Course Description

Examines current and emerging issues and trends impacting education to include: demographic shifts; globalization; technology; data-based decision-making; inclusion of diverse learners in American schools; and recent research on student achievement when influenced by race, gender, and poverty.

Course Overview

This course is intended as one of two culminating courses in the Masters in Education Leadership Program. Course content focuses on key contemporary issues in public education, which hold important implications for education leadership, policy, and practice in the 21st century. At the conclusion of the course, students will be expected to demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and dispositions needed to increase their effectiveness in working with multiple school and community stakeholders in increasingly diverse and complex education contexts.

Course Delivery Method

A variety of instructional methods will be used in this face-to face and online (hybrid) course to deepen student's understanding of the course content and create a dynamic, interactive learning community in a seminar format. The instructional methods will include cooperative learning structures, small and large group discussion, group presentations, print and electronic media, guest lecturers, online submissions, and individual research.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

- a. Technical Requirements
- b. Expectations

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to:

1. Analyze contemporary issues and major trends in education and their implications for

- society at large and schools, communities and school districts in particular;
2. Define characteristics and skills of future-focused leaders and learn strategies to address the implications for leadership in education systems and individual schools.
  3. Evaluate how student diversity can help teachers and administrators develop curriculum that includes global literacy with a significant effect on economic, cultural, and political matters, with particular attention on how culture influences learning;
  4. Synthesize recent research relative to student achievement in diverse school settings, with particular attention to the relationships between student achievement, gender, race, poverty, and ability;
  5. Identify various strategies to maximize the effective use of data to improve student achievement and effective ways to communicate results to various community stakeholders and groups;
  6. Defend educational decisions using data rather than personal opinion.
  7. Describe rights, regulations, philosophies, and methods used in educating diverse groups such as Limited English Proficient and Students with Disabilities.
  8. Utilize various data sources to predict future issues/trends in education and to improve student achievement.
  9. Work independently and interdependently to successfully accomplish group projects.
  10. Listen to multiple perspectives, consider suggestions, seek common ground, and maintain objectivity.

Professional Standards

This course is intended as one of two culminating courses in the Masters in Education Leadership Program. Course content focuses on key contemporary issues in public education, both current and emerging. At the conclusion of the course, participants are expected to demonstrate knowledge and skills that increase their effectiveness when working in diverse school settings; an expected hallmark of education in the 21st century.

In relationship to professional organization competencies, participants in this course will demonstrate proficiency in appropriate VA DOE competencies and Professional Standards for Educational Leaders. VA DOE: 1-d, 1-e, 2-c, 2-d, 3-g, 4-a, 5-c, 6-e, 6-f. ISLLC: 1-K1, 1-K4, 1-K5, 2-K7, 2-K10, 2-P5, 2-P6, 2-P9, 2-P16, 2-P18, 3-K8, 3-P3, 3-P16, 3-P17, 4-K1, 4-K2, 4-P11, 5-K3, 5-P12, 6-K6, 6-K8, 6-P2, 6-P4, 6-P5. With regard to NCATE Curriculum Guidelines, candidates in this course will demonstrate an understanding of, and capabilities in, all four areas of education leadership; strategic leadership (1.3, 1.6, 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, and 2.4); instructional leadership (3.3, 3.4); and organizational leadership (7.2, 7.4, and 9.3).

Required Texts

*Marx, G. (2014). 21 Trends for the 21st Century: Out of the Trenches and into the Future. Bethesda, MD: Education Week Press.

Marx, G. (2015). A Guide to Twenty-One Trends for the 21st Century: Out of the Trenches and into the Future. Bethesda, MD: Education Week Press.

Koonce, G. (2017). Taking Sides: Clashing Views on Educational Issues (19th ed.). New York, NY: McGraw Hill.

*The large Marx text contains more detailed information that will be helpful in preparing for group assignments and presentations; however, if students are unable to purchase both, the large text and the Guide, it may be shared by those who are able to purchase it.

Required Resources Due to the nature of this course, the online publications listed below will be used to provide students with the most current issues and best practices and information in the field. Students are required to sign up for the publication prior to the start of the course. The instructor will provide registration and access information. The publications will be used as a regular part of every class.

Students will sign up to receive these online newsletters which provide a daily (ASCD), current snapshot of the education community with news from Education Week, The Washington Post and other leading sources written by experts in summary form. Each class will start with a brief report out on a current trend or issue from this resource.

Blackboard Site- Research articles, briefs and reports will be posted to the Blackboard site related to discussion topics for specific class sessions. Students will be required to check the site daily for articles posted and be prepared for class discussions on the topic.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, hard copy).

