Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, hard copy).

1. Assignments and/or Examinations

A. Participation: (10%). Participation is a critical aspect of this course. Attending class and engaging with peers is expected. Displaying professionalism in this course is essential to the teaching-learning process. Professional dispositions are addressed in SEED and it is expected that students adhere to the primary dispositions: Professionalism, Respect, Participation, Responsibility and Reflectiveness, Interpersonal skills, Feedback, and Social and Cultural Diversity (see further explanation in Blackboard). Participation will be evaluated with the following rubric:

Criteria for Evaluation	Meets Expectations	Approaching Expectations	Below Expectations	Does not meet Expectations
Preparedness	Consistently well-prepared for class; completed all in-class reflections; regularly asked questions or made observations and analysis appropriate to the topic. Actively participated in all in-class small group activities and class discussions. Missed no more than 1 face-to-face class, and arrived on-time (9-10 points).	Usually prepared for class; occasionally asked questions or made observations and analysis appropriate to the topic. Actively participated in most small group activities and class discussions. Missed no more than 2 face-to-face classes and/or usually on-time (8 points).	Sometimes prepared for class; rarely asked questions or made observations that indicated familiarity with the topic. Rarely actively participated in small group activities and class discussions. Missed no more than 3 face-to-face classes (7 points)	Consistently not prepared for class; never asked questions or made observations that indicated familiarity with the topic. Never actively participated in small group activities and class discussions. Missed greater than 3 classes and/or was consistently late or departed early. (0 points)

B. Online Investigations (15%): Throughout the semester, you will have online assignments that involve an array of activities, mostly including recording your thoughts, reactions, opinions, connections, and questions, related to assigned readings and videos. These activities are designed to encourage you to think deeply about the materials and course concepts. All instructions and due dates for these assignments will be posted to Blackboard. It is essential that students complete the modules on time and read all the assigned material since this content will not be repeated in class. Late work not accepted.

There are 5 online assignments (as noted in the course schedule). Assignments for fully online weeks are worth 30 points (5 assignments x 30 points each = 150 points).

C. Professional Learning Community (PLC) Presentation (15%): You will collaborate with a group of peers to critically analyze a professional text. You will meet 3 times with your group. Two times during class and one outside of class (this can be a virtual meeting) to discuss the text. Your group will then create a 12-15 minute interactive presentation addressing the following questions:

What is the author's purpose in writing the book?

What are the key ideas? Are the major points covered effectively?

How do the author's ideas connect to your understanding of adolescent literacy?

How does the author connect to your understanding of disciplinary literacy in your content area?

How can this book inform your future teaching?

D. Strategy Lesson Plan/In-Class Teaching Assignment: (20%) You will develop and teach a lesson to your peers based on the Virginia Standards of Learning from your discipline. The lesson will incorporate literacy strategies and be no longer than 30 minutes. More information (lesson plan template, guidelines, rubrics, etc.) will be available in class and on Blackboard. The 4 steps to completion are as follows:

Step 1. Write a lesson plan that uses literacy strategies to guide students throughout the lesson.

Step 2. Teach the lesson to a small group of peers in class and record it using GoReact.

Step 3. Respond to your peers by providing feedback on your group members' lessons in GoReact. Specifically, each group member will be using the reflection questions from Step 4 (see below) to guide comments on your lesson.

Step 4. Reflect thoughtfully on your lesson and evaluate how well the lesson helped guide learners in meaning-making. You will use the comments from your peers (in GoReact), along with your own thoughts to write a 3-4-page reflection. Following is your guide: (rubric available on Blackboard).

Introduction: Briefly discuss the development and execution of the lesson. Was this lesson written/executed in a way that helped students meet the established goals? Why or why not?

Discussion: Consider the effectiveness of each segment of the lesson:

- a. Did the before reading activities prepare students to read and make meaning from the text? Why or why not?
- b. How did the during reading activities help students make meaning from the text?
- c. How did the activities that occurred after reading help students make meaning from the text? How did the assessment help you know what they had learned?

Conclusion: Explain your new understanding about guiding students' learning with literacy strategies. What did you learn from this experience? How will you integrate this into your future teaching?

