Adult Motivation and Conflict Management in Education Settings: A Case Study Approach

This course uses case studies and simulations to examine conflict mediation, resolution skills, and safety and security issues. It focuses on character and ethics education in schools, coaching and mentoring, and adult motivation to support positive behaviors in work settings.

Course Delivery Method Course Delivery

This course will be delivered in a hybrid format with some in person sessions and online using an asynchronous format via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. Students will log in to the Blackboard course site using their Mason email name (everything before@gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on January 22, 2023. Under no circumstances may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles.

Course Materials

Required:

- a) Kowalski, Theodore J. Case Studies on Educational Administration [6th Edition]. Boston: Pearson Education, Inc.

Vision: The Education Leadership Program is dedicated to improving the quality of pre-K – 12 education through teaching, research, and service. Candidates and practicing administrators engage in course work devoted to experiential learning, professional growth opportunities, and doctoral research that informs practice. We educate exceptional leaders who act with integrity as they work to improve schools.

- b) Whitaker, Todd (2020) What Great Principals Do Differently: 20 Things That Matter Most. [3rd Edition]. Routledge.
- c) Kosmoski, G & Pollack, D. (2005). Managing Difficult, Frustrating, and Hostile Conversations: Strategies for Savvy Administrators. [2nd Edition]. Thousand Oaks: Corwin Press.

Additional Resources will be listed in the weekly schedule and available on Blackboard.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed internet access with standard up-to-date browsers.
 - To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers, see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#supported-browsers
 - To get a list of supported operating systems on different devices, see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
 - Windows Media Player: <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>
 - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Online Expectations

- Course Week: During asynchronous weeks, we will mostly start on Monday and finish on Friday. However, please check the exact dates of each session mentioned in the syllabus and posted on the Blackboard under Weekly Modules, as some will be shorter and others longer. Because of holidays and schedule changes, there may be some alterations to this.
- Login Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their Mason email for communications from the instructor; at a minimum, this should be two times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to attend all in person classes and engage in all course activities throughout the semester actively, including viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.

- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in using all course technology. Students are expected to seek assistance if they are struggling with the technical components of the course.
- Technical Issues: Students should expect that they could experience technical difficulties at some point in the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Expect to attend in person classes on weeks when we are fully online, log in to this course at least two times a week to read announcements, participate in the discussions, and work on course materials. Remember, this course is not self-paced. The student's responsibility is to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities, and assignments due. There are specific deadlines and due dates listed in the CLASS SCHEDULE section of this syllabus to which you are expected to adhere.
- Advising: If you would like to schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content, or other course-related issues, we can meet via telephone or web conference. Send me an email to schedule your one-on-one session and include your preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. I suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. I will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another and the instructor.
- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to ensure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

Other Technology Reminders

Blackboard (Bb) Collaborate: You will communicate with your colleagues and instructor using Bb Collaborate and the instructor's virtual office hours. There are ample opportunities for interaction when in person during class as well.

Email: All candidates are required to activate and monitor their Mason email accounts. I strongly recommend that you do not forward your Mason email to a different account because attachments are often lost that way. It is best to check email directly from your Mason account daily. In compliance with federal law, I will only communicate with candidates via their Mason email accounts per university policy. I will be unable to respond to emails sent from other accounts (i.e., Gmail, yahoo, work email, etc.). Any announcements regarding the course will be sent to your Mason email accounts. I will respond to emails within 24 hours, excluding weekends.

Teaching and Learning

Each session will include a variety of activities and exercises. Out-of-class work will rely, in part, on the use of Blackboard. Specific process goals for the class appear below.

1. Classes will reflect a balance of activities that encourage high-quality, ethical leadership. To promote an atmosphere that allows us to accomplish this, we will:
 - a. maintain (flexibly) a written agenda reflecting objectives for each class;
 - b. agree to disagree respectfully during online discussions.
 - c. strive to be open to new ideas and perspectives; and
 - d. listen actively to one another.
 - e. The ultimate goal is to function as a community of learners.
2. Student work will reflect what is expected from leaders. As such, students are expected to:
 - a. write papers that are well researched, proofread, submitted in a timely fashion, and conform to APA guidelines;
 - b. participate actively in online discussions in a manner that challenges the best thinking of the class; and
 - c. provide constructive feedback to others both on their ideas and on their written work, striving to learn from each other and test each other's ideas.
3. We will endeavor to create a climate that approximates what we know about learning organizations. The hallmark of a learning organization is a balance between openness and constructive feedback; hence, everyone is expected to: as such, it is important that we create conditions that allow participants to try out new ideas and voice opinions without fear of ridicule or embarrassment.
 - a. come fully prepared for each session;
 - b. demonstrate appropriate respect for one another;
 - c. voice concerns and opinions about the class process openly;
 - d. engage in genuine inquiry;
 - e. recognize and celebrate each other's ideas and accomplishments; and
 - f. display an awareness of each other's needs.

Course Objectives:

Students will:

1. Investigate, evaluate and apply results of research regarding motivation to adults in school settings;
2. Explore and apply the results of research regarding factors related to teacher recruitment, retention, and improvement, including methods of creating a culture of continuous improvement through professional support, collaboration, and professional development.
3. Conduct a case study of a plan for differentiated compensation by applying the results of research regarding motivation and a variety of compensation plans.
4. Review and apply models of leadership as they relate to creating conditions that recruit, retain, and lead to improvement of teaching; and
5. Investigate, evaluate, and apply to school settings research regarding conflict management models.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

1. Demonstrate knowledge and ability to create conditions that will attract teachers, retain teachers and motivate teachers to improve their practice and student learning

2. Identify motivation principles and apply them to the creation of such conditions
3. Exercise leadership skills that engender and support such conditions
4. Apply conflict management skills in developing and maintaining such conditions

Relationship of Course to Internship (EDLE 791)

Although the internship is a separate course, the Education Leadership program has integrated “embedded experiences” into course work. This means that some of the work for this class is related to the internship. Students may write about embedded experiences in their internship journals and Collective Records, but they can only count over and above the minimum 320 hours required for the internship.
