GMU Course Description

Examines the nature and causes of disabling or special health conditions. Covers screening and evaluation techniques, characteristics, and educational implications.

Advising Contact Information

Please make sure that you are being advised on a regular basis as to your status and progress in your program. Students in Special Education and Assistive Technology programs can contact the Special Education Advising Office at 703-993-3670 or speced@gmu.edu for assistance. All other students should refer to their assigned program advisor or the Mason Care Network (703-993-2470).

Course Delivery Method

Learning activities include the following:

1. Class lecture and discussion
2. Application activities
3. Small group activities and assignments
4. Video and other media supports
5. Research and presentation activities
6. Electronic supplements and activities via Blackboard

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via the Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on Monday June 1.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers see: Browser support \(https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#supported-browsers\)

To get a list of supported operation systems on different devices see: Tested devices and operating systems \(https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems\)

- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their university email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader \(https://get.adobe.com/reader/\)

- Windows Media Player (<https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>)
- Apple Quick Time Player (www.apple.com/quicktime/download/)

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Monday, and finish on Sunday.
- Log-in Frequency:
Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 3 times per week.
- Participation:
Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence:
Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues:
Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload:
Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Instructor Support:
Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette:
The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.

- Accommodations:
Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with their university's Office of Disability Services.

Learner Outcomes

The following Virginia Department of Education competencies will be addressed by this course as they relate to students with severe disabilities (Special Education Adapted Curriculum K-12):

1. Human growth and development (birth through adolescence). Skills in this area shall contribute to an understanding of the physical, social, emotional, speech and language, and intellectual development of children and the ability to use this understanding in guiding learning experiences. The interaction of children with individual differences -- economic, social, racial, ethnic, religious, physical, and mental -- should be incorporated to include skills contributing to an understanding of developmental disabilities and developmental issues related to but not limited to attention deficit disorders, substance abuse, child abuse, and family disruptions.
2. An understanding and application of service delivery, curriculum, and instruction of students with disabilities including: -Use of technology to promote student learning; and - Structure and organization of general education classrooms and other instructional settings, representing the continuum of special education services.
3. Knowledge and understanding of the characteristics, learning and support needs of K-12 students with disabilities whose cognitive impairments or adapted skills require adaptations to the general curriculum. This includes intellectual disabilities, developmental delay, autism, multiple disabilities, traumatic brain injury and the emotional, social, neurobiological, linguistic, medical, and educational aspects of severe disabilities based upon current research, best practice and legal considerations;
4. Child abuse recognition and prevention, and issues and strategies unique to working with students with disabilities.

Professional Standards

(Council for Exceptional Children (CEC), Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC). Upon completion of this course, students will have met the following professional standards: CEC Standard 1: Learner Development and Individual Learning Differences (nTASC 1,2); CEC Standard 3: Curricular Content Knowledge (InTASC 4,5) & CEC Standard 6: Professional Learning and Ethical Practice (InTASC 9).

Required Textbooks

Agran, M., Brown, F., Hughes, C., Quirk, C. & Ryndak, D. (2014). Equity & full participation for individuals with severe disabilities: A vision for the future. Paul H. Brookes.

Recommended Textbooks

American Psychological Association. (2020). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.).

Additional Readings

Additional readings will be posted within the modules on Blackboard.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Tk20, hard copy).

Tk20 Performance-Based Assessment Submission Requirement

It is critical for the special education program to collect data on how our students are meeting accreditation standards. Every teacher candidate/student registered for an EDSE course with a required Performance-based Assessment (PBA) is required to upload the PBA to Tk20 (regardless of whether a course is an elective, a one-time course or part of an undergraduate minor). A PBA is a specific assignment, presentation, or project that best demonstrates one or more CEC, InTASC or other standard connected to the course. A PBA is evaluated in two ways. The first is for a grade, based on the instructor's grading rubric. The second is for program accreditation purposes. Your instructor will provide directions as to how to upload the PBA to Tk20.

For EDSE 547, the required PBA is Disability Case Study. Please check to verify your ability to upload items to Tk20 before the PBA due date.

Assignments and/or Examinations

Performance-based Assessment (Tk20 submission required)

The performance-based assessment for this course is the Disability Case Study. Please see the Course Assignments section for assignment description.

Students must also submit the Child Abuse and Neglect Module to Blackboard. Please see the Course Assignments section for assignment description.

College Wide Common Assessment (TK20 submission required)

Course Policies and Expectations

Attendance/Participation. Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions. Grading for work completed in Course Learning Modules is specifically outlined in Course Learning Modules within the Other Assignments section of the syllabus. Please note that while only certain learning elements are assessed through “grades”, the instructor can still assess student involvement and engagement using other measures. Blackboard enables the instructor to view such data as login dates, duration of time spent online, access to specific content elements, and more. The instructor will use this data along with course grades to ensure that students are actively engaged in the course. Students struggling to complete work on time or who appear to not be engaging fully with course content will be asked to conference with the instructor.

Late Work. You are expected to submit complete assignments by the established due date and time. An assignment is considered late after the posted due date and time. Once the due date and time has passed, you have four additional days to turn in the late work with a 30% deduction off the total points earned. Therefore, an assignment will NOT be graded if it is submitted more than 4 days late. This is a fast-paced summer course and repeatedly turning in late assignments will only snowball into a bigger problem for you. All work for this course must be submitted by 11:59 pm on Sunday July 26.

Incomplete or Missing Work. After you submit an assignment, you must check your Blackboard submissions to be sure they uploaded and appear as you want them to appear. If you are new to Blackboard or online classes, I recommend you do this EVERY TIME you submit an assignment. The assignments are set up for unlimited submissions, so you can upload as many times as you need to (before the due date). Therefore incomplete or missing submissions will be graded according to the late work policy and other grading policies in this syllabus.