E. Disciplinary Literacy Inquiry Project (20%). You will complete an inquiry on methods of supporting students' comprehension in your content area. Using resources from class, and an additional 6 peer-reviewed articles, you will develop your understanding of how to guide and deepen students' comprehension. There will be an article matrix provided with article choices, or you may locate your own. At least 1 article must address ELLs.

Use the following questions to guide your inquiry:

1. Why is it important to be literate in your content area? What are the specific skills, knowledge, and dispositions of your discipline? How does this connect to the the real life literacy needs of adolescents?
2. What are the specific literacy challenges your content area presents? Why might students struggle with these aspects of literacy (reading, writing, speaking, and listening)? Particularly, how might it impact ELLs?
3. What methods and/or instructional strategies can support students' literacy development in your content area? How do these methods and/or instructional strategies support student learning? What do you need to think about when designing lessons?

This project has 2 components:

1. Annotated Bib: Write your annotated bibliography according to the following guidelines.
  - a. Provide correct APA (6th ed.) reference information for each article.
  - b. Write annotations for each article that include:
    - i. a brief summary of the article that states its central focus and/or topic, and describes the authors' ideas.
    - ii. an analysis of its contribution to the conversation—how does it fit into the larger context of the discussion about your topic?
    - iii. An evaluation of the utility of the ideas presented.
2. Poster Presentation: Create a poster summarizing your inquiry to share with your peers. You should incorporate your thinking about the guiding questions. The poster should be a compilation of brief text mixed with tables, pictures, graphs, and/or other formats. You must include at least 3 QR Codes. Posters will be shared in a gallery walk on the final night of class.

F. Field Experience (20%)

Directions: Candidates MUST complete the Online Field Experience Registration NO LATER than the first week of classes. This course requires a total of 15 hours of Field Experience. Signed log of hours for indicating successful completion of the time requirement must be submitted via blackboard in order to receive credit for the field experience. (Log sheet will be posted on Blackboard).

There are two components required for completion of the Field Experience assignment.

Part 1: (5%) Observation analysis: During your field experience you will spend time observing the teacher's instruction. As you watch and participate in the classroom, note the particular ways the teacher(s) integrates literacy into daily instructional routines. Consider how concepts and ideas explored in class and readings connect to your experience in the classroom. You will choose 2 specific moments to analyze and develop a one-page analysis of each moment. One page should include (a) a brief introduction to the moment, including background and context of class and (b) an analysis of how the observation ties into course concepts and impacts your thinking about supporting students' comprehension.

Part 2 (15%)- Lesson implementation and reflection (observed or co-taught):

Students are asked to teach, record, and reflect on a lesson taught in a classroom during the field experience. For students who are taking their Methods II course at the same time as this course, this assignment should connect to the Methods II Clinical Field Experience Project. Please see the instructor for more details if you are not concurrently enrolled in the Methods II block.

Directions: Students will teach or co-teach (depending on each individual's situation) one lesson during the field experience which incorporates the use of literacy strategies. This lesson should engage students in reading and/or writing for comprehension. Examples will be discussed in class. Student should discuss this with the classroom teacher during the first meeting.

1. Develop, teach and video record a lesson that incorporates an instructional strategy from the course and implement it with a small group or whole class.
2. Get feedback from the classroom teacher.
3. Collect student sample(s) [if able] and bring to campus to share with the class.
4. Upload the lesson and lesson plan to GoReact.
5. Select a 5-10-minute portion of your video that you would like to share with your classmates. The selected portion should represent something that you want to analyze. Mark that portion of your lesson in GoReact by using the annotation feature that allows you to add a question, comment or suggestion and provide a brief explanation for why you elected this segment of instruction.
6. Watch the selected portion of the lesson .
7. Write an individual reflection that considers the discussion that took place with your mentor teacher, peer comments, and discussion with your classmates.

Specific guidelines will be provided in class.

Other Requirements

Regular class attendance and viewing/completion of the online materials is expected and critical. Class time will provide opportunities to ask questions, hear others' ideas, and deepen your understanding of the material. Thorough preparation is important each week because class activities are designed to extend, critique, and synthesize the readings. In class activities will build upon readings and other content provided on Blackboard.

*The instructor reserves the right to adjust the syllabus and assignments as deemed necessary***
