University Catalog Course Description

Explores major theories of learning in culturally, linguistically, ability, and socioeconomically diverse early childhood education contexts. Focuses on identifying developmentally effective approaches, instructional strategies, and tools to connect with children and families that positively influence young children's learning. Emphasizes anti-bias curriculum and considers advocacy pathways for early childhood educators.

Note: Field Experience Required.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on August 23, 2021.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting\_Started/Browser\_Support#supported-browsers

To get a list of supported operation systems on different devices see:

https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting\_Started/Browser\_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems

- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students will need a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool. [Delete this sentence if not applicable.]
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download: [Add or delete options, as desire.]
  - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
  - Windows Media Player: <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>
  - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Monday and finish on Sunday.
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least two times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a virtual one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. You can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.

- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to ensure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

- Assignments and/or Examinations

Field Experience (15 points)

This course requires a minimum of 10 hours (across at least five visits) field experience in an early childhood education environment (early intervention, home-based, school-based, or community-based settings) with diverse young children (infant, toddler, prekindergarten, kindergarten, first grade, second grade, or third grade). To initiate this assignment, students will visit <https://cehd.gmu.edu/endorse/ferf> and complete the online “Field Experience Request Form.” On the form, they will be asked to indicate how their placement will be arranged. Observations and interactive experiences will be completed at a site designated by the ECE program at George Mason University, including, but not limited to, the George Mason Child Development Center and Main Street Child Development Center.

- Field Experience Documentation Checklist (5 pts.). As students complete their 10 field experience hours across five separate visits, students will provide documentation of their experience. This documentation will include a checklist (created and distributed by the course instructor) of ECE-related experiences and phenomena observed as well as written verification of hours from the mentoring teacher/ provider on site.
- Field Experience Journal (10 pts.). Students will complete at least 5 field experience journal entries throughout the semester to document observations, connections to course content, and any questions that arise during virtual field experiences. Journal entries should include observations about the early childhood environment, routines, interactions, and professional dispositions. A template will be provided on Blackboard.

Throughout the Field Experience process with the instructor, field experience coordinator, classroom teacher, students, administrators, etc., students will exhibit standards of professionalism, ethical standards, and personal integrity. Students will refer to Blackboard for CEC, DEC, and NAEYC standards in early childhood education and early childhood special education.

Critical Reflections (20 points)

Students will submit four reflections (at 5 points each) that make connections between the Pelo text, observation or case study scenarios, and early childhood practice. Specifically, each reflection will focus on a specific topic connected course readings and concepts discussed in class. These topics include:

- Reflection 1: Professionalism
- Reflection 2: Environment
- Reflection 3: Interaction
- Reflection 4: Teaming and Collaboration

The point of each reflection is NOT for students to simply provide a summary of the readings and/or their field experiences; rather, students are to think critically about what is being read/discussed/learned in class. Each reflection will include a description and analysis of the following:

- A concept from the Pelo text

- A selected NAEYC Developmentally Appropriate Practice or DEC Recommended Practice that connects to an observation or case study scenario
- How the selected text concept and practice for supporting culturally, linguistically, ability, and socioeconomically diverse learners can be applied

Reflections must be two, double-spaced pages in length using 12-point Times New Roman font and follow current APA writing style.

Early Childhood Exploration Project (40 points)

- Developing an Early Childhood Philosophy (5 points)

Students will develop a brief personal philosophy of early childhood education. Each personal philosophy should include the following:

- Definition of the role of an early childhood educator or professional
- Description of an early childhood theory of development serving as the foundation for teaching and learning
- Statement of the importance of supporting diverse learners

Each philosophy statement should be no longer than one double-spaced page. Students will share their personal philosophy with at least two peers and discuss similarities and differences between each philosophy statement. Philosophy statements will be graded according to the rubric provided on Blackboard.

