University Catalog Course Description

Provides teacher candidates an introduction to methods, frameworks, and practices of teaching social studies in secondary schools. Notes: Requires 15 hours of school-based field experience. Offered by School of Education. May not be repeated for credit. Equivalent to EDCI 567.

Course Overview

This course provides pre-service teacher candidates with a comprehensive overview of effective approaches to planning, implementing, managing, and assessing successful social studies learning experiences for students. Emphasis will be placed on exploring the relationship between educational theory and the development of practical teaching techniques for everyday use in the secondary social studies classroom.

Required Textbook: Singer, Alan (2014) Social Studies for Secondary Schools: Teaching to Learn, Learning to Teach, (4th Edition) New York: Routledge. (available at GMU bookstore)

Disability Services: Students unable to participate in a course in the manner presented, either due to existing disability or COVID comorbidity risk, should seek accommodations through the Office of Disability Services.

Campus Closure: If the campus closes or class is canceled due to weather or other concerns, students should check Blackboard, Mason email, or the Mason website for updates on how to continue learning and information about any changes to events or assignments.

Course Delivery Mode and Attendance

- All SEED classes have designated delivery modes and specific modes for each class session (e.g., face-to-face, virtual synchronous, virtual asynchronous). The majority of SEED classes are held in a face-to-face mode. Students are expected to attend every class session in the mode that it is offered. If you must miss a class session for illness or another valid reason, you are expected to proactively communicate (ahead of the class session) with your instructor about your expected absence.
- This course will be delivered using a seminar format in-person with some course sessions occurring via synchronous and asynchronous context as indicated in the course schedule of class sessions.
- Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a faceto-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Learner Outcomes and Professional Standards

This course is designed to enable students to do the following aligned with professional standards from the National Council for the Social Studies:

Course Performance Evaluation: Students are expected to submit all assignments on time via Blackboard unless otherwise instructed.

Technical Requirements: To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#supported-browsers
- To get a list of supported operation systems on different devices see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- Additionally, CEHD course activities and assignments may regularly use web- conferencing software (Blackboard Collaborate / Zoom). In addition to the requirements above, students are required to have a device with a functional webcam and microphone. In an emergency, students can connect through a telephone call, but video connection is the expected norm.

Technology Requirements: Activities and assignments in CEHD courses regularly use the_ Blackboard learning system. Students are required to have regular, reliable access to a computer with an updated operating system (recommended: Windows 10 or Mac OSX 10.13 or higher) and a stable broadband Internet connection (cable modem, DSL, satellite broadband, etc., with a consistent 1.5 Mbps [megabits per second] download speed or higher.

Students Evaluations of Teaching (SETs): George Mason University has transitioned to conducting SETs fully online. In the last few weeks of this course, you will be asked to complete an evaluation of this course as well as your instructor.

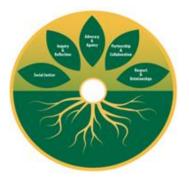

Course Materials and Student Privacy

- All course materials posted to Blackboard or other course site are private; by federal law, any materials that identify specific students (via their name, voice, or image) must not be shared with anyone not enrolled in this class.
- Video recordings of class meetings that include audio or visual information from other students are private and must not be shared.
- Live Video Conference Meetings (e.g. Collaborate or Zoom) that include audio or visual information from other students must be viewed privately and not shared with others in your household.

• Some/All of your CEHD synchronous class meetings may be recorded by your instructor to provide necessary information for students in this class. Recordings will be stored on Blackboard [or another secure site] and will only be accessible to students taking this course during this semester.

Course Expectations

- Log-in Frequency: Students must regularly check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials. In addition, students must log-in for all scheduled online synchronous meetings as listed on the class schedule.
- Attendance and Active Participation: SEED 567 operates under the assumption that knowledge is socially constructed and the most meaningful learning opportunities include those where learners have the opportunity to offer and explore diverse perspectives with peers. To that end, it is expected that students will regularly contribute to and engage in peer dialogue, as well as genuinely and respectfully 'listen' to peers as they do the same. While agreement is not mandatory, consideration and respect for others are. Please remember that your responses to others and the expertise you lend to any discussion are as important as what you share about your own work. Thus, you must be "present" and "active" while engaging with your classmates.
- Late Work: Late work will not be accepted without prior approval from the instructor.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based solely on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates as listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignment due dates.
- Make-up Work: CEHD instructors will work with students to find reasonable opportunities to make up class work or assignments missed due to documented illness. Begin by contacting your instructor for guidance. For further assistance, students may contact their program and the CEHD Office of Student and Academic Affairs (cehdsaa@gmu.edu).
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus for such a meeting can meet with the instructor via telephone or virtual conference (via zoom). Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting context and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course website is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.
- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

The Secondary Education (SEED) Program "Seeds"

