to a wide variety of contemporary learning contexts.
2. Candidates will use their knowledge, skills, and dispositions to apply principles and theories of learning, cognition, motivation and development to analyze and develop instruction in applied settings.
3. Candidates will demonstrate an understanding of the basic concepts, principles, techniques, approaches, and ethical issues involved in educational research.
4. Candidates will use their knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research methodology to critically read and evaluate quantitative and qualitative research articles.
5. Candidates will use their knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research methodology to develop a research proposal and conduct research.
6. Candidates will demonstrate critical thinking, oral presentation, technological, and writing skills as they are used in the profession.

These include:

- Knowledge and use of APA style
- Oral presentations
- Article abstracts
- Research Proposals
- Literature reviews
- Technological skills (including library/reference skills, interactive displays skills, data analysis skills)

REQUIRED TEXT

McMillan, J.H. (2016). Fundamentals of educational research (7th ed.). Boston, MA: Pearson Education.

There is a class Blackboard site that contains course documents and relevant links. Students are required to download pertinent documents for class.

STRONGLY RECOMMENDED TEXT

American Psychological Association (2009). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Washington, DC.

COURSE PERFORMANCE EVALUATION

It is expected that each of you will submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g. Blackboard, hard copy). In addition, students should:

- Read all assigned materials for the course.
- Attend each class session and participate in classroom activities that reflect critical reading of materials.
- Complete class assignments and exam as outlined below. *
- Complete in-class assignments and activities.
- Critique and/or discuss assigned readings in class
- Complete the online Mandatory Training for Persons Conducting Research with Human Subjects. *
- Remember when using cell phones, laptops, etc., be respectful and do not engage in activities that are unrelated to class. Such disruptions will affect your participation grade.

*Late assignments must be discussed with the instructor. As a general rule, late assignments will not be accepted. If you believe you have EXCEPTIONAL circumstances and wish to negotiate to have extra time to complete coursework, you must discuss this with me before the day the assignment is due. (Negotiating means you will be sacrificing a portion, perhaps substantial, of your grade for extra time). If an emergency occurs, please notify the instructor as soon as possible.

ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMINATION:

HSRB CITI Training Module Completion (10%) Mason requires a Mandatory Training for Persons Conducting Research Using Human Subjects. Seven learner modules in the Basic Course are required prior to applying to conduct any research at Mason using human subjects. For this course, you will be required to complete the BASIC Course.

- This online training module can be accessed at <http://www.citiprogram.org>. (You must complete the required basic course before the optional modules are available).
- Specific directions for how to log on can be found at the GMU Office of Research Subject Protection website: <http://oria.gmu.edu/research-with-humans-or-animals/institutional-review-board/human-subjects-training/>
- You will turn in a hard copy of your completed training certificate (this will be returned for your records).

Mason also requires that all researchers (including student researchers) submit a research application to the office of Human Subject Protections PRIOR to conducting research. For this course, you should review the application form for class discussion.

Application forms and guidelines can be found at the Mason Office of Research Subject Protection website: <http://oria.gmu.edu/research-with-humans-or-animals/institutional-review-board/human-subjects-policies-procedures-forms-and-instructions/>

Critique of Two Empirical Research Articles (20%): Students will write a critique of one quantitative intervention study and one qualitative study (10% each) obtained from a peer-reviewed journal. The critiques should include the following parts: purpose, methods, results, and critical comments as well as your reflections about the article (see Blackboard site for specific instructions). *The quantitative article critique is a Performance-Based Assessment. See end of syllabus for rubric.

Research Proposal (paper) (40%) Students will write a research proposal (introduction, literature review, and methods sections). This proposal should build on existing research and may replicate and/or extend previous research studies. The proposal will contain relevant sections specific to the research design (see sample paper on Blackboard as well as pp 41-59 of the APA manual). Be sure to refer to the APA manual as well as similar work in your field to help you determine what is critical to include in your own proposal. Turn in a hard copy and place an electronic version on the relevant assignment box Blackboard site.

- There are checkpoints along the way where drafts may be submitted for feedback - dates are noted as CP on the tentative schedule).

Proposal requirements (Organizational headings may vary depending on your research design and the specifics of your individual study):

1. Introduction and Literature review
 - a. Brief introduction to the topic and literature review. (If you are replicating and extending a previous study, you should be sure to describe the original work).

- b. Statement of purpose and research questions.
2. Method
 - a. Research Design
 - b. Participants
 - c. Measures
 - d. Intervention (when applicable, should include control/alternate treatment)
 - e. Procedures (when applicable, should include study procedures, data collection procedures, scoring procedures, fidelity of treatment procedures)
 - f. Ethical considerations
 - g. Proposed Preliminary Data Analysis
 3. References

Exam (20%): One exam will cover the material from the class and textbook and include multiple choice as well as short answer questions.

In Class Assignments, Participation, and Attendance Policy (10%): Students will be asked to work individually or in groups of 2-3 students in class assignments throughout the semester.

Because of the importance of lecture and discussion to your total learning experience, I wish to encourage you to both attend and participate in class regularly. Attendance, punctuality, preparation, and active contribution to small and large group efforts are essential. These elements of your behavior will reflect the professional attitude implied in the course goals and will account for 10% of your course grade. Students who must miss a class must notify the instructor (preferably in advance) and are responsible for completing all assignments and readings for the next class.

Other requirements:

Format for written work -

- 1-inch margins on all sides, 12-point Times New Roman font.
- Include the following information on all assignments: title, name, date, professor, course number.
- Fully proofread for spelling, grammar, and clarity errors
- Citations and references in APA format.

Reminder: late assignments must be discussed with the instructor. As a general rule, late assignments will not be accepted. If you believe you have EXCEPTIONAL circumstances and wish to negotiate to have extra time to complete coursework, you must discuss this with me before the day the assignment is due. (Negotiating means you will be sacrificing a portion,* perhaps substantial, of your grade for extra time). If an emergency occurs, please notify the instructor as soon as possible.

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.

GMU POLICIES AND RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

Policies

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the Mason Honor Code (see <https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/honor-code-system/>).
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (see <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/>).
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their Mason email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services. Approved accommodations will begin at the time the written letter from Disability Services is received by the instructor (see <https://ds.gmu.edu/>).
- Students must silence all sound emitting devices during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.

Campus Resources

- Support for submission of assignments to Tk20 should be directed to tk20help@gmu.edu or <https://cehd.gmu.edu/aero/tk20>. Questions or concerns regarding use of Blackboard should be directed to <http://coursessupport.gmu.edu/>.

- For information on student support resources on campus, see <https://ctfe.gmu.edu/teaching/student-support-resources-on-campus>
