University Catalog Course Description

Covers biological, behavioral, and sociocultural factors in human sexual behavior.

Course Overview

This course relies, in part, on the use of explicit visual teaching aids such as slides, films and video clips. These materials may portray nudity, masturbation, and examples of sexual behavior. Every effort is made to present those materials in a mature and scientific manner. A person who would be offended by frank discussions and/or visual portrayals of human sexual behavior may not a good candidate for this class.

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner appropriate to a college classroom. Any student whose behavior is inappropriate or destructive to the learning environment will be asked to leave the class.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online using an asynchronous format via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course scheduled across 8 weeks. The course site will be available on Monday, June 1, 2020 at 9 AM. The last day of instruction will be on Tuesday, July 21, 2020, followed by the final exam period of July 23 to July 25, 2020.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers see:

https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#supported-browsers

To get a list of supported operation systems on different devices see:

https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems

- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
 - Windows Media Player: <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>
 - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, please note that our week will start on Monday and finish on the following week's Tuesday. Deadlines for all assignments will be clearly indicated on the course Blackboard site.
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 3 times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due. Assignments will not be accepted after the posted deadline, unless otherwise indicated. Students who have an emergency during the course that impacts full participation in the course must contact the Instructor immediately.

- Instructor Support:
Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method (phone or video call) and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette:
The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.
- Accommodations:
Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

- Develop a solid basic understanding of biological, social, and psychological components of their human sexuality.

Syllabus Quiz: In Module 1 there will be a syllabus quiz. This quiz will be a multiple-choice quiz with 10 questions based on the content of the syllabus. Students will have up to 2 attempts to complete the quiz. The highest grade will count towards the final grade in the course.

Introduction post: Since this is an online course and there are up to 25 students enrolled, it is important that each student introduce themselves. Each student will be asked to share a welcome post to the class during Module 1. Students are encouraged to use video or podcast tools to introduce themselves to the class and the instructor. Complete details for this assignment will be posted on Blackboard.

Anonymous surveys: These surveys will be anonymous and only the instructor will see the results. The results will not contain any identifying information. Blackboard will just indicate if the survey was completed. The instructor will then use the survey results in lectures throughout the course.

Infographic: Each student will develop an educational infographic on a topic related to human sexuality. The infographic must identify a key topic in human sexuality, share significant health information with appropriate sources cited, and offer at least one resource that can offer support of education on the issue. Complete details for this assignment will be posted on Blackboard.

Group discussion board: There will be 2 discussion board activities during the course. The discussions will be prompted by brief videos that students will watch. Video lengths will vary from 15 minutes to about 60 minutes. Depending on class size, the instructor will determine the size of the discussion groups to create a meaningful learning experience. Students will be expected to respond to questions provided by the instructor. Since this is a discussion board assignment, it is expected that group members communicate with each other about their comments and thoughts on the video. It is expected that posts on discussion boards are made throughout the week. Students who post initial posts within 48 hours of the deadline will not receive full points for their contributions. Complete details for this assignment will be posted on Blackboard.

Content questions: There will be a lot of material covered in the course. Material will be presented from a wide variety of sources including, but not limited to, the textbook, video clips, websites, magazines, newspaper and journals. In 6 of the modules, there will be 25 questions that will be asked about the content. There will be short answer and multiple choice questions.

Reflection paper: The paper is an opportunity to reflect, ask questions and respond to the materials presented in class and readings. At least 2 questions (or prompts) will be provided for the reflection paper. Paper must be 2-3 page (double spaced) responses. Complete details for this assignment will be posted on Blackboard.

Final exam: The final exam in the course will be an opportunity to demonstrate understanding of key concepts from the course. The exam will be delivered online through Blackboard. The exam will consist of 50 multiple choice questions. Each student is expected to complete the exam independently with access to the textbook, internet and resources from the class.

- Other Requirements

Active participation will help to make this class more valuable. Each student has an important contribution to make in the class, so please share information appropriately as it relates to the course material and professional development of fellow classmates.

All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard. It is also the responsibility of students to submit the work in a file that can be opened. Files that cannot be opened may be subject to a deduction in points until a file is received that can be opened.

Type, spell check and proofread all work submitted. A deduction in points will occur for work that contains grammatical and spelling errors.