As illustrated by the image above, the SEED program is guided by five "Seeds" or principles that students are expected to understand and learn to apply in their teaching and professional lives: Social Justice, Inquiry and Reflection, Advocacy and Agency, Partnership and Collaboration, and Respect and Relationship. SEED students address each Seed in a developmental fashion, twice during their licensure program and once again during the master's teacher research capstone experience:

- Each Seed is introduced and students demonstrate initial understandings and consider initial applications to teaching of the Seeds (as determined by the program and course instructor) during one of the five pre-licensure courses (Foundations, Methods I, Human Development, Methods II, Content Literacy)
- All five Seeds are revisited and students demonstrate deeper conceptual understandings of and identify applications to their teaching of the Seeds (in a manner they determine) during internship and internship seminar
- All five Seeds are explored more deeply, and students demonstrate mastery understandings of, applications to their teaching and teaching inquiries (via their teacher research Methodologies), and future integrations of the Seeds into their teaching and teaching inquiries (via their teacher research Discussions)

Course Assignments

Assignment 1: Weekly Curriculum Artifact

Due: Weekly (1/24 – 5/9)

Points: 20

Rationale: Each week, this course will examine a different topic or concept related to secondary social studies instruction. Teacher candidates will be asked to submit a weekly curriculum artifact that demonstrates their understanding of that particular topic or concept. Curriculum artifacts will be used by the instructor to evaluate the efficacy of instruction as well as teacher candidate learning.

Procedure: Teacher candidates will be asked to submit a curriculum artifact each week. Curriculum artifacts will typically be due on Friday (11:59pm) of each course week.

Assignment 2: Active Participation and Protocol Adherence

Due: Weekly (1/24 – 5/9) Points: 10

Rationale: Continuous attendance, active participation in class activities and completion of weekly curriculum artifacts, as well as adherence to protocol procedures are the attributes that allow these class sessions to be collaborative, maintain high standards, and encourage learning to take place. This course is designed to provide ongoing opportunities to learn through conversation. These conversations provide spaces for you to think out loud, to explore your conceptional understandings, to share uncertainties and successes, to ask questions, and to learn from each other. Like written assignments, class participation is both a central means of learning and an assessment tool.

Procedure: Attendance is a prerequisite for class participation, absences will have a negative impact on your participation grade. Attend each class session and actively participate in class discussion and activities without extraneous distractions (i.e., texting, reading email, etc.). This applies to in person and online classes. Active participation and protocol adherence is determined by the rubric below:

	Acceptable	Unacceptable
	-participates actively in class discussions and activities	-does not participate actively in each class discussions

Assignment 3: 3 Rounds of Micro-Teaching Demonstrations

Due Dates:

- Micro-Teaching Round 1: (February 28; March 7, March 21)
- Micro-Teaching Round 2: (March 28; April 4; April 18)
- Micro-Teaching Round 3: (April 25; May 2)

Points: 30

Rationale: This course is designed to provide social studies teacher candidates with theoretical knowledge of teaching as well as realistic opportunities to refine their practice. As a result, each student will be asked to conduct three "Micro-Teaching Demonstrations" over the course of the semester. The first round of Micro-Teaching Demonstrations will take place from February 28th to March 21st. The second round of Micro-Teaching Demonstrations will take place from March 28th to April 18th. The third round of Micro-Teaching Demonstrations will take place from April 25th^h to May 2nd. For each Micro-Teaching Demonstration, teacher candidates will be asked to plan and conduct an instructional lesson in the content area of their choice while critically analyzing and reflecting upon their lesson planning process.

Procedure:

For each of the three Micro-Teaching Demonstration, teacher candidates will need to submit a total of four forms:

- The Forethought Form must be submitted to your instructor the week before the Micro-Teaching Demonstration.
- The Performance Form must be submitted to your instructor no later than the date of the Micro-Teaching Demonstration
- The SEED Lesson Plan Template must be submitted to your instructor no later than the date of the Micro-Teaching Demonstration
- The Reflection Form must be submitted to Blackboard prior to the next class period.

Teaching Demonstration Dates:

Teaching Demonstration	Forethought Form Due Date (Week before Micro-Teaching Demonstration)	Teaching Demonstration & Performance Form Due Date (Date of Micro-Teaching Demonstration)	Reflection Form Due Date (Week after Micro- Teaching Demonstration)
Round 1
Round 3

Due: May 9th

Points: 20

Rationale: During this "Methods I" course, Teacher Candidates will spend a minimum of 15 hours observing their assigned Mentor Teachers in the middle and high schools they have been cleared to visit. The Mentor Teachers, their classrooms, and the schools in which they are located are all referred to as the Teacher Candidate's "placement" and the experiences that occur in this placement is referred to as the Teacher Candidate's "clinical experience." The purpose of the clinical experience is to provide Teacher Candidates with the opportunity to (1) connect their learning as a new teacher to classroom/school practices, (2) study and begin to develop pedagogical practices in different classroom/school communities, and (3) promote critical self-reflection about teaching in secondary schools.

