RMGT 300

UNIVERSITY CATALOG COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Focuses on management and operations of park resources, including the management of visitors and recreation development. Emphasizes understanding of contemporary threats to park integrity and preservation of resources. Also covers maintenance management systems.

COURSE DELIVERY METHOD:

This is an in-person course.

LEARNER OUTCOMES/COURSE OBJECTIVES:

At the completion of this course, students should be able to:

- 1. Identify the types of agencies that manage parks and the roles these agencies play in land management and provision of recreational opportunities.
- 2. Describe how land is acquired for parks and how parks are planned/ developed.
- 3. Define resource management in the context of park management and be able to discuss how managers balance the need for resource protection with recreational needs.
- 4. List indicators of resource overuse or increased visitor impacts to the park resources/ facilities and be able to discuss management alternatives for reducing impacts or recreational conflicts.
- 5. Discuss issues/ problems related to contemporary park operations and maintenance.

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION STANDARDS:

Upon completion of this course, students will meet the following professional accreditation standards as set forth by the Council on Accreditation of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Related Professions:

7.01 Students graduating from the program shall demonstrate the following entry-level knowledge: a) the nature and scope of the relevant park, recreation, tourism or related professions and their associated industries; b) techniques and processes used by professionals and workers in these industries; and c) the foundation of the profession in history, science, and philosophy.

REQUIRED READING:

Hammit, William E., Cole, David N., Monz, Chrisopher A. (2018) Wildland recreation: Ecology and management (Third). Wiley Blackwell.

Williams, Terry Tempest. (2017) The hour of land: A personal topography of america's national parks (First). Picador.

Handouts and other assigned materials (e.g., readings, videos, podcasts, documents) will be distributed on Blackboard or in class.

COURSE PERFORMANCE EVALUATION: Students are expected to submit all assignments on time on Blackboard. This course will be graded on a point system, with a total of 1,000 possible points.

Requirements	Points	Percentage of Overall Grade
In-Class Participation and	30 pts each x 12 (13 - 1 lowest grade	36%
Assignments/Activities	dropped) = $360$ points
Weekly preparation assignments: questions and reflections (Due every Sunday night)	30 pts each x 12 assignments (13 - 1 lowest grade dropped) = 360 pts	36%
Module Quizzes	56 pts each x $5 = 280$ total points	28%
Total	1,000 points	100%

REQUIREMENTS:

In-Class Participation and Assignments/Activities

Class assignments and activities will vary, with something different every class. These may include discussions with guest speakers, field trips, applied management scenarios or case studies, and other group activities. We will have in-class activities throughout the semester in every class. Activities give you an opportunity to apply what you have learned that week and practice implementing specific management approaches in parks and public lands. They will also help us to build a community within our class and provide an opportunity for us to get to know one another. In-class participation and assignments/activities are graded based on performance and students must be present in class to obtain points. For guest speakers and field trips, you are expected to be polite and professional. You should treat these interactions with RMGT professionals as opportunities to network and make a good impression! I expect you to be attentive and respectful, engage in conversation with professionals, dress professionally, refrain from being on your phones. Failure to adhere to these guidelines will result in reduced participation grades for these activities.

Weekly Preparation Assignments

This course will follow a flipped classroom style. Each week, you will have material to read, watch, and/or review, including a brief pre-recorded lecture video introducing the week's topic. After engaging with the week's material, you will complete a weekly preparation assignment which will include a variety of reflection questions or prompt. The weekly preparation assignments are due at the start of the week on Sunday nights, in advance of our class meetings on Mondays. Class preparation assignments are graded based on performance, and these assignments comprise a significant portion of your grade. They are intended to help you prepare for the week's activity, guest speaker, or field trip.

Quizzes

This course has five quizzes, one for each primary module. While they are not intentionally cumulative, note that the concepts that we will be learning throughout the semester do build on one another.

GRADING POLICIES:

Attendance Policy:

Students are expected to be in class barring exceptional circumstances. Though some course material will be covered in assignment readings and other materials, most key information will be covered in class. Although I will not take attendance, you must be present in class to earn points for in-class participation and assignments/activities, which comprise a significant portion of your grade.

Late Assignments:

Each student will get one "life happens" pass for submitting an assignment late. Sometimes things happen and we encounter unforeseen circumstances. Your "life happens" pass may be used for any type of assignment, including in-class participation and assignments/activities, weekly questions and reflections, or module quizzes. The single "life happens" pass will allow you to submit one assignment past the due date. You will have one extra week from the initial deadline to submit the assignment. Although you can use your "life happens" pass for any reason of your choosing, it is your responsibility to save your "life happens" pass for when you really need it. Once you've used it, you won't get another pass.

Other than your "life happens" pass, all assignments are due on their assigned dates, and late work will not be accepted. I encourage you to begin work early on all assignments so in the event of unforeseen circumstances you can get them in on time.