Assignments and/or Examinations

Below is a list and a brief summary of the required assignments in this course. Please refer to the assignment rubrics at the end of the syllabus for more detailed information on exactly what is expected for each assignment.

1. Class Discussion and Participation (25 points)

Students are expected to participate in class by completing readings prior to class discussions and making thoughtful and informed contributions to the discourse. As such, weekly readings should be completed prior to the class meeting for which they are assigned. Students are also encouraged to share relevant materials and resources to stimulate discussion, learning, and improved practice in the field, while fostering an environment that welcomes diverse and critical perspectives, given the aims of this course. If an unforeseen circumstance arises that keeps an individual from attending class prepared and on time, that student is responsible for notifying the professor prior to the scheduled class time. Only those students who attend class regularly, arrive on time, and are actively informed and engaged in the coursework will be eligible for maximum participation points.

ASCD and Special Education SmartBrief issues will be discussed during each class session.

2. Group Presentation: Trends for the 21st Century (30 points)

Collaboration is a key skill for 21st century leaders and learners. This assignment allows future leaders to share their knowledge of 21st century trends that are likely to have a significant impact on our students, schools, districts, communities and our future. Based on Marx's work, these trends are grouped into 8 "spheres". Students will be assigned to groups and selected spheres, inclusive of several trends. Using the assigned text (Marx), students will research two "spheres" and demonstrate their collective knowledge on related research, perspectives, issues, and insights to the class. The focus of the one-hour presentation will be on the implications for education and particularly the role of the educational leader in addressing the issues. Students will synthesize the implications for the educational leader into a one-page executive summary document that will also be distributed to the class. Through this collaborative learning activity, students will connect the learning to current and future practice, with a focus on the role of the educational leader, including challenges and opportunities. Students are encouraged to use other 21st century skills, such as critical thinking, creativity, and effective communication to convey the essential knowledge and implications. A rubric is provided as an assessment for this assignment.

3. Issue Brief (20 points) DUE DATE: October 3, 2019

Students will select a contemporary issue in education that is of great interest to them and holds important implications for the study and practice of education leadership. Once selected, the student will write an issue brief (4 to 5 pages) that: (a) clearly describes the underlying assumptions and arguments informing multiple perspectives on the issue; (b) integrates current research/policy literature and popular media coverage of the issue; (c) analyzes competing perspectives on the prevailing issue and their implications for education leaders, and (d) presents at least three recommendations for policy and/or leadership practice as possible solutions.

4. Small Group Project/Presentation on Current Issue (25 points) Due Date: November 21st (Groups 3 and 4) or December 5th (Groups 1 and 2)

Students will work in groups of 4 or 5, with defined roles and prepare a 40-minute interactive presentation (which includes a Q & A) with visuals/PPT, on a selected topic, which is to be defined/described and include relevant related research. The group will discuss the topic's implications and potential impact on education. Multiple perspectives from key stakeholders should be presented. See list of possible topics.

Possible Topics for Issue Brief Paper/Small Group Presentations:

Bullying, discipline, technology, personnel shortages/recruitment/retention, professional learning, professional standards, personalized learning, performance-based assessment, common core, response to intervention/multi-tiered systems of support, funding, school turn around, charter schools, graduation rates, gender equity, inclusive practices, employee compensation, teacher leadership, blended learning, parent/community involvement, etc. Contact the instructor if you would like to explore a topic that is not listed.

Assignment Expectations and Possible Points:

All papers must be typed (12 pt. font, 1-inch margins, double-spaced in APA format – 6th edition) and submitted electronically to the instructor. It is expected that student work will be submitted on time (before 11:59 p.m. on the due date). If you miss class the day an assignment is due, it is your responsibility to ensure the assignment is turned in before the deadline to avoid a failing grade. If you anticipate needing an extension (except, of course, in the case of a true emergency), please make arrangements prior the deadline. Designate one person in each group to submit the group presentation ensuring that each group member's name is included on the presentation document.

Class Discussion and Participation	25 points
Education Issue Brief	20 points
21st Century Trends: Group Presentations	30 points
Small Group Project/Current Issue Presentation	25 points

Grading

The grading scale for the final course grade is as follows:

A+	=	100 points
A	=	95-99 points
A-	=	90-94 points
B+	=	87-89 points
B	=	83-86 points
B-	=	80-82 points
C	=	75-79 points
F	=	below 75 points

Professional Dispositions

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

See <https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>

Proposed Class Schedule: The schedule is tentative and subject to change by the instructor.
