COURSE DESCRIPTION

Exploration of processes and techniques used in Therapeutic Recreation, with a focus on the nature and diversity of recreation and leisure activities, modalities and interventions, facilitation techniques and approaches, leadership roles and tasks, communication skills, clinical supervision, health and safety considerations, and the impact of the impairment and/or treatment on the individual.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- 1. Explain and discuss the major theories/approaches used for intervention and counseling programs in Therapeutic Recreation services.
- 2. Identify facilitation techniques that can be employed as interventions in Therapeutic Recreation programs.
- 3. Define the role of the professional therapist in Therapeutic Recreation services.
- 4. Classify the characteristics of a professional recreational therapist.
- 5. Differentiate among the key aspects of successful communication as it applies to Therapeutic Recreation services.
- 6. Justify the appropriate leadership styles used in implementing Therapeutic Recreation services.
- 7. Compare the different leadership tasks a Therapeutic Recreation Specialist is expected to perform.
- 8. Summarize the roles of a clinical supervisor in a Therapeutic Recreation setting.
- 9. Illustrate the importance of understanding the medical needs of clients when planning and implementing Therapeutic Recreation services.

COURSE OVERVIEW

Students are held to the standards of the George Mason University Honor Code. You are expected to actively take part in discussions and fulfill all weekly assignments. Assignments must be submitted on the specified date due, or no credit will be given.

Further, upon completion of this course, students will meet the following professional accreditation standards:

Council on Accreditation of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Related Professions standards met.

7.03 Students graduating from the program shall be able to demonstrate entry-level knowledge about operations and strategic management/administration in parks, recreation, tourism and/or related professions.

COURSE DELIVERY METHOD

This course is delivered online (76% or more) via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password.

Some assignments in this course will require students to access and post course assignments/materials using the Discussion Board and Blackboard Ultra. In addition to the requirements above, students must have a device with a functional camera and microphone.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students take part in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To take part in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox is needed (note: Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard).
- Students must keep consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may need a headset w/microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download: [Add or delete options, as desire.]
 - o Adobe Acrobat Reader: https://get.adobe.com/reader/
 - o Windows Media Player: https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player
 - o Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a "fixed" meeting day, our week will start on Sunday evening and finish on Friday evening.
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 2 times per week. In addition, students must log-in for all scheduled online synchronousmeetings. Occasionally, Blackboard ultra will be used to schedule consultations and full class meetings at on a specified date and time.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and taking part in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to show competence in the use of all course technology, including the ability to create narrated PowerPoint presentations for on-line posting/access to students in class. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek help from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.

- Technical Issues: Students should expect some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities, and assignments due.
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content, or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always reread their responses carefully before posting them, so that others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.
- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to ensure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

COURSE PERFORMANCE EVALUATION

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, Blackboard Ultra, VIA, hard copy).

REQUIRED TEXT

Austin, D. R. (2013). Therapeutic recreation: Processes and techniques (8h ed.). Champaign, IL: Sagamore Publishing.

ASSIGNMENTS

- 1. Student Discussion Moderator and Student Discussion Participation: Students will take part in a variety of Teach One Another activities to help deepen your learning and serve your classmates. The most common Teach One Another activity in this course is presenting a summary of the assigned chapter to your peers and pose discussion questions to generate opportunities to share your ideas and challenge one another in a traditional online discussion board format.
 - a. Assigned student moderators will: 1) post a summary of the chapter (4 to 6 paragraphs) and pose 2 discussion questions, and 2) review posted discussion comments and provide feedback and follow up discussion questions to classmates. Moderators will post summaries and discussion questions by Sunday 6 pm on their assigned weeks and close the discussion session on Friday at 6 pm.
 - b. Peer students are expected to read assignment chapters and respond to the moderator and peer classmates' comments no later than Wednesday. This will enable time for the moderator and your peers to review responses and ask follow-up questions or comments. Students should review discussion posts on Thursday and Friday to ensure you are fully engaged in the discussion.
 - c. The instructor will review posts daily and make comments as appropriate.

- 2. Literature Review: Students will conduct a literature search and select a research /journal article on given topics. The work will require students to review, summarize and discuss implications for working with people with disabilities in a Recreation Therapy setting. Students have the choice completing the assignment as a 3-page literature review paper or supplying a narrated PowerPoint that summarizes and analyzes the literature reviewed. The instructor will post the completed assignments on Blackboard so other students may review and learn from the work of peers.
- 3. Movie Critique: Movie-watching is often overlooked as a tool for professional development in therapeutic recreation. Movies have potential to be much more than entertainment. They can demonstrate and shape leadership and interaction styles of recreation therapist. When recreation therapists recognize core strengths and abilities in movie characters, they become more aware of the same strengths in themselves. Watching movies can become an important professional developmental practice.
