Program Vision: The Education Leadership Program is devoted to improving the quality of pre-K through 12 education through teaching, research and service. Candidates and practicing administrators engage in course work devoted to experiential learning, professional growth opportunities, and doctoral research that informs practice. We educate exceptional leaders who act with integrity as they work to improve schools.

Course Description

EDLE 616 examines relationship of written, taught, and tested curriculum; and identifies critical leadership decisions that can positively impact student achievement. Furthermore, EDLE 616 identifies components of effective conceptual frameworks [UBD, Mapping] and constructs a Curriculum Design model for emerging leaders

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered using a hybrid format to include face to face in person along with live virtual instruction on ZOOM and asynchronous instruction throughout the semester via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. This course will be taught using a Live synchronous format (Thursday from 4:45pm – 7:45pm) for most weeks except one asynchronous lesson. You will log in to the Blackboard course site using your Mason email name (everything before “@masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password.

This course will be available by Monday, May 16, 2022

Students will benefit from and contribute to the learning experience to the extent that they are prepared and ready to participate in each class meeting by reading any of the assigned readings prior to class. A variety of instructional methods are used in this course including direct instruction, cooperative learning activities, media use, Internet assignments, lectures, group presentations, individual research, case studies, simulations, and written and oral assignments. Students should bring their laptop with them to each face-to-face class. The challenge is to become a COMMUNITY of Leaders and Learners!

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication. I ask all students to keep their video cameras on so we can see one another.

Course Objectives:

1. Understand the myriad influences on the Field of Curriculum, Development, Design & Evaluation.
2. Investigate frameworks—Understanding by Design, Curriculum Mapping—that efficiently connect Curriculum Standards to Programs of Study.
3. Analyze Curriculum Leadership practices in the areas of Evaluation, Professional Development, Alignment and Standards-based practices.

Learner Outcomes

Students who successfully complete the requirements for EDLE 616 will be able to:

- demonstrate an in-depth knowledge of curriculum design, development and evaluation and connect all parts to ELCC standards in the design [and presentation] of a mini curriculum framework [that is UBD-informed]
- demonstrate the ability to analyze school demographic and assessment data and use the same to create a professional development plan [PDP] to improve student performance in two critical areas
- identify an emerging/controversial issue in curriculum development/evaluation and create a plan to serve as a guide for educators to fully understand it [the plan should connect best thinking/practices on the issue to 2 or 3 essential questions]

- investigate the components of a well-formed BOE policy on curriculum development/evaluation and apply that knowledge to solve a problem either at a specific grade level or content area.

Online Expectations

1. Course Week: The course week will begin on Thursday with our class and end on Wednesday. I will send out the reminders for each week on Friday after our class meeting. These will also be available in Blackboard. Please respond to any discussion post or turn in assignment by 11:59 pm on Thursday of each week. When there is a discussion post, please respond to at least 2 classmates by Saturday at 11:59pm
2. Log-in Frequency: All students should participate live during our synchronous sessions. Students should make sure their camera is on. Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least several times a week.
3. Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes attending all synchronous session, viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
4. Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
5. Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
6. Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.

8. Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to ensure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.
9. Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.

The importance of strengthening and guiding instruction in educational settings is a leadership theme of academic and professional organizations alike. The purpose of the course is to strengthen the knowledge, skills and dispositions of EDLE candidates as instructional leaders and managers. The course provides models for (1) designing and managing curriculum; (2) relating to school board policy, professional development, and budget to effective instructional leadership; (3) constructing effective teacher-friendly curriculum guides; and (4) collecting and using demographic data to create a plan for improved student performance.

This course meets applicable competencies, standards, and guidelines set forth by the

Course Performance Evaluation and Submission Policies

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, VIA, hard copy). Assignments are due by 11:59 pm on the dates listed on the syllabus, electronically via Blackboard. Please take advantage of instructor office hours and availability to get assistance prior to assignment deadlines.

Evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in VIA through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to VIA (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required VIA submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

Assignments and/or Examinations Students' grades are based on their proficiency with respect to the student outcomes stated above. Each outcome will have an oral (class participation) and/or a written component. Educational leaders must be able to use current research in making informed decisions and improving community relations. Consequently, you should find opportunity throughout the course and assignments to explore existing research on a specific topic, organize and evaluate that research, and then share your findings with your classmates and/or in your journals.

Below are the basic percentages for the various kinds of work required for the class. Students should always bear in mind that grading is primarily my judgment about your performance. Grades are designed to indicate your success in completing the course, not the level of effort you put into it.

Grading

Students can earn a total of 400 points in this course. The 3 graded assignments account for 65% (260 points) of the overall grade, while course participation and attendance accounts for 35% (140 points).

Participation Requirements (35% or 140 points of total grade)

To maximize learning and engagement in the online environment, students are expected to participate actively in asynchronous class discussions, asynchronous and synchronous group activities, and serve as critical friends to other students. Weekly assignments and discussions will be assigned. Most weeks students will be expected to respond to their classmates' posts. Each week students can earn up to 14 points (Asynchronous class – 28 points)

Graded Assignments (65% or 260 points of total grade)

There will be 3 Graded Assignments for this course. These are major assignments that may take multiple weeks. Do not wait until the due date to attempt to complete the assignments. Information about each assignment is located at the end of this Syllabus along with the associated rubric.

Other reminders:

Plagiarism Statement: Plagiarism means using the exact words, opinions, or factual information from another person without giving that person credit. Writers give credit through accepted documentation styles, such as parenthetical citation, footnotes, or endnotes; a simple listing of books and articles is not sufficient. Plagiarism is the equivalent of intellectual robbery and cannot be tolerated in an academic setting (Statement of English Department at George Mason University).

Plagiarism and the Internet: Copyright rules also apply to users of the Internet who cite from Internet sources. Information and graphics accessed electronically must also be cited, giving credit to the sources. This material includes but is not limited to e-mail (don't cite or forward someone else's e-mail without permission), newsgroup material, information from Web sites, including graphics. Even if you give credit, you must get permission from the original source to put any graphic that you did not create on your web page. Shareware graphics are not free. Freeware clipart is available for you to freely use. If the material does not say "free," assume it is not. Putting someone else's Internet material on your web page is stealing intellectual property. Making links to a site is, at this time, okay, but getting permission is strongly advised, since many Web sites have their own requirements for linking to their material.

Academic Integrity & Inclusivity: This course embodies the perspective that we all have differing perspectives and ideas and we each deserve the opportunity to share our thoughts. Therefore, we will conduct our discussions with respect for those differences, meaning we each have the freedom to express our ideas, but we should also do so keeping in mind that our colleagues deserve to hear differing thoughts in a respectful manner, i.e. we may disagree without being disagreeable. <http://integrity.gmu.edu/>

Other Concerns: If you have concerns or issues relating to the content or conduct of the class, please talk with me directly. As a matter of policy, I do not respond to anonymous e-mails.