Person First Language and communicating with respect. By this point in your career, you are likely already familiar with the importance of using person first language when referring to people with disabilities (e.g., person with autism, girl with CP, man with Downs syndrome). Some people with disabilities prefer to be addressed differently. For example, some members of the (capital D) Deaf community prefer to be referred to as a Deaf person and not a person with a hearing impairment. The same may be true for people who identify as autistic. You should always refer to a person using the vocabulary that he or she identifies with. If you don't know, or can't ask, then use Person First Language. People with moderate and severe disabilities should be afforded this same courtesy. You should be careful to not use words to describe people that infantilize them, regardless of the severity of their disability. For example, a male of adult age should not be referred to as a boy. Finally, I want to refer to you with the names and/or pronouns that appropriately identify you. Please feel free to be direct with me about this. As for me, you can call me Sara, Dr. Sara, or Dr. Snyder, and use the pronouns she/her/hers.

Professional Quality. All work should be completed neatly and of professional quality (i.e., no errors in grammar or spelling and no typos). Directions for assignments should be carefully followed. If you do not understand the requirements of an assignment, it is your responsibility to contact me prior to the session in which the assignment is due. Points will be deducted if assignments are not completed with professional quality or if they do not meet requirements. All assignments must be proofed for grammatical and spelling errors prior to submission for a grade. There will be a 5% point deduction (of received points) for an assignment with more than 5 grammatical and spelling errors. If you know you have problems with spelling and grammar, I recommend you use a dictionary to check your spelling and use any of the following means to check your grammar: (a) ask a friend who is a good proof reader to proof your work before turning it in for grading, (b) consult a grammar web site (<http://www.drgrammar.org/>; Grammarly.com) or (c) make an appointment with your University Writing Center.

Summary of selected course assignments

I've outlined a few of the course assignments below. The rest of the assignments are thoroughly explained in their respective modules in Blackboard. PLEASE REFER TO BLACKBOARD for information on the other other assignments. Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Tk20, hard copy).

Disability Case Study

Students will work individually to develop a paper related to a specific disability. In this paper, students will provide an overview of the specified disability as well as discussion as to how the specified disability impacts families and what cultural differences must be addressed; a description of the complex needs of individuals with this disorder/disability, a presentation of a range of special education and community-based supports and services that are needed to maximize their achievement and capacity; and a discussion of the impact of the disability on normal growth and development and the ability to learn, interact socially and live as fulfilled contributing members of the community.

Students are required to have their disability topic approved by the instructor prior to completion of the activity (to prevent each student from choosing the same disability category). Complete the Google Form document posted in Module 7 by Sunday 6/21/2020 11:59 pm. I will finalize all Disability Study topics by Wednesday 6/24.

Child Abuse Recognition and Training Module

All students must complete the online child abuse recognition training module as outlined in the Orientation Module. Certificate of completion is due by uploading it on Blackboard. If you've completed this within the last 2 calendar years (5/31/2018– 6/1/2020) you can submit that certificate in lieu of completing the module again. If it's more than two years old then you need to complete the training module again. If you have full teacher licensure, you can upload a copy of the first page of your license as proof that you have completed this training.

Ungraded quizzes. Both the APA and Plagiarism Quizzes are within the Orientation Module > Course Writing Requirements in their respective tutorial folders. You can take these quizzes as many times as needed until you answer all questions correctly. Both of these quizzes must be completed before you can submit any other written assignments.

Graduate Essay Responses. FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS ONLY. There are extra activities that graduate students must complete. Please follow the instructions for each graduate essay response.

Graded activities by week. Each week there are one or more assignments to be completed related to the module content. Assignments should be completed individually unless otherwise noted in the assignment in Blackboard. More information can be found in Blackboard for each individual assignment. Activities are due Sundays by 11:59 pm in the week in which they are assigned. Numbers in parentheses indicate total points available for each activity. More details for each assignment are either available in this syllabus, or in Blackboard.

Note: The George Mason University Honor Code will be strictly enforced (see Academic Integrity Site [https://oai.gmu.edu/] and Honor Code and System [https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/honor-code-system/]). Students are responsible for reading and understanding the Code. “To promote a stronger sense of mutual responsibility, respect, trust, and fairness among all members of the George Mason University community and with the desire for greater academic and personal achievement, we, the student members of the university community, have set forth this honor code: Student members of the George Mason University community pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.” Work submitted must be your own new, original work for this course or with proper citations.

Professional Dispositions

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. See Policies and Procedures (https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/). Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. In the College of Education and Human Development, dispositions are formally and separately evaluated in at least two points in each student’s program – a self-evaluation at the start of their program, and a university supervisor’s evaluation during internship. In special education licensure programs, the self-evaluation is an online survey distributed via email upon program entry, and the internship evaluation is completed by instructors in EDSE 783, EDSE 784, and EDSE 785. When dispositions are assessed, it is important that for areas where a positive disposition is ‘occasionally evident’ or ‘rarely evident,’ the student takes steps to grow as an educator. See <https://cehd.gmu.edu/epo/candidate-dispositions>.

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: See Core Values (http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/)

ADAPTED CONSORTIUM SYLLABUS STATEMENTS AND POLICIES

Honor Code

Each university has its own honor code and it is important for you to review the honor code at your university. However, all students taking this course, regardless of the university they are enrolled in, are expected to follow this honor code and may be asked to pledge all assignments and their exam to indicate that they have followed the honor code. A pledge means that you have not cheated or plagiarized, nor have you given or received assistance that violated the description of how assignments are to be completed for this course. The shortened version may be used: “Pledged” followed by the date and your full name (typed “signatures” will be OK for assignments/tests submitted electronically).

Students at all universities pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.” Work submitted must be your own or with proper citations
