• Assignments and Examinations

Language Delays and Suggested Interventions Pamphlet and Presentation (10 points)
Students will work with a partner to create a pamphlet about the language development of children with a specific delay, disorder, or medical condition. The pamphlet will include a brief description of the medical condition or disability, background information and research, possible effects on language and literacy development, suggested interventions promoting language and literacy development, issues and controversies, and professional and support organizations. Students will present the pamphlet in class and post the pamphlet on Blackboard.

Students will cite current research from the course textbook, class discussions and handouts, and/or other relevant sources to support their conclusions and assertions. Students will use in-text citations and include a reference list using APA format.

Children’s Literature Resource List and Book Talk (20 points)

Students will identify at least five children’s books that are culturally, linguistically, and developmentally appropriate for diverse infants and toddlers and their families, with at least one book in a language other than English. The assignment will include the following information:

- Complete an accurate bibliographic information to include title, author, illustrator, copyright date, city of publication, and publisher.
- Clear and concise descriptions of high-quality books that include sufficient detail for readers to gain a clear understanding of (a) the content of the book (such as genre, repetitive phrases, rhyme, etc.), (b) evidence of diversity, (c) evidence of promoting social emotional relationships, and (d) current issues relevant to infants and toddlers.
- Culturally and developmentally appropriate examples of activities related to the book that families and teachers may do with children (at least two activities per book) and the rationale for choosing the activities.
- Discussion about the representation of diversity as appropriate.

Students will bring these books and the accompanying activities to class to share with classmates. In small groups, students will share their books, emphasizing an overview of the books, ways the books can be shared and enjoyed with infants and toddlers, and ideas for follow-up activities related to the books.

Language Analysis Project (55 points)

Students will select an infant or toddler with exceptional language learning needs and/or is a dual or multi language learner. They will collect and analyze information about the child’s background and language, literacy, and communication development. They will use this information to recommend appropriate interventions and educational apps to support the child’s language, literacy, and communication development.

Part 1: Description of the Child (15 points)

Students will write a description of the focus child that includes pertinent background information (e.g., age, gender, family members, linguistic and cultural background, nature of the exceptional language learning and/or dual language needs, etc.). Students will write a description of the child’s language, literacy, and communication development and explain how they assessed the child, including:

- What approaches to assessment were used (e.g., observations, play-based assessment, assessment during instructional interactions, etc.)?
- What information was gathered from others and from whom was it gathered (e.g., parent, caregiver, teacher, etc.)?
- Describe and analyze the child’s language, literacy, and communication development.
Describe the impact of the interaction of culture and home language on the child’s language development and communication.

Discuss the ways in which exceptional and/or dual language needs interact with the child’s use of language, literacy, and communication.

Students will cite current research from the course textbooks, class discussions and handouts, and/or other relevant sources to support their conclusions and assertions. Students will use in-text citations and include a reference list using APA format.

Part 2: Educational Interventions (20 points)
Based on the language, literacy, and communication analysis, students will identify and describe three educational interventions and two appropriate educational app (free or limited free trials) that support the child’s language, literacy, and communication development.

Students will cite current research from the course textbooks, class discussions and handouts, and/or other relevant sources to support their conclusions and assertions. Students will use in-text citations and include a reference list using APA format.

Part 3: Progress Monitoring System (10 points)
Students will identify and provide at least two different progress monitoring systems that can be used to monitor the child’s language development. Students will include a description of the progress monitoring system(s) and the rationale for using it with the child and family.

Students will cite current research from the course textbooks, class discussions and handouts, and/or other relevant sources to support their conclusions and assertions. Students will use in-text citations and include a reference list using APA format.

Part 4: Class Presentation (10 points)
Students will present a brief overview of what they learned about their focus child and will share their recommendations from Parts 2 and 3.

Other Requirements

Attendance and Participation (15 points)
Because active participation and engagement are imperative for optimal learning, preparation for and participation in in-class and online activities will be evaluated based on the following criteria:

- Students attend class, arrive on time, and stay for the entire class period.
- Students use laptops and personal devices for instructional purposes only.
- Students complete readings and prepare for class activities prior to class as evidenced by their ability to discuss and write about the concepts presented and examined in the texts as well as participate fully in related activities.

Students in attendance and who actively engage in the learning experience will receive credit for their efforts. Graded participation activities are not announced and are implemented at the discretion of the instructor.

Written Assignments
All formal written assignments will be evaluated for content and presentation. The American Psychological Association, Sixth Edition (APA) style will be followed for all written work. All written work unless otherwise noted must be completed on a word processor and should be proofread carefully. (Use spell check!) If students are not confident of their own ability to catch errors, they should have another person proofread their work. When in doubt, they should check the APA manual. Portions of the APA manual appear at the Style Manuals link on the Mason library website at http://infoguides.gmu.edu/content.php?pid=39979. Students may consult the Writing Center for additional writing support.

Students will do the following:
1. Present ideas in a clear, concise, and organized manner. (Avoid wordiness and redundancy.)
2. Develop points coherently, definitively, and thoroughly.
3. Refer to appropriate authorities, studies, and examples to document where appropriate. (Avoid meaningless generalizations, unwarranted assumptions, and unsupported opinions.)
4. Use correct capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.
5. Type the paper with double spacing, indented paragraphs, 1-inch margins all around, and 12-point Times New Roman font.

Grading Policies
A = 95-100    A- = 90-94    B+ = 87-89    B = 80-86    C = 70-79    F = < 70
Incomplete (IN): This grade may be given to students who are passing a course but who may be unable to complete scheduled coursework for a cause beyond reasonable control.

All CEHD undergraduate and graduate students are held to the university grading policies as described in the Academic Policies section of the current catalog, which can be accessed at http://catalog.gmu.edu. Those students enrolled in a CEHD Licensure Graduate Certificate program, however, must earn a B- or better in all licensure coursework. A degree-seeking graduate student will be dismissed after accumulating grades of F in two courses or 9 credits of unsatisfactory grades (C or F) in graduate courses. A 3.0 grade point average is required for completion of the graduate degree.

Professional Dispositions
Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. See