Procedure: For this "Methods I" course, the Teacher Candidate spends part of their time in a middle school and part of their time in a high school. Because the minimum number of hours required is 15, Teacher Candidates typically spend 6–8 hours with their middle school placement and 6–8 hours with their high school placement. Documenting more than 15 hours is allowed, although a significant amount more may require prior permission. Teacher Candidates are matched with a middle school Mentor Teacher and a high school Mentor Teacher. Teacher Candidates may have multiple Mentor Teachers in a specific school such as two Mentor Teachers in their middle school placement.

Teacher Candidates will complete a Clinical Experience Reflection Form for each visit they make to their placement. The Clinical Experience Reflection Form will allow them to document, explain, and reflect upon strengths, successes, challenges, and problems observed during their time spent in their placements. Teacher Candidates may be asked to complete additional documentation during their Clinical Experience as indicated by their Mason SEED course instructors.

Upon completing all of the hours in their placement, the Teacher Candidates reflect on the entirety of their Clinical Experience in a written paper (minimum of 7-10 pages). This paper describes and analyzes what the Teacher Candidate observed and learned about teaching during the Clinical Experience. Teacher Candidates are encouraged to reflect on the intersections and tensions between what their Methods I course readings and activities, their own school experiences as a student, and what they observed in their Clinical Experience.

Additional information and resources are available on the course Blackboard site.

Due: May 9th

Points: 20

Rationale: This assignment is the summative assessment for this course and asks teacher candidates to design a 90 minute lesson plan using the official SEED lesson plan template. To that end, teacher candidates will design and write a formal lesson plan that includes a curriculum rationale, is grounded in the research base of social studies education, and includes an assessment task (with rubric). This lesson plan should be detailed/comprehensive enough to be implemented by a substitute teacher without any prior knowledge of the lesson.

Procedure: Teacher candidates will create, and receive feedback on, multiple lesson plans during the semester. Teacher candidates are welcome to submit one of their revised lesson plans or design a new lesson plan for this assignment. Lesson plans will be evaluated based on adherence to the provided lesson plan format; consistency with instructional methods taught in the program; appropriate rationale provided; specification of objectives, as related to state and national standards; appropriate match between assessment of learning and learning objectives; coherence of writing. The lesson must adhere to the lesson plan format we will review in class. This lesson must include classroom activities described in detail with fully developed assessments and rubrics. This assignment is a required common assessment for all students enrolled in the SEED program, and, as a performance- based assessment (PBA), it must be submitted to Tk20 online along with Blackboard

Additional information and resources are available on the course Blackboard site.

Important Information on VDOE Modules Required for Teaching Licensure

Behavior Intervention and Support Training

- The Virginia Department of Education's Office of Dispute Resolution and Administrative Services presents series of modules to inform Virginia school personnel on the Regulations Governing the Use of Seclusion and Restraint in Public Elementary and Secondary Schools in Virginia. Successful completion of these modules and the cumulative quiz will result in a certificate that documents completion of the behavior intervention and support training requirements for initial licensure in Virginia.
- To complete these modules, see https://cieesodu.org/initiatives/restraint-and-seclusion/

Dyslexia Awareness Training

- Effective July 1, 2017, every person seeking initial licensure or renewal of a license shall complete awareness training, provided by the Virginia Department of Education, on the indicators of dyslexia, as that term is defined by the board pursuant to regulations, and the evidence-based interventions and accommodations for dyslexia. To meet the requirements, VDOE has developed a free online Dyslexia Awareness Training Module. This module is accessible from PCs and Mac computers and some other types of mobile devices. Users should complete the module in one session and have access to a printer. Individuals completing the module should print a copy of the certificate of completion for verification.
- To complete these modules, see https://www.doe.virginia.gov/teaching/licensure/dyslexia-training/index.shtml

Child Abuse and Neglect Recognizing, Reporting, and Responding Training

- All individuals seeking initial licensure as well as license renewal are required to complete a child abuse recognition and intervention course that meets Board of Education approved guidelines. Verification of training completion is noted on individual licenses and also sent to school division human resources directors and school division licensure specialists.
- To complete these modules, see https://www.dss.virginia.gov/family/cps/mandated_reporters/cwse5691/story.html

CPR/AED/First Aid Training

- To meet the state of Virginia requirement for certification or training in emergency first aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and the use of automated external defibrillators (based on the current national evidence-based guidelines for CPR and AED), all students enrolled in "initial licensure" state-approved educator preparation programs—or applying for initial licensure—will need to present evidence of completing First Aid, AED, and hands-on CPR training. Hybrid training courses (online and in-person CPR skills training) will be accepted.
- For more information, see https://education.gmu.edu/teacher-track-office/emergency-first-aid