- Exploring Early Childhood Settings (20 points)

Students will develop and present information on an early childhood education or care setting. Each presentation should include the following:

- Description of the type of early childhood program selected
- Historical and philosophical context related to the type of early childhood program selected
- Connection to at least one theory of development appropriate for the selected ECE setting
- Description of how children from culturally, linguistically, ability and socioeconomically diverse backgrounds will be supported in the selected setting

Students will utilize an electronic presentation format (e.g., PowerPoint, Prezi) to develop a 3- to 5-minute presentation. Each student will post their presentation on Blackboard prior to presenting to a small group of peers. Presentations will be graded according to the rubric provided on Blackboard.

- Evaluating Anti-Bias Teaching and Learning Tools (15 points)

Students will identify and evaluate a teaching and learning tool that can be used to promote an anti-bias curriculum. Examples of teaching and learning tools include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Practices (e.g., number talks)
- Resources (e.g., articles, books)
- Online resources (e.g., reputable websites, podcasts)

Students will submit a short overview of their teaching and learning tool for approval prior to evaluation. After receiving approval for their tool, students will complete the evaluation form provided on Blackboard.

Students will provide a description of their selected teaching and learning tool as part of a resource Share Fair on Blackboard. This overview should include the name of the tool and its use in promoting anti-bias curriculum. If the tool is accessible online, students should provide a link to access the tool. The purpose of this resource Share Fair is to provide all students with a resource library to promote anti-bias and anti-bias curriculum in their future work as early childhood professionals.

- Other Requirements

Attendance and Participation (25 points)

Because active participation and engagement are imperative for optimal learning, preparation for and participation in online activities will be evaluated based on the following criteria:

- Students complete readings and online content as evidenced by their ability to discuss and write about the concepts presented and examined in the texts as well as participate fully in related activities.
- Students are actively involved in online learning experiences as evidenced by (a) participating in all activities, (b) engaging in small- and large-group discussions, (c) completing written work related to the activities, and (d) supporting the participation and learning of classmates.
- Students show evidence of critical reflective thinking through online discussions, activities, and written reflections.
- Students display professional dispositions at all times while interacting with the instructor and other students.
- Students complete participation activities across the semester that complement the scheduled course topic. Instructors will periodically collect artifacts from the activities. Students who actively engage in the learning experience will receive credit for their efforts. Graded participation activities are not announced and are implemented at the discretion of the instructor.
- Students submit an attendance and participation self-evaluation.

Written Assignments

All formal written assignments will be evaluated for content and presentation. The American Psychological Association, Seventh Edition (APA) style will be followed for all written work. All written work unless otherwise noted must be completed on a word processor and should be proofread carefully. (Use spell check!) If students are not confident of their own ability to catch errors, they should have another person proofread their work. When in doubt, they should check the APA manual. Students may consult the Writing Center for additional writing support.

Students will do the following:

1. Present ideas in a clear, concise, and organized manner. (Avoid wordiness and redundancy.)
2. Develop points coherently, definitively, and thoroughly.
3. Refer to appropriate authorities, studies, and examples to document where appropriate. (Avoid meaningless generalizations, unwarranted assumptions, and unsupported opinions.)

4. Use correct capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.
5. Type the paper with double spacing, indented paragraphs, 1-inch margins all around, and 12-point Times New Roman font.

- Grading

A+ = 98 – 100 A = 93 – 97 A- = 90 – 92 B+ = 87 – 89 B = 83 – 86 B- = 80 – 82
 C+ = 77 – 79 C = 73 – 76 C- = 70 – 72 D = 60 – 69 F = < 60

Incomplete (IN): This grade may be given to students who are passing a course but who may be unable to complete scheduled coursework for a cause beyond reasonable control.

All CEHD undergraduate students are held to the university grading policies as described in the Academic Policies section of the current catalog, which can be accessed at <http://catalog.gmu.edu>. Those students seeking Virginia initial teaching licensure must earn a B- or better in all licensure coursework.

Professional Dispositions

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

See <https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>.
